

Unknown 0:03

Then I already changed. I already changed the step too.

Unknown 0:13

Just talk to me. Throw a mom where they asked

Unknown 0:16

me, you've made your problems

Unknown 0:22

Balance. Balance hands

F. Clinton Fernandez 0:29

freezing, freezing because it's stuttering, the stuttering.

Unknown 0:42

Hands going

Unknown 0:49

to your feet.

Unknown 0:53

The feet they they freeze to lock up, lock up. I

Unknown 1:06

like cramp in position.

Unknown 1:21

Hearing

Unknown 1:27

sleeping,

Unknown 1:35

sleeping? Are you right handed yet? Epileptic? Seizure. No.

Unknown 2:02

You were in an accident, you had a concussion

F. Clinton Fernandez 2:04

when I was younger. Yeah, young. I was, like, 10 years old. But it's the problem with my this these things is I overcame all my problems, and now my problems are coming back at me from way back in the past, because I don't like don't have that.

Unknown 2:27

How do you spell concussion, concussion,

Unknown 2:36

concussion, C, o, n, C, U, S, S, I, when you were

Unknown 3:02

to were 10 years old, major operations, yeah,

F. Clinton Fernandez 3:10

yes, I had several. A big one was probably my leg, the dual compound fracture the tibia. That's where all the major I don't know how to spell all that jewel, compound fracture the tibia. There's the spelling.

Unknown 3:44

Okay, screws,

F. Clinton Fernandez 3:47

hey, my body rejected the metal and then they all came out. You? Hospitalization. When I went to menville Hospital, when I went to the menville Hospital,

Unknown 4:14

when was that? It

Unknown 4:15

was two years ago. They're gonna ask September of 22 what happened? Mental

Unknown 4:21

breakdown, 2022

Unknown 4:41

Are you currently on medications? Yes,

Unknown 4:44

C list, provided list. Do

Unknown 4:58

you have any allergies? Bees,

Unknown 4:59

bees, Bees.

Unknown 5:22

Thank see rose i

Unknown 5:43

Do you smoke? Yes.

F. Clinton Fernandez 5:49

Casually, very No, I don't smoke. Saturday, I don't smoke.

Unknown 5:53

You do the

F. Clinton Fernandez 6:01

Clinton here today? Good. Quit, it is not No Have you ever used street drugs? I have five.

Unknown 6:22

Most recent usage

Unknown 6:23

just marijuana, when the gummies

Unknown 6:35

last month she

Unknown 6:42

got the work history of where you have done, what you have done.

Unknown 6:52

I was

Unknown 6:55

regional, regional

Unknown 6:59

executive chef. You're going to define chef.

F. Clinton Fernandez 7:06

My territory included no describe your duties. My territory included three states, Clinton duties, I manage. I manage, no but I managed chefs over three states, not all at once. Yes, I that's what my job was, mom.

Unknown 7:29

Okay, managed chefs ate. Yes,

F. Clinton Fernandez 7:32

I managed executive chefs.

Unknown 7:36

Managed chefs. I could friend. Brand.

Unknown 7:45

Was in charge of what

F. Clinton Fernandez 7:50

overseas I was in charge of the Food Service Program for tech companies like Google and 23andme are you able to still

Unknown 7:59

lean up

Unknown 7:59

against the wall? Food Program, like, are you able to, like, lean up against the wall and do this? No, three states. Three states. Google,

Unknown 8:10

F. Clinton Fernandez 8:22

meet. And then private for seven and a half

Unknown 8:30

years would be this?

Unknown 8:37

Would you be able to

Unknown 8:41

do that? September? 20

Unknown 8:46

would you be able to before that? Before September was October,

F. Clinton Fernandez 8:53

no January. September is August, September. August was my last time I worked. August, 22 work.

Unknown 9:04

Why did you stop break down?

F. Clinton Fernandez 9:08

I had mental, mental breakdown, and just my world changed,

Unknown 9:18

physical activities or work conditions that are difficult for you,

Unknown 9:26

standing, standing, walking, concentrating. That's okay. Go ahead and blink out your eyes. That's okay. Falling asleep. I

Unknown 9:36

um, F,

Unknown 9:45

E, L, G, E, hands free. Okay, what

Unknown 9:49

about this 1e, D, M,

Unknown 9:53

hands lock up or crap, alright, stuttering when using

Unknown 10:04

panic attacks.

Unknown 10:14

Education, 12th grade, college, one year

Unknown 10:19

and finish one year

Unknown 10:25

who filled out this form, my mom

Unknown 10:28

self. No, my

Unknown 10:30

mom better. Mother, helped. Mother helped

Unknown 10:35

I feel that first page Better. Helped

Unknown 10:39

patients. Name

Unknown 10:55
provider's name, Kaiser, you

Unknown 11:03
type of identification, passport,

Unknown 11:12
translator, okay.

Unknown 11:34
Excuse me, did you drive?

Unknown 11:35
I drove after your relationship. I miss mother. I

Unknown 11:39
please.

Unknown 11:53
I didn't write all the medicines down. I did put that.

Unknown 12:02
I all the pills you have. Things what's different than what's

Unknown 12:33
on the list, Mom, that's

F. Clinton Fernandez 12:42
a that's a lot of pills. I gave her a list a lot of this. That's a lot of things, 123456789, meditations in the in the morning, and then, yes, three are as needed, and Then four vitamins a day, more than you take. I

U
Unknown 15:57
that their clock is fast? Daniella, what

Unknown 16:01
did you get here? Did you drive? Or did somebody else drive? I drove? You drove? Okay, remember,

Unknown 16:22
I told y'all.

Unknown 16:41
Where'd you put all the stuff that was in here on the show?

Unknown 16:51
It's not really the best rain bag, Not the best bag for Rain you

Unknown 18:00
thank you for joining me, because I don't know what reminding me, because I don't know which of

Unknown 18:35
anything I don't know. No, I think you can have a car connected to it. I'm pretty sure it's individuals to that you have to connect it to.

Unknown 18:46

Unknown 19:00

Right? Don't ask me. Frank, did you how did you get here today? Did

Unknown 19:04

somebody drive here? You found yourself?

Unknown 19:06

I drove? Okay, thank you. Yeah.

Unknown 19:08

I wrote a little bit about

Unknown 19:18

handwriting. Right now the contacts are moving like you might

Unknown 19:20

Unknown 19:29

ask her how she goes.

Unknown 19:40

What get it out. It was dry and it was stuck up in her eyes. No, that's not what happened with Yes, I was

Unknown 19:51

Unknown 19:59

given her a her

Unknown 20:07

right

Unknown 20:13

purple contact. You

Unknown 20:22

guys, contact.

Unknown 20:28

Yeah, you didn't put on there. You were bipolar.

F. Clinton Fernandez 20:36

Talk to him about it, just to then give you this not a form for though that's

Unknown 20:44

physical only. This

F. Clinton Fernandez 20:45

is basically what they say. That's my lawyer said they want this, the psych stuff that's a whole page or two you want to get into, get into that. I off rather just sign a paper saying you can Talk to Abby and

Unknown 21:20
and then that one girl temple.

Unknown 21:46
Inspection. I'm still

Unknown 21:47
here,

Unknown 21:55
saying it about the whole

Unknown 22:02
thing. Here's

Unknown 22:20
your table of contents. You

Unknown 22:22
said a lot of things. No, I have told

Unknown 22:42
you, but phone, yeah, I learned

Unknown 22:53
my lesson. The rest of the night.

Unknown 22:59
Was a professional.

Unknown 23:02
She took she was like, Yeah, I remember saying about

Unknown 23:09
anybody doing a sloppy drug was used. One

Unknown 23:39
thing I remember saying, because you don't get To

Unknown 23:42
start because that's what our project did. She Oh, what's

Unknown 24:20
that? Who's that from?

Unknown 24:23
I read the report

Unknown 24:28
so there was damage.

F. Clinton Fernandez 24:33
We didn't read it either. The report, I don't think that ever hit. My brain is like that. I told her, I didn't say that.

Unknown 24:42

Maybe say that nobody was wondering. So

Unknown 25:09

I'm just like, I

Unknown 25:41

that says that we have to do it. This reads it. We have to do it. That's all. I read it. Do

Unknown 25:51

you guys need another copy for Frank SWID? I just

F. Clinton Fernandez 25:53

want to make sure, because if we need another copy,

Unknown 26:00

To make sure, because if we get Another job yet,

Unknown 26:38

you know Was that 22

Unknown 26:53

2018 Yeah, today.

Unknown 26:59

Hot So I

Unknown 27:07

remember when I was

Unknown 27:21

texting,

Unknown 27:39

him, all Right? I

Unknown 27:56

about, okay, okay, do I need my paper, paperwork? I'm gonna have you line up with me

Unknown 28:12

right here, and then you're gonna face this eye chart for me. Okay, okay,

Unknown 28:16

I'm gonna keep walking. You stay right here. All right,

Unknown 28:21

do you wear prescription glasses or contacts? Really

Unknown 28:30

dry, okay,

Unknown 28:31

so you don't wear them, just for every day. No,

Unknown 28:35
right? So, so I take

Unknown 28:36
it you had an eye test before. Then if you wear prescription glasses, I

Unknown 28:40
wear cheaters kind of close. Okay, all right.

Unknown 28:49
So just to keep things quickly, just to make you go by quickly,

Unknown 28:52
I'm going to just have you tell me the number of design that

Unknown 28:55
you can read all the letters

Unknown 29:02
I think

Unknown 29:04
a, a, yeah,

Unknown 29:07
can you go ahead and leave that out loud

Unknown 29:15
for me, I need to go Up to 7f, E, l, o, p, z, d, I

Unknown 29:21
thank you.

Unknown 29:26
All right, I'm gonna have you go ahead and cover up your left eye for me. All right. Now, with that, I the same question still applies, just the number of the line that you can see.

Unknown 29:42
Just seven is char, G, E, l, o, p, z, E,

Unknown 29:53
remember the one you can see all the letters and

Unknown 0:00
Hi, Hi,

Unknown 0:04
Dr O'Neill,

Unknown 0:11
awesome. Thank you, perfect. Thanks

Unknown 0:13
so much. Okay, and you must be frank, so let me just pull up your chart, but then we can talk a little bit. Okay, all right.

So,

Unknown 0:36

okay, I got you so tell me what's going on with you. Frank.

Unknown 0:40

Where do I start? There's like, two sides. Okay,

Unknown 0:45

so I don't know if this is what you're asking, but I have to document all the physical stuff, so not the emotional or psychological stuff. That's a different appointment. They split it up with the Social Security. This is how they do it. Okay? So anything that you're physically experiencing that you want me to know about, that's what we need to talk about.

Unknown 1:05

That's like the Help me, the your hands, my hands, lock it, lock it, locking okay. And then my feet might have neuropathy. They kind of just this. It's never it's static in the same spot, like it's it just goes places, okay? And today, I get around much better than I did yesterday. Yesterday I was stuck. No terrible bad day, but I never know when the bad day is going to happen, or even a bad time within the day. Sometimes it'll go good day and to be able to do fairly normal things. And then I'll have either your balance, my balance, and I lose like, then the balance can help in the morning. And like, if I hit my my foot in the going, getting in the shower right away. Then it's a bad day, all day. And then what does a bad day look like? Tell me more about what a bad day is for you.

Unknown 2:03

Unknown 2:09

Stay in this chair. Okay,

Unknown 2:12

have to sit. Have to sit all day.

Unknown 2:14

I see ya. He sleeps sleep.

Unknown 2:18

It's, I don't know how he sleeps at night.

Unknown 2:21

It's I just that's, that's, that's

Unknown 2:27

not so why do you feel like so you have to sit and sleep? Is that your medications? My medication

Unknown 2:34

affects me a lot. Yeah, sure, and then, but all of this stuff that kind of like COVID each other, because I get upset with the mental, and then that affects the body, and I get mad at the body. It affects the mental and the mental, I get it, I lose track of things really, really bad, like, the point where I'm putting, like, fire tags on my cane and then my in my wallet and my backpack and my Like, yeah, like TV remote even has one no, because not and it's, everything gets lost, yeah, and then I'll get in these, like, I'll get in the panic, and then I'll get up, and then I'll move wrong, and all then I'll

Unknown 3:36

yeah, but so tell me why You have that cane. Oh,

Unknown 3:41

because I use the cane, because I can't use the walker, because I trip and fall on walkers the cane, at least, I know if I'm gonna fall forward, I can get the cane out of myself quicker and not hurt myself more because I fell on other things, like, why do you need the cane? I need the king because it keeps me steady. I know that this is balance, balance, the grounds there and you have poor balance. Why do you think your balance is affected? Do you have like, you know, is it your medications, or is it something like with a leg or a back?

Unknown 4:07

Unknown 4:18

My leg is a dual compound fracture the tibia this side. So this has always been, it's fused. And then when I started getting the neuropathy. So then I had them both legs had, like the same problem. They're both like gimps. And so they go, and then they stop working, and then I go fall forward, or I go to the side, or Gotcha.

Unknown 4:42

So you had a fracture in that right leg, yeah, many years, years ago, but it was very traumatic. My body didn't, didn't like the Halo, the metal that they put in it. Then they put a cast, and then my body rejected it through the cast, okay? And then it was like, was the airplane, right? The airplane screws came out. The screws pop out of cast. And then I had to do new emergency surgery, and they re break it, and then they had to fuse it, and then it was back to re heal for like, one year again. Okay, it was the first time I was on Social Security, yeah, just because of that. Thank you. Okay, but then I got better. I overcome some of my just, just problems, okay, like I learned how to I was on a cane then too. But then I stopped using the cane because I had a lot of like, I couldn't work in the kitchen anymore. At that time, I didn't have the confidence and or the I don't think I could stand and do, do, do the kitchen work. So I went and worked privately. I worked for high like, someone that would have high net worth. They had personal chef. I worked as the chef, as a chef for them, for them, and I saved them for a long time, like seven, seven years and then, but they introduced me to, like, different kinds of medicine, and they helped me, like, with, like massage therapy and like, all kinds of, like, the good, special things that made my change my life kind of, I think,

Unknown 6:36

yeah,

Unknown 6:39

Tom, did that? Were you

Unknown 6:42

okay? And what about other medical history? Do you have high blood pressure or diabetes or things like that? Yeah, both. And do you have high cholesterol? Yeah,

Unknown 6:52

because they're trying to get my weight because I'm obese,

Unknown 7:00

okay,

Unknown 7:02

exercise, right,

Unknown 7:07

because of the leg or,

Unknown 7:08

I mean, I've never been able to because of my leg. I mean, I used to be able to do kinda exercise like hike, go, hike, go for a walk, do lower impact stuff, but now like gym wouldn't be like feasible. Okay,

Unknown 7:27

and so, have you had any other surgeries besides those two that you talked about already?

Unknown 7:40

That's really, really about it. Okay?

Unknown 7:42

And let's see you had a car accident at 10. That was the one. I mean, I've had several, two or three pretty horrible accidents, right? The one with the semi, but you weren't injured. Which one with the semi. It was semi truck was when you were 10. That's the one I had my concussion from. And then, then the one with Julie, I was in trauma. Same one, though, Julie, no, but Julie, even the car when I got ran over. But the jeep with the hand that that time is my head was, that was Eve in hospital, yeah.

Unknown 7:48

Unknown 8:19

So you got run over by a car, yeah, a jeep, yeah, yeah. And when was that he ran? He was on 17 or 16. No, I don't know. 2120 21 Yeah,

Unknown 8:26

Unknown 8:35

ran over. It, fractured his hand. Okay,

Unknown 8:39

and did you have to have surgery for that? Yeah,

Unknown 8:41

they just put in pens and stuff. Then, okay,

Unknown 8:52

okay. And when was that leg surgery and fracture and all that? That was

Unknown 9:02

early 90s.

Unknown 9:03

Let's see, I was 27

Unknown 9:10

read Reno, Reno 27 so it was two years after Grandma and I grandma died, 99 so

Unknown 9:18

it was right, 92,099 99 two years after that, grandma died. I think, oh, no, quite two years

Unknown 9:32

about 19, 2000

Unknown 9:33

No. 2000 happened and Grandma, grandma wasn't the grandma. What

Unknown 9:37
runs in your family, disease was

Unknown 9:42
what runs in the family? High blood pressure,

Unknown 9:46
cancers, cancers, cancer. My

Unknown 9:49
mom had cancer. Grandpa had four. My father had four cancers. He's a survivor, okay?

Unknown 9:58
And then she's now starting to do some preliminary genetic stuff at Kaiser, the one back to the had to wait one year for the neurons

Unknown 10:10
in my dad's side.

Unknown 10:12
Okay with

Unknown 10:13
the neurologist, we wait one year, one year. Okay, between this can then there's some stuff on my spine, also that that's, that's, that's, makes a lot of pain. It's, I don't know what they call it. It's the cysts, like a cyst. They call it the thing in my spine, the cyst

Unknown 10:38
you have marking, there's

Unknown 10:40
something in there, and it's they see, they grow. It grows. They might do the back surgery.

Unknown 10:47
Gotcha, do you smoke?

Unknown 10:49
I I'm not. I don't. Yes, and no, it's like, that's a that's a rough that's a rough one. I don't and he won't go bicycle. I don't go by cigarettes. But if they're around, I'll smoke one occasionally, but only inhale. I never have. I never, I never have. So it's not a joke,

Unknown 11:28
Things in the past, but not like anything. It's okay. They just care about what you're doing now. So we won't, we won't go into all that.

Unknown 11:27
in the past, but not like.

Unknown 11:29
anything. It's okay. They just care about what you're doing now, so we won't we won't go into all that.

Unknown 11:35
Let you have those youth indiscretions. How about that?

Unknown 11:40

Okay, can you end them up here? All right.

Unknown 11:49

Pull your pants up. Yes, when I get over here, I know. So you can just kind of, if you can jump kind of a little bit up, or you can use the step and then scoot around.

Unknown 12:04

And so what's with this arm? This arm was messed up. Okay, tell me about that. It's the shoulder. It's like he couldn't lift it for days. Like, when was that? This is like, when did you get the corona zone shot the doctor gave you? That was only last week. That's why you move your arm. Move my arm now. But before that, it was been like, there was like, Kaiser when I moved from Livermore to Roseville, the medical did something weird. They didn't tell me that that you have to achieve new Kaiser. And they console me Kaiser right in the middle of things. And this arm started hurting probably a month so it was a month and two months ago, it started like it's not working, right? I didn't have no insurance, except for good medical, and I didn't know how to use it just as medical, because all my my psych stuff, I couldn't just go to can we take this off? Yeah, I

Unknown 13:03

Unknown 13:12

so you have Kaiser, you don't they reinstated and they

Unknown 13:16

reinstated me when they're talking to a

Unknown 13:21

belief in the system where you move from one county to another. Gotcha. And they just needed to update their Marcus. Can I give that to you. Okay, I'm just waiting. Don't lay down. I'm going to look in your mouth. Yeah, good.

Unknown 13:37

How a little dark spot? Has that been there a long time?

Unknown 13:46

Had a check. I said it's cosmetic to take it off

Unknown 13:51

to Your heart,

Unknown 13:56

and then some deep breaths.

Unknown 14:09

Okay, so, so let's do some range of motion on those shoulders. Can you bring your arms up like this? I can do that over here. What about that one? How far can you go up right out there? Okay. Can you go up to your head on the other on the good one? Not right there. No further right there, okay, and then That's as hard as it's going, okay, all right, so, right, let me just write that down real quick. Can I sit down? That hurts? Oh yes, please. Sorry, yeah, when I go to the computer, you can always go back to normal. I

Unknown 14:58

Okay, and then, can you touch your shoulders? Do you like this? Yes, no, no, I can push it. You want me to push it like, but you can't just,

Unknown 15:13

I don't really that's, that's me trying it like, yeah, that's good. Try that hurts, yeah. Okay, well, I don't want you to hurt yourself, but I do need you to try it so I can say how far you were able to go. Okay,

Unknown 15:29
okay. So,

Unknown 15:39
okay,

Unknown 15:42
can we do some strength? So I'm going to give you my fingers. I want you to grab them and squeeze good and then squeeze so it's as hard as you can squeeze. And we don't know why your left arm is like, is it like, high? I'm sure it was something I might have done to it, because sometimes, like, what'll happen is I'm doing in the middle of something, and then something will freeze up on me. Like, like, if I'm like, lifting like, it's just anything, it's like, and I think I might have been lifting something I probably wasn't supposed to, wasn't wasn't supposed to be lifting, most likely annoying me, because I still think I'm strong guy, like, I used to be right, right. You straighten your legs all the way like so there, yeah. Other one that goes, there they go,

Unknown 16:06

Unknown 16:39
Yeah, okay. It's the,

Unknown 16:43
not the stretching, it's it's the freezing and then the neuropathy pain when it decides they come in. It's like, the only way to really describe it is like, you think of chopping your chop your ankles, chop your feet up, and then walk on glass pieces. That's what I've heard that to walk. Yeah, I've heard that that's normal baseline for me walking. That's normal pain. So I can handle pain. That's my problem. I don't, I handle pain better than I don't even, don't take that. I don't take the pain. Medic at the first time. I even take that. I was reluctant to take that. What is the prosc, yeah, no. This

Unknown 17:29
what is this protozoan? Protozoan? It's not a drug. I don't think it is, but,

Unknown 17:43
yeah, it's a drug it is. Yeah, it's a powerful drug. Actually

Unknown 17:50
can it, can it? Can that raise blood pressure? Because I'm just talking about me now, yeah, but I think maybe that's probably why my blood pressure is so high sometimes, because I'm on a lot of back Yeah. Okay, and where in your back are you hurting? Did you have any fat pain? Yeah, like, a little more, like, right now, it's like, here, there, yeah, okay, mostly in the muscle, not really right on your spine, spasm to you, and then, like, right here, yeah,

Unknown 18:30
my neck. Okay.

Unknown 18:39
So I used to do work like many hours, go into work at four in the morning, and I'll leave till five, six o'clock

Unknown 18:49
at night. Any pain in your tummy? No, it's okay, all right. So go ahead and slide. Can you slide off the table that way? Can you just kind of scoot you down? Want you to follow them careful, and then go to the door. And then I just want to see you walk. So I'm going to ask you to walk to me.

Unknown 19:14
Hey, just walk this way like you normally would.

Unknown 19:21

Hey, and back to the door. And this is not a good representation, I told my mom, because this is like the day that I got a doctor, and I don't have as much problems as I normally, normally do. Yeah, that's always the way, right? So are you favorite? You're favoring one leg, but I can't quite tell which one do you put more weight on? I am supposed to favor. This is the leg I'm supposed to put the pressure on, but I'm don't do it anymore, because of the neuropathy comes in here. Now, now they both kind of do it nice, so I ended up favoring the bad leg. Okay, it's like, unknown. Yeah, he favored, I favor. Which way do you feel? Which has more weight on it? Do you feel like my now is my bad side? Okay, the right side? Yeah.

Unknown 20:10

And I You look like you're walking on the on the edge, or your foot, yeah, my calluses. That's just, I don't know, okay, not callous it, but that's just the way that's, I think that's where the comfortable spot is. If it goes flat, it makes a little sharp pain, and it goes up my, my, this piece here, okay,

Unknown 20:40

got it? Okay. Are you able to do a heel to toe walk like this, without the cane. No, yeah, I try go slow, just and you put out your arms for balance. If that helps, I

Unknown 20:50

Unknown 21:11

keep your knees a little bit pretty

Unknown 21:20

good,

Unknown 21:23

anything's possible. Yeah, that's not possible, but doesn't mean it's gonna work in the kitchen, no, yeah, wet floors, right? No, it's, you still have to try. I know that it's not. It doesn't mean it's like, you're fine. No, no. It's just like, you know, I always said to think it's like, it's the snapshot in time of when you're worse and when you're best, like you're Yeah, combination of that gotcha So kind of in the middle, huh?

Unknown 21:59

Okay, okay, let me go back and just make sure I haven't forgotten anything. Is there anything else you want to share with me while we're here? Before we wrap up.

Unknown 22:12

Just did you read all his medications? Yes, I'm on a lot. Aren't a lot, but the sex stuff is like, but today, can't do, they can't take, they can't change that. It finally stops the things. Yeah, so it's working for you, even though it's, you know, comes with new problems. Probably, okay, hon, well, I think we I think we've got what we need. Okay, so thank you for coming in and you're going to have you already seen the psychology person. They have lots of that already, and not, not a no for disability, any disability, pull the records. They just said they're because of my laps within the Kaiser piece that the they didn't have a medical record for this piece. Oh, but they have heard my site records, the site stuff they have because I've been seeing my psychiatrist on a weekly basis for two years now in hospital. Yeah, sometimes the disability wants, still wants you to see that's fine. They might call you I see, I see, yeah, so, okay, all right.

Unknown 22:55

m Unknown 0:00

Hi, Hi,

Unknown 0:04

Dr O'Neill,

Unknown 0:11

awesome. Thank you, perfect. Thanks

Unknown 0:13

so much. Okay, and you must be frank, so let me just pull up your chart, but then we can talk a little bit. Okay, all right. So,

Unknown 0:36

okay, I got you so tell me what's going on with you. Frank.

Unknown 0:40

Where do I start? There's like, two sides. Okay,

Unknown 0:45

so I don't know if this is what you're asking, but I have to document all the physical stuff, so not the emotional or psychological stuff. That's a different appointment. They split it up with the Social Security. This is how they do it. Okay? So anything that you're physically experiencing that you want me to know about, that's what we need to talk about.

Unknown 1:05

That's like the Help me, the your hands, my hands, lock it, lock it, locking okay. And then my feet might have neuropathy. They kind of just this. It's never it's static in the same spot, like it's it just goes places, okay? And today, I get around much better than I did yesterday. Yesterday I was stuck. No terrible bad day, but I never know when the bad day is going to happen, or even a bad time within the day. Sometimes it'll go good day and to be able to do fairly normal things. And then I'll have either your balance, my balance, and I lose like, then the balance can help in the morning. And like, if I hit my my foot in the going, getting in the shower right away. Then it's a bad day, all day. And then what does a bad day look like? Tell me more about what a bad day is for you.

Unknown 2:03

Unknown 2:09

Stay in this chair. Okay,

Unknown 2:12

have to sit. Have to sit all day.

Unknown 2:14

I see ya. He sleeps sleep.

Unknown 2:18

It's, I don't know how he sleeps at night.

Unknown 2:21

It's I just that's, that's, that's

Unknown 2:27

not so why do you feel like so you have to sit and sleep? Is that your medications? My medication

Unknown 2:34

affects me a lot. Yeah, sure, and then, but all of this stuff that kind of like COVID each other, because I get upset with the mental, and then that affects the body, and I get mad at the body. It affects the mental and the mental, I get it, I lose track of things really, really bad, like, the point where I'm putting, like, fire tags on my cane and then my in my wallet and my backpack and my Like, yeah, like TV remote even has one no, because not and it's, everything gets lost, yeah, and then I'll get in these, like, I'll get in the panic, and then I'll get up, and then I'll move wrong, and all then I'll

Unknown 3:36

yeah, but so tell me why You have that cane. Oh,

Unknown 3:41

because I use the cane, because I can't use the walker, because I trip and fall on walkers the cane, at least, I know if I'm gonna fall forward, I can get the cane out of myself quicker and not hurt myself more because I fell on other things, like, why do you need the cane? I need the king because it keeps me steady. I know that this is balance, balance, the grounds there and you have poor balance. Why do you think your balance is affected? Do you have like, you know, is it your medications, or is it something like with a leg or a back?

Unknown 4:07

Unknown 4:18

My leg is a dual compound fracture the tibia this side. So this has always been, it's fused. And then when I started getting the neuropathy. So then I had them both legs had, like the same problem. They're both like gimps. And so they go, and then they stop working, and then I go fall forward, or I go to the side, or Gotcha.

Unknown 4:42

So you had a fracture in that right leg, yeah, many years, years ago, but it was very traumatic. My body didn't, didn't like the Halo, the metal that they put in it. Then they put a cast, and then my body rejected it through the cast, okay? And then it was like, was the airplane, right? The airplane screws came out. The screws pop out of cast. And then I had to do new emergency surgery, and they re break it, and then they had to fuse it, and then it was back to re heal for like, one year again. Okay, it was the first time I was on Social Security, yeah, just because of that. Thank you. Okay, but then I got better. I overcome some of my just, just problems, okay, like I learned how to I was on a cane then too. But then I stopped using the cane because I had a lot of like, I couldn't work in the kitchen anymore. At that time, I didn't have the confidence and or the I don't think I could stand and do, do, do the kitchen work. So I went and worked privately. I worked for high like, someone that would have high net worth. They had personal chef. I worked as the chef, as a chef for them, for them, and I saved them for a long time, like seven, seven years and then, but they introduced me to, like, different kinds of medicine, and they helped me, like, with, like massage therapy and like, all kinds of, like, the good, special things that made my change my life kind of, I think,

Unknown 6:36

yeah,

Unknown 6:39

Tom, did that? Were you

Unknown 6:42

okay? And what about other medical history? Do you have high blood pressure or diabetes or things like that? Yeah, both. And do you have high cholesterol? Yeah,

Unknown 6:52

because they're trying to get my weight because I'm obese,

Unknown 7:00

okay,

Unknown 7:02

exercise, right,

Unknown 7:07

because of the leg or,

Unknown 7:08

I mean, I've never been able to because of my leg. I mean, I used to be able to do kinda exercise like hike, go, hike, go for a walk, do lower impact stuff, but now like gym wouldn't be like feasible. Okay,

Unknown 7:27

and so, have you had any other surgeries besides those two that you talked about already?

Unknown 7:40

That's really, really about it. Okay?

Unknown 7:42

And let's see you had a car accident at 10. That was the one. I mean, I've had several, two or three pretty horrible accidents, right? The one with the semi, but you weren't injured. Which one with the semi. It was semi truck was when you were 10. That's the one I had my concussion from. And then, then the one with Julie, I was in trauma. Same one, though, Julie, no, but Julie, even the car when I got ran over. But the jeep with the hand that that time is my head was, that was Eve in hospital, yeah.

Unknown 7:48

Unknown 8:19

So you got run over by a car, yeah, a jeep, yeah, yeah. And when was that he ran? He was on 17 or 16. No, I don't know. 2120 21 Yeah,

Unknown 8:26

Unknown 8:35

ran over. It, fractured his hand. Okay,

Unknown 8:39

and did you have to have surgery for that? Yeah,

Unknown 8:41

they just put in pens and stuff. Then, okay,

Unknown 8:52

okay. And when was that leg surgery and fracture and all that? That was

Unknown 9:02

early 90s.

Unknown 9:03

Let's see, I was 27

Unknown 9:10

read Reno, Reno 27 so it was two years after Grandma and I grandma died, 99 so

Unknown 9:18

it was right, 92,099 99 two years after that, grandma died. I think, oh, no, quite two years

Unknown 9:32

about 19, 2000

Unknown 9:33

No. 2000 happened and Grandma, grandma wasn't the grandma. What

Unknown 9:37

runs in your family, disease was

Unknown 9:42

what runs in the family? High blood pressure,

Unknown 9:46

cancers, cancers, cancer. My

Unknown 9:49

mom had cancer. Grandpa had four. My father had four cancers. He's a survivor, okay?

Unknown 9:58

And then she's now starting to do some preliminary genetic stuff at Kaiser, the one back to the had to wait one year for the neurons

Unknown 10:10

in my dad's side.

Unknown 10:12

Okay with

Unknown 10:13

the neurologist, we wait one year, one year. Okay, between this can then there's some stuff on my spine, also that that's, that's, that's, makes a lot of pain. It's, I don't know what they call it. It's the cysts, like a cyst. They call it the thing in my spine, the cyst

Unknown 10:38

you have marking, there's

Unknown 10:40

something in there, and it's they see, they grow. It grows. They might do the back surgery.

Unknown 10:47

Gotcha, do you smoke?

Unknown 10:49

I I'm not. I don't. Yes, and no, it's like, that's a that's a rough that's a rough one. I don't and he won't go bicycle. I don't go by cigarettes. But if they're around, I'll smoke one occasionally, but only inhale. I never have. I never, I never have. So it's not a joke,

Unknown 11:28

Things in the past, but not like anything. It's okay. They just care about what you're doing now. So we won't, we won't go into all that.

Unknown 11:27
in the past, but not like.

Unknown 11:29
anything. It's okay. They just care about what you're doing now, so we won't we won't go into all that.

Unknown 11:35
Let you have those youth indiscretions. How about that?

Unknown 11:40
Okay, can you end them up here? All right.

Unknown 11:49
Pull your pants up. Yes, when I get over here, I know. So you can just kind of, if you can jump kind of a little bit up, or you can use the step and then scoot around.

Unknown 12:04
And so what's with this arm? This arm was messed up. Okay, tell me about that. It's the shoulder. It's like he couldn't lift it for days. Like, when was that? This is like, when did you get the corona zone shot the doctor gave you? That was only last week. That's why you move your arm. Move my arm now. But before that, it was been like, there was like, Kaiser when I moved from Livermore to Roseville, the medical did something weird. They didn't tell me that that you have to achieve new Kaiser. And they console me Kaiser right in the middle of things. And this arm started hurting probably a month so it was a month and two months ago, it started like it's not working, right? I didn't have no insurance, except for good medical, and I didn't know how to use it just as medical, because all my my

Unknown 13:03
psych stuff, I couldn't just go to can we take this off? Yeah, I

Unknown 13:12
so you have Kaiser, you don't they reinstated and they

Unknown 13:16
reinstated me when they're talking to a

Unknown 13:21
belief in the system where you move from one county to another. Gotcha. And they just needed to update their Marcus. Can I give that to you. Okay, I'm just waiting. Don't lay down. I'm going to look in your mouth. Yeah, good.

Unknown 13:37
How a little dark spot? Has that been there a long time?

Unknown 13:46
Had a check. I said it's cosmetic to take it off

Unknown 13:51
to Your heart,

Unknown 13:56
and then some deep breaths.

Unknown 14:09

Okay, so, so let's do some range of motion on those shoulders. Can you bring your arms up like this? I can do that over here. What about that one? How far can you go up right out there? Okay. Can you go up to your head on the other on the good one? Not right there. No further right there, okay, and then That's as hard as it's going, okay, all right, so, right, let me just write that down real quick. Can I sit down? That hurts? Oh yes, please. Sorry, yeah, when I go to the computer, you can always go back to normal. I

Unknown 14:58

Okay, and then, can you touch your shoulders? Do you like this? Yes, no, no, I can push it. You want me to push it like, but you can't just,

Unknown 15:13

I don't really that's, that's me trying it like, yeah, that's good. Try that hurts, yeah. Okay, well, I don't want you to hurt yourself, but I do need you to try it so I can say how far you were able to go. Okay,

Unknown 15:29

okay. So,

Unknown 15:39

okay,

Unknown 15:42

can we do some strength? So I'm going to give you my fingers. I want you to grab them and squeeze good and then squeeze so it's as hard as you can squeeze. And we don't know why your left arm is like, is it like, high? I'm sure it was something I might have done to it, because sometimes, like, what'll happen is I'm doing in the middle of something, and then something will freeze up on me. Like, like, if I'm like, lifting like, it's just anything, it's like, and I think I might have been lifting something I probably wasn't supposed to, wasn't wasn't supposed to be lifting, most likely annoying me, because I still think I'm strong guy, like, I used to be right, right. You straighten your legs all the way like so there, yeah. Other one that goes, there they go,

Unknown 16:06

Unknown 16:39

Yeah, okay. It's the,

Unknown 16:43

not the stretching, it's it's the freezing and then the neuropathy pain when it decides they come in. It's like, the only way to really describe it is like, you think of chopping your chop your ankles, chop your feet up, and then walk on glass pieces. That's what I've heard that to walk. Yeah, I've heard that that's normal baseline for me walking. That's normal pain. So I can handle pain. That's my problem. I don't, I handle pain better than I don't even, don't take that. I don't take the pain. Medic at the first time. I even take that. I was reluctant to take that. What is the prosc, yeah, no. This

Unknown 17:29

what is this protozoan? Protozoan? It's not a drug. I don't think it is, but, yeah, it's a drug it is. Yeah, it's a powerful drug. Actually can it, can it? Can that raise blood pressure? Because I'm just talking about me now, yeah, but I think maybe that's probably why my blood pressure is so high sometimes, because I'm on a lot of back Yeah. Okay, and where in your back are you hurting? Did you have any fat pain? Yeah, like, a little more, like, right now, it's like, here, there, yeah, okay, mostly in the muscle, not really right on your spine, spasm to you, and then, like, right here, yeah,

Unknown 17:43

Unknown 18:30

my neck. Okay.

Unknown 18:39

So I used to do work like many hours, go into work at four in the morning, and I'll leave till five, six o'clock at night. Any pain in your tummy? No, it's okay, all right. So go ahead and slide. Can you slide off the table that way? Can you just kind of scoot you down? Want you to follow them careful, and then go to the door. And then I just want to see you walk. So I'm going to ask you to walk to me.

Unknown 18:49

Unknown 19:14

Hey, just walk this way like you normally would.

Unknown 19:21

Hey, and back to the door. And this is not a good representation, I told my mom, because this is like the day that I got a doctor, and I don't have as much problems as I normally, normally do. Yeah, that's always the way, right? So are you favorite? You're favoring one leg, but I can't quite tell which one do you put more weight on? I am supposed to favor. This is the leg I'm supposed to put the pressure on, but I'm don't do it anymore, because of the neuropathy comes in here. Now, now they both kind of do it nice, so I ended up favoring the bad leg. Okay, it's like, unknown. Yeah, he favored, I favor. Which way do you feel? Which has more weight on it? Do you feel like my now is my bad side? Okay, the right side? Yeah.

Unknown 20:10

And I You look like you're walking on the on the edge, or your foot, yeah, my calluses. That's just, I don't know, okay, not callous it, but that's just the way that's, I think that's where the comfortable spot is. If it goes flat, it makes a little sharp pain, and it goes up my, my, this piece here, okay,

Unknown 20:40

got it? Okay. Are you able to do a heel to toe walk like this, without the cane. No, yeah, I try go slow, just and you put out your arms for balance. If that helps, I

Unknown 20:50

Unknown 21:11

keep your knees a little bit pretty

Unknown 21:20

good,

Unknown 21:23

anything's possible. Yeah, that's not possible, but doesn't mean it's gonna work in the kitchen, no, yeah, wet floors, right? No, it's, you still have to try. I know that it's not. It doesn't mean it's like, you're fine. No, no. Unknown 24:13

I don't know. Yeah, I'll ask the lady, my mom needs to use the bathroom. And what is the code. The code for ladies. This word Oh, give me both oh but for women who's gonna be 354354354354.

Unknown 24:29

Unknown 24:41

Four.

- i. While engaging in occasional standing/walking, must your patient use a cane or other hand-held assistive device? ☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, what symptoms cause the need for a cane?

- ☐ Imbalance ☐ Pain ☐ Weakness ☐ Insecurity ☐ Dizziness ☐ Other: _____

For this and other questions on this form, "rarely" means 1% to 5% of an 8-hour working day; "occasionally" means 6% to 33% of an 8-hour working day; "frequently" means 34% to 66% of an 8-hour working day.

- j. How many pounds can your patient lift and carry in a competitive work situation?

	Never	Rarely	Occasionally	Frequently
Less than 10 lbs.		☐	☐	☐
10 lbs.	☐	☐	☐	☐
20 lbs.	☐	☐	☐	☐
50 lbs.	☐	☐	☐	☐

k. How often can your patient perform the following activities?

	Never	Rarely	Occasionally	Frequently
Twist	☐	☐	☐	☐
Stoop (bend)	☐	☐	☐	☐
Crouch/ squat	☐	☐	☐	☐
Climb stairs	☐	☐	☐	☐
Climb ladders	☐	☐	☐	☐

l. Does your patient have significant limitations with reaching, handling or fingering?
☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please indicate the percentage of time during an 8-hour working day that your patient can use hands/fingers/arms for the following activities:

	HANDS: Grasp, Turn Twist Objects	FINGERS: Fine Manipulations	ARMS: Reaching In Front of Body	ARMS: Reaching Overhead

m. How much is your patient likely to be “off task”? That is, what percentage of a typical workday would your patient’s symptoms likely be severe enough to interfere with attention and concentration needed to perform even simple work tasks?

☐ 0% ☐ 5% ☐ 10% ☐ 15% ☐ 20% ☐ 25% or more

n. To what degree can your patient tolerate work stress?

☐ Incapable of even "low stress" work ☐ Capable of low stress work
☐ Capable of moderate stress - normal work ☐ Capable of high stress work

Please explain the reasons for your conclusion: _____

o. Are your patient’s impairments likely to produce “good days” and “bad days”?
☐ Yes ☐ No, the patient is likely to be equally impaired every day.

Comments: _____

Assuming your patient was trying to work full time, please estimate, on the average, how many days per month your patient is likely to be absent from work as a result of the impairments or treatment:

☐ Never ☐ About three days per month
☐ About one day per month ☐ About four days per month
☐ About two days per month ☐ More than four days per month

12. Are your patient's impairments (physical impairments plus any emotional impairments) as demonstrated by signs, clinical findings and laboratory or test results reasonably consistent with the symptoms and functional limitations described above in this evaluation?

☐ Yes ☐ No

If no, please explain: _____

13. Please describe any other limitations (such as psychological limitations, limited vision, difficulty hearing, need to avoid temperature extremes, wetness, humidity, noise, dust, fumes, gases or hazards, etc.) that would affect your patient's ability to work at a regular job on a sustained basis:

14. What is the earliest date that the description of symptoms and limitations in this questionnaire applies? _____

Friend is the doctor. This is what they use for he uses the same company for his own practice. And he's Ms. Stanford. Oh, wow. Yeah, I've heard some people are starting to use it for like note taking. Yeah, this like take your notes for you. So you don't have to be thinking about your notes. This will just give you your full. Wow. And it has all that HIPAA stuff. Yeah, yeah, like it's safe to use. Yeah. So cool. I mean, because like for me, it's like very good for me. I can, like, catch so much more in a meeting now than I used to be able to, because I used to just my memory failing on me now I have to rely upon this stuff. I used to just memorize everything. Yeah, that's a game changer for me. Yeah, that's great. Yeah. Thank you. So So you're talking about your niece and nephew? Yeah, um, yeah, they came they were only here one night or two nights on one day. I'm not really a socializer when it comes to hanging out and playing cards and that kind of stuff with people. It's just not my thing. I went with them last night to Top Golf, even though I didn't really enjoy that but I went and made myself present and accounted for. Yeah, why didn't you enjoy it? I just don't like this just to brah just too much testosterone. Yeah. Okay, it was a drag golf maybe that's a fun idea. Yeah, I mean, cuz you could do it at Top Golf pretty easily. I'm sure just might do it. I might just rent like six days and invite a bunch of Queens there and see, see, see what happens. That's a really fun idea. I like that for them all. It's mandatory eight inch stiletto. You can make it a whole thing was like a brunch and refreshments. So you sit there with some history with your niece and nephew. Like you feel like your sister got them involved somehow. My nephew and my niece she kind of stayed out of it and she got into it a little bit. It's just the the name calling my sister knows how to activate a J and turn him into a little asshole. Even though he's a sweet boy. She's you know 15 year old boy. You know how to you can if your mother you know how to sit there and twist his nipples. He's gonna come screaming at someone. That's probably not a good analogy, but I guess that's how I think he think you think about it. So she would manipulate him to turn on you owe him and my mom. So it was I didn't care about him not liking me. It was him being rude to my mom. And it's like you just can't do that. Yeah. Especially the woman that's fed him for like all those years and now she's still being the son of my business. Yeah. So you acknowledge that was more your sister's doing than him and you're able to have a good relationship with him. I forgave my sister. Even though she's a bitch. I mean, it's just that's it. She's She's so family. I mean, like I mean grand scheme of it, I'm gonna be dead and she's gonna get everything. I have mine anyhow. When I die, I mean, granted, she's only four years younger than me. But hopefully I don't have to live as long as most of my family does. And that's in a nice way, not in a weird way. Everyone in my family lives to their very old the late 90s. And that's just too old for me. Very happy at 85 need to go into that 98 years old and depression, getting the world because no one wants to be here because everyone's dead. It's so fun to live that way. I mean, why? It's just silly. Yeah. So how has it been this week as far as working on your new routine? Everything got thrown into the wind when I've had guests coming into town because I had to change everything. Okay, so can switch. Yeah, it was not awful but not easy. Is it hard for you to adjust to unexpected changes getting harder than it used to be? I used to be really good at like, on the ball like live change was life specialties. I could change my anything on the New York Minute. But you know sometimes it's not that way anymore. That's harder for you to shift how's it as far as the psychosis the hallucinations this week? I've been having some really vivid dreams that are kind of weird. So I think that they've entered into me going through something I just don't know what it is. It's definitely I'm not like manic. I don't think I am I'm a little elevated though. If you do feel a little angst okay. It's getting towards my birthday. I'm getting nervous. So some of that probably unknown stuff. So tell me more about these dreams that you're having. Was everything okay? Yeah, no, my mom just walked out here for a second she's gonna spaces she likes to listen. It's hard for me. Yeah, not the way it should be. Okay, my mom's I don't care if she does. She just wants to know my dreams. You do want to talk? I didn't see I didn't want to talk about I wanted to talk about my dreams and it's not appropriate. I see. Yeah. and then I had a hope that the other night at the house and I don't know if that was my dream or if it was real, but I think it was real. If she brought up something saying something like oh, you had your fun. I'm validating that it was real. Sometimes. Wow. Yeah, that's intense. So what happens in your dreams is about anything from six to flying and jumping. Jump. I don't know what the jumping means but to do a lot of jumping dreams. So I just keep jumping further and I don't can't get down so I just jumped again. It's kind of weird. Yeah. Tell me about your most recent dream like what what's the story of that? Most recent one I don't have any memory of it at all feel remember like pieces of dreams? I just remember praying to piece it together and nothing would come. Nothing would validate. No, I couldn't figure it out. It was like I couldn't find any positive like feedback that it was not happening. Does that make sense? So it was really immersive. Yeah. Really immersive but it's hard for you to remember now Oh, and I gotta planted the garden some gardening. Okay. I've had a lot of labor stuff, but my body's paying for it now. Yeah, I remember you saying last time you were trying to plant some greenery but there was like sheet land for something that you managed to figure out that issue was just water and hard work. Oh, wow. So you went through with that I couldn't figure out how to. I went to try to Home Depot. And try to get some people to help me. They wanted to have power tools. They wouldn't help me unless I had this specific type of jackhammer to do the job. So I kind of said no, no no I'm not. I'm nothing was too much for me to deal with. I came home and it was cooler that day. We had like a in at 90 degrees weather and I just kind of set my mission to doing it. I have one of these like things that you go like this. Oh like a posthole digger kind of like that but not a posthole digger is like a plant digger. Oh, okay. Yeah. He kind of once a wet the ground had helped it. I mean, it wasn't ideal or easy. And then all the other plants died. So I need to go back to this store figured out replacement of those because you know, Home Depot that you've replaced them if they die. So yeah, that's a good deal. Yeah. Okay, so how did it feel to be out there gardening? It feels good. Like that. Then we got a weird Farmer John tan. Nice. Yeah. Can we get to just get a little exercise on fresh air. Watch something grew. Yeah, any mirror Oh, that's pretty. Yeah. Very nice. Wow. Yeah, your art game is on point. Yeah. So it stopped. This. Oh, sorry. Go ahead. This is the library or the bar, but I call it a library. Okay. Do you read? I listen to books. I can't have concentration to read books. I never have I don't think I use speechify a lot. Yeah, that's another one look up. It'll read anything, everything anything. Okay, so it'll just be like audiobooks. Oh, no, it'll be Joe your internet. It'll be your Snapchat to it'll read your it reads everything on your screen. It's a reader. It's a screen reader. Kind of sounds nice. So anything you were interested in reading blogs this this that? Yeah, just cut and paste the web browser thing. In there. And it will read to you in Snoop Dogg's voice. That's funny. So you can choose the voice you can choose different ones. Brock, sip dog or Gwyneth Paltrow. There's like 102 other voices to choose. That's crazy. What kinds of things do you like to listen to? I don't know. It depends on whatever. I'm researching that moment. Okay, gotcha. That's a whole nother story, but we've been talking about my AI crap that I do and like understand and just try to I don't know sometimes I think that's like the grandiose thinking from the bipolar because always thinking I can be better. Like, teach myself more and more about that. I always think I can. I stopped myself, usually. Because I know that it's, I'm not any smarter than anyone else. Just like people try to the other people are trying to follow me like, around like, me knowing that it's not true. No, I'm not that special. Just reassuring myself, because I'm not as paranoid as I was last week. Okay, so you'll do research about people found out yeah, oh, yeah. well researched. I know how to find bugs and what kind of equipment was possible for this to be undertaking? I see. What have you learned from doing that research? No. One's gonna spend that kind of money on me. Unless some weird my alternate thought is some randomly brilliant first of philanthropists with more money than God that just has put me as their pet project and giving everyone money to help them follow me. Which is probably not true either. So cognitively you can see where this isn't happening, but it sounds like there's still some emotion some doubt there. Yeah. Definitely. I wish it was easier. What would it mean if it were true that someone was following you? I mean, someone was spending a lot of money on you. What else I don't know. I want royalties. If I'm that interesting. Make them feed me in. See you think they would almost be watching you for entertainment. Of so I think it is entertainment whilst we would you watch me That's weird. Sci Fi like if they are watching you, it's because they get some kind of kick out of it. Yeah, it's just like what is it? Why you would watch like, like, bam, like to the what is it? Bam jackass. Oh, yes. Yes. That kind of primal urge to wants to see the fallen soldier does that make sense? Yeah, does see you think? Do they edit footage. They make nomos about me like these like they take me out of context and make fun of me or make fun of whatever it is they're making fun of doesn't necessarily have to do with me. I don't think it was just something I did. That they make a narrative on. Who do they show it to? To hide I'm telling you too much, Vic private network. That subscribe to bye, bye that are interested in underground networks, I guess. Yeah. I'll keep it alive. Why is it telling me too much? Oh, I know. It's just making me seem crazier than I already am. Think you're crazy Clemson. I think you have been through a lot and I think your mind is trying to make sense of it. Well I wish it was easier to make sense of exploring crazy cakes cuckoo cuckoo. While it's enough to write a book about my book a little bit. You're working on a book with my like I said, I do a lot of things with my AI thing. Doesn't mean I can finish them. Tell me about the book. Is it like a memoir? No, no. Just kind of my random random acts of me with those little craziness in my life. Okay. Sounds like a collection of short stories, collection of stories stories. Random search. My searches for on my AI made it. I took all of like a year's worth of searches and made a fan of a very lovely chapter book about it. And all the different things that I searched throughout the year. Wow. That's really creative. Yeah. Kind of weird, but I guess it is creative. Yeah. And did you notice any patterns or trends in your searches? I just didn't finish doing the the the work on it because it was just too much. Too much. Energy focused on like, some negative stuff in there. needs I stepped away from it. brought me back to those moments to Gotcha. People were watching you, what would you want them to see? What would they what would you want them to know about you? Don't want them to know anything about choking halfheartedly about warning that have given them you know, give me like money for this only because I'm broke and I'm putting my money but no, I don't want anyone watching me. I don't want anything like that. You want your privacy? Oh yeah. I'm gonna have a private person believe those people will think I'm pretty not private. I mean, but I think we'd like to say I want to be a quiet person. Quiet Kind of what you aspire to. Yeah. Go ahead. It's just good to be very calm. That would be the way it should be. Jumping on the next bandwagon and figure out what's going on crazy in my life. So you share quite a bit about how you like you worked for some really famous people. And did you ever notice that they had this problem? Just like maybe the media attention and trying to escape the public eye. Was that something that you saw a lot in your world? Some okay. Yeah. Tell me about that. My lender would always say you get to talk to me every single night. Do you know how much my billable seconds is? You'd probably be the most richest man in our company. She didn't like a cast of 1000s She looks very private person Yeah, just I don't know. I guess this is all stuck in a confidentiality agreement. So you don't really talk about it? Yeah. stuff but probably not. I still don't talk about stuff. Yeah, you got used to really keeping it quiet it's just weird. All the important people that you've worked for and you don't have to share names or anything like that, but is there anybody that you like really looked up to the person I probably wrong the most Linda tell me how you met her. Oh thick found me through agency. I was like the 26th person that they they had gone through so many, like, different recruit people. When you go into that kind of thing, you go through an agency and an agency tempts you well and then they pay 75% of your yearly income, then that's what the fee is for your placement. So if you don't work out the agency has to replace you. And she went through like 26 people before she found me. I lasted seven years. And this is when you were just like working for a private person. Yeah. You mean you go through that and that's your background checks and yeah. All the crazy stuff that makes it so what did you admire about Linda? I don't know. She was pitch. She was good. And nice this way. I mean, she's Devil Wears Prada. I mean, real strong. And everything so he's just kind of slick. She never you know, she always see through things that how they do that it's just like she could see through me too. And maybe that's what I liked that she could see through my bullshit someone like my mom, my mom can see. She's my mom and Linda are very similar. As far as people I look up to like really perceptive, they can just call me out she just sees right through it free value most of our main and most relationship is she can pitch she got me clarifying for you. clarify for me. He's obviously just calling out on when I'm doing stupid. See, you said you wronged Linda, what happened there? Just towards the end there I was. Doing she mentioned alcohol and then x and things. Things were sloppy when I left. That's all they like you think of a the men's? I just hadn't been able to ever ever, you know? Yeah. You've never got to do it. Yeah. Never got the courage. I don't have I never been proud of myself for something well enough like my mom like how am I gonna ever pay her back? I can only say sorry if so many times so you've stayed away from window? Oh, yeah. Pretty much my embarrassment. Basically you feel a lot of shame about the way you behaved at the end definitely, yeah. So just like thinking about this and talking about it. How does it make you feel? sad that I never the business she was a big part of my life Guess I'm grieving there Where do you feel that sadness in your body? Over my eyeballs. Sick suppression Yeah, feels like it's pushing you down yeah it doesn't feel good it has like I don't even know why. Sometimes. I probably avoid talking about that. More. Yeah, more than anything. I don't think I've ever even talked to Abby enough about your relationship with Linda not even was she knew about her but not know Yeah. I didn't. I didn't go there so release sensitive for you. It's like talking about my mom. My mom is sensitive. Yeah. I protect her and she protects me but you can't I guess I just don't have it in me to like apologize. Because I don't have anything to give her. You wish you had something to offer? And I don't know if I would have ever in my life. Be able to have something like that you think she doesn't value you just for you? Like she just wouldn't be happy to like hear from you again. Yeah, not like Rukhsana Rukhsana was my coworker is the lady that worked followed me around a couple of different companies. Okay, that's would be one that would be that person. That would probably be happy but I haven't been able to talk to her either. I let her down it's sad You said you've never even talked to Abby about these things. What does it feel like talking about with me? I'm just saying everyone's different. Your style is a little different than first style. I mean when you're in front of the person live it's a different conversation to oh yeah for sure. Because it's just the different conversation are you doing in person before? A lot of in person every other every other visit? Okay, that's nice to have Yeah. helps maintain a connection. I feel like yeah it was. She was like, I mean, they still haven't figured out my the Kaiser thing yet. So I have her again on the first tomorrow. Tomorrow first. Yeah, yeah. I can't miss that. If you're still trying to like initiate care. You have a good day. It's just that they're starting me over. And it's like this weird thing. And it's like, I'm like, not start over person. I'm not gonna I'm not I can't do I can't do that. I can't start completely from over. Like, I'm this like, you know, this is just to me. It's just too weird. That they don't can't talk. They don't like what is it? Like, yeah, like coordinate care this somewhat. I mean, this is a lot of crazy cake. Crazy. Yeah, you can I mean, it's really you can't mix not Yeah. CPI kits too much to just like we have to retail yourself. I can't sit there and like they said, Well, why don't you just unpack it and tell me what your problems are and tell me what you want to work on this week. It's like, work on this week. You want me to tell you like, how do you do that? It's like impossible, like give through two years, three years worth of history. And then go ahead and just fabricate it, like there just seems so weird. It's a hard adjustment for you and then I and then that same with the med doctor. Like they said, Oh, then you're gonna see this doctor and then he'll pass you off to his man mad. Like a medi like a medi pharmacist. It's like it's just this too weird. saying my brain you guys are being shuffled around. Yeah. Yeah. It's just not. I mean, it's too much. Yeah. Okay, good. I had a form for you. I was looking for that my doctor. My lawyer asked my Yeah, the thing that was talking to you last week. Okay, would you like to email it to me? Yeah, I'm gonna see if you sit in this chat thing. Okay. But um, and then we also have to do my survey. Did you that either? Yeah. Let me copy the link for that and send it over to you all right, there's your survey. Okay. Then I'll get that get you this thing. Using another account then we what is the next weeks or next meeting because that's on Tuesday. Still, because when does my birthday this is on the 25th and then trying to see if our birthday falls. So we're gonna be like, I don't want to have an appointment on my birthday. But I wouldn't mind one of the day before the day after. Yeah, so I was gonna just keep you same time each week. So Wednesdays and 11 if that works for you, but for your birthday. Let's see. You said it's on the 25th Yeah. Okay, we won't land on the 25th then it looks like that is on a Sunday. So you should be all good. Like my birthday on Sunday. That's even worse. Alright, so now I'm logging in to do the survey. Okay What was that I thought I lost you. I didn't like did the thing. Oh, no, no. I'm still here. Let me know if any questions or comments come up while you're filling that out this thing is a really redo this thing actually what can I change is would you make makes this trip questions different? Oh, like change it up each week. At least you have enough. Like we did menus, like in the restaurant business. You can do 18 weeks of menus and then you put them in a randomizer and you'll never know that what the same thing twice. You won't feel like you're eating the same thing twice. But it's actually only 18 different things. I get it. Yeah. And you mix up the order. You mix up the order and the days the week and you know that kind of stuff. It makes things easier I don't know because this thing just gets very busy. What is it like? The same thing? Yeah, repetitive. It kind of puts me into that crazy thing when I think over and over again is the definition for psychotic. It's doing the same thing over and over. Is it through? Yeah. Yeah, I think that's like a saying I don't know if it's necessarily medically correct, though. Okay. I see what you're saying. It's not it's just that's just what they say. It's not a proven Yeah. I think the thing that you might be thinking of is like, I'm doing the definition of crazy is doing the same thing over and over again expecting different results. Yeah, that's the way exactly I was. Thinking of, because it's just not Yeah. Yeah. Do you hit the nail right on the head? That's like, I that little thing really goes back and forth in my brain all the time. That's probably not smart for me either. What do you feel like you're doing over and over again? Everything in life? I don't ever get it feels like I do. At all the same thing over and over again. It's like what is it called? The Groundhog Day? Yes. Yes. That's a movie. Yeah. Yeah. Where the day keeps repeating. Sometimes it's everything over and over and over. What kind of different results are you hoping for? I don't know. I never thought about it. I just think this just feels like everything is over and over again. I see. Maybe it isn't different results. Maybe it's just the new new something different because like it's not. Yeah, that's what it is. It's just needs to be something different not. I don't need to have the new different result. Because it probably is already a different result. How's the survey going? I got sidetracked. back to it again. Forget tangent. Selling how much I hate filling it out she's she doesn't she has an interest and pleasure doing it I haven't had trouble falling asleep the last few days. So that's something good things they've been exhausted being sessions sometimes I play on this morning grocery store and such I got a total score of 55 last night for my top golf and if you've ever played but that's like old time record bad. No. I've tried golfing but I'm not very good. either. I can't remember a specific score though. I'm going to go together Yeah, I went back and changed a few answers Yeah, look right here quick. See what we've got provocative right so it's looking like your anxiety is staying about about the same. You shot a little improvement in depression compared to last week. Yeah, I think I've been too busy to be depressed. Yeah, you've been doing most of the activities. You said that you're having thoughts of hurting yourself though. More than half the days this time. That was the one I thought I changed. Oh, gotcha. That's kind of the same as it has been. Yeah. Gotcha. Okay. That's what I thought I had I switched back. Just okay. All right. Well, thank you so much for doing that. It's good to check in on that. And I did not get anything from you in the chat as far as like the form you are trying to send. You're still trying to form Yeah, it's just they sent it to me. Here. He uploads to there. You just go to the chat and then copy and paste. Otherwise, you could send me an email and upload it to an email. might be easier. Yeah, you should have my email because I emailed you the safety plan. Yes, I have. Yeah. It's called the MSS. Okay. And I think I might need to get a release of information before we can complete that. Then. So what do you need from me? Um, does it have the name and the contact information of your attorney on it? I will send you this I'll forward you her email. Okay, where do you want me to have her reach out to you? Well, we would just need in order to make the release of information like her name, or contact information and then we could just make a form for you to sign saying like, Oh, it's okay if Karina sends information to this label. Okay. I see what you're saying. Yeah. needs to be a little more formal. Yeah, we would just like to have that release on file. Yeah. Especially. I get it makes sense to me is Kaiser where they just give you all the records. That's what's really funny is your Kaiser. You'll make a book out of my Kaiser logs. That's part of my book to my chat therapy because they really document all that every thing in kp.org most visit dissertation. Yeah, a lot to look at. And Quinton, we are kind of coming to the end of our time for today. But you can feel free to email me send me the documents, some visa information for your attorney. Yes. And we can try to get that release of information over to you as soon as possible. Once you have that signed, then I'll look over the form. If it's something I can complete on my own, I'll go ahead and do that. But if I have questions, we can focus on that at our next session if that sounds good. Okay, cool. So overall, how are you feeling today as we wrap up? Now that is fine. Way to work in the garden and finish my doing my closet. That's great. Yes. I think it's amazing that you're getting stuff done. So keep up the good work. And thanks for just answering my questions today. I'm exploring these topics. It's getting there. We're getting there. Yeah. All right. Well, I'll see you next week. Okay, thank you. I Clinton. session I know. A woman

Okay, a lot of things affect that. There's usually not just one answer. There's usually lots of different things that kind of come into play. So I think the next best thing we can do is really get a cognitive assessment, because that seems to bother you the most before forgetting where you could use put things. You had to move back in with your mom because you're forgetful and so that seems to be behind everything is, that's the big issue, is your memory. And then all this other stuff is obviously bothersome too. But I just get the sense that memory is, is really taking a kick right now, and so memory normal, say it again, the mental I mean, that's all the I mean, I'm bipolar. I mean, is there something more than just bipolar? I mean, I don't know. I wouldn't know. Your psychiatry team would hopefully have a better understanding of that neuropathy I think he has, I don't know. So we'll have you come in and see me. We'll do a cognitive screen, and based on those results, we can do more in depth, memory testing, cognitive testing, or more brain scans to see my hope is, and this seems like an odd hope, but my hope is it's all related to your mood. Because, as you probably know by now, how you're feeling, whether it's depression, anxiety, all that has a huge role on cognition and you're feeling and things like that. Because if you don't feel well, feel well in your heart and your soul, your body's not going to feel well. They just go hand in hand. And a lot of time, doctors will focus on the body, but they forget the most important part is how you're doing on the inside. I like that perspective. So I think it's it's as you've learned for the last three years, it's not an easy road to kind of get treated for How you feeling, for your mental well being, but it's my hope is with you know, persistence, everything else will get better with it. But we'll start with the memory testing. So I'll have my office reach out to you to get that schedule, and you'll come see me in Roseville. I'm at the main hospital, okay? I mean, I live in Roseville now, perfect, all right, and then we'll go from there. But I do understand Clinton, your frustration, and kind of you're like all humans. We want one thing to explain everything. We want just a simple answer, or not simple answer, but an answer, but a lot of times it's probably more than one thing, and that's when the waters get a little muddy, but we'll do one thing at a time. Okay, any questions for me? No, thank you for being human. I mean, made some of this made a little more more sense, because, I mean, I read the things the last time and then they the only thing in the reports is the little cliff notes in the bottom. It's only thing that they say that there was anything that's possibly wrong. And those are the only things they didn't test me for. You know, well, I think at the end of the day, I'm glad you don't have Huntington's disease, because, as you probably know, that is a horrible disease. There is no cure for that. There's no treatment. It only goes one way, and it goes down, gets worse. Yeah? So that's a bullet you definitely want to dodge. I know you want an answer, but you don't want that. No, I didn't want that one. Trust me, yeah, there's three people in family die already. That one, I don't need this not that wasn't what I was seeking. I wanted to check the box that is not this thing. And then, and it was your mom's side or your dad's side, my mom, my mom, my mom's side. Okay, yeah. Again, less likely if your mom's still doing well, and she probably in her 70s, that, yeah, you probably don't have it. Yeah. All right, all right, Clinton, so my office will reach out to you to get that follow up schedule, and we'll go from there. Thank you. Yeah, you're welcome. You take care. Bye. Right? That was your video appointment, yeah. Okay, you seem like a nice doctor, huh? Seemed like a nice doctor, that seemed like a nice doctor. I didn't thought it wasn't. I didn't think it was the Huntington's that's pretty but that's what those ladies say. We met with them. They didn't think It was I so what are you going to do with this doctor? My phone, some kind of testing for brain, my brain cognitive Testing. Whatever that is. When's your appointment? Pretty soon. Huh? Did it say anything about doctor appointment? I thought you said we had 111 o'clock today. I thought I did, but now I don't see it appointment here, for sure, this wasn't only when I have it's tomorrow. I know, hello, hello. Am I speaking with Cheryl? Who's this doctor? Hello, Mom, it's the doctor. Hello, Hello, Mom, it's the doctor. Sharon, hello, no, yes, this is me. Ma'am addicts, yeah. How was your day? Sharon, so far, I department, East Bay. It was just it was crap. Orlando, Florida, yeah, it's yeah. They're fraud, okay, trying to get you to buy something. Probably answer it, no, no, they can leave A message. See if they don't leave a message, huh? I don't know. Yeah, see, it didn't even come up as a recent call they hung up. That's weird. So welcome to the Kaiser Permanente appointment and medical advice services faculty. My name is Daniel, okay so? What do you do now? That's all I have right now. That's all I have right now. No, that's all I have right now. I want to ask your AI So, yeah, what do you want to talk about? What do you want to talk about? Color master. I give me a second. I'm getting it up. You. I'm putting it up on the computer for you. What it's been putting it up on the computer? Why? Because it's you can hear it. I could hear over. Computer. You want to talk to her. 03398161, my phone number is 925-642-1198, and I think my doctor has wants me to have some type of test. So I'm my phone wasn't working before, but it is working in the house, so you can call me at any time. Thank you. All right, what else you have to do? That's it. They should I'm coughing up. It's nasty, yeah, oh my god, really bad. You. Who left their garage open right across the street, really? Yeah. How'd you know? Because when I got up to pick a pee last night, I could see the light was on in the garage. Yeah. Then when I got up this morning at eight o'clock or seven o'clock, I went and checked to see if it was still open. And it was still open. Did you go there? No, I didn't like they were still sleeping. Probably, huh, they were probably still sleeping. When did they close it? I'm presuming at some point in time. I don't know. I thought it was weird and I didn't know if it was proper for me just to go over there and shut it and walk out the side door. If it was Donna's house, I would do that, but not theirs. I don't know him that well. So you think this doctor is gonna help you with your case? I mean, how much longer is it gonna take? It's going on three years. Mommy's not going on three years, one or two years with the lawyer. I know, yeah. I mean, it's all gonna come to a head shortly. I would presume we just keep going, right? So what you're saying is that the three of us, we just leave him here. No, what does your lawyer say? I don't give you any with him here? Okay? Yeah, they don't want to give you. I have to call them today. If we leave that here, I need to call them today. You do? Yeah, no, I don't know where I was going with that. That's stupid. Remember when you check out your social security status. Have you done that? I do it every week. What? Sometimes twice. What's up? Dog, not much. Dark. I'm here to pick up Casey. Now I'm saying, Well, I'm awake. Yeah, I do know what you're saying. Step three of five, sky. P You're not I'm saying, again, I do know that same, but I appreciate you continuing to check in with me on that. Hi, out. I have just made lunch. What are you coming back? I don't know. Later. No, hey, stop, stop, listen to me. Hey, once Kenny is ready, we're out of here, and we will leave with or without you. If you're not here, we're gone. You get it? Okay? Fine. That's totally fine. Wait a second. Hold on. Come here. I like that little chat with your friend. Are you kidding me? I am not kidding you. Would you please have a seat? So Scotty. P, what exactly do you do for a living mom? For AJ, amusements, I'm rocking that monkey maze, the monkey man, oh, it's like terrifying death trap, but for little kids, hey, those are cool, tax man. Oh, for real, thank you, bro. You see the Cobra. What is this one? Was the one right there? Oh, this, that's my credo. No regrets. How about that? You have no regrets? Yeah, no, like, not even a single letter. No way. Not me. I love him. I think he's great. I think he's a real winner. Casey, if I were you, I wouldn't use protection. Have fun, Scotty, nice meeting you, man, you do use Scotty. P basically, come on, she's gonna be fine, tattooed kid on a motorcycle, no helmet. Actually, she might already be pretty. I cannot believe her. Where the hell is she? Look? Who is concerned about someone other than themselves? What? No, no, no, I just want to get back on the road. A kid was a dickhead, huh? Right, don't say it Sure. Unbelievable. Shitty taste in men from her mother. I I'm sorry, the cheap shot. Cheap shot. Okay, taking it back. I'm sure you're my friend. Jimmy is very nice. He seems like very sweet guy. Well, he's not. He left. Maxed out my credit cards, cleaned out my bank account before I jetted out of town, stole my favorite mug, which was a pretty shitty thing to do, even for me, I'm really sorry about that. Whatever please you get the day you gotta take strippers. Come on, you're a lot more than that rose and you know it? What? Rose is not even my real name. Well, then what's your real name? Sarah, with an H, yep, right there at the end. That's what it's spelled. My mother thought, what we know David's not my real name either. Really, I'm being serious. It's a good one. Well, so then your real name, Barbara. Barbara. Oh, so what do you like? Barbara? Junior, yeah, her, Barbara Junior, you got it, yeah, yeah. So my friends in high school and grade school used to call me Babs. Oh, not really, no, not at all. I mean, I was in musical theater, so I was actually Revere, very funny here. What's going on in here? That's we should ask you the same thing, young lady, huh? I mean, we've been worried sick. That's right. Why are you guys talking like that? We're here. That's who's here. We didn't know if you were dead in a ditch, huh? You couldn't have called or some of those damn text messages you're always sending out there, you know, Hey, it's me. Casey, I'm not dead in a ditch. Lol, a little picture of a fucking Willow. Hashtag. YOLO, anything? Hey, fine, whatever. Sorry. Whoa, thank you. Was that story learned a new word. Rose. I'm sorry. Oh, kidding. Oh, my god, yeah. Up, I think so. David, look what happens to you when you start running around like a crazy person. I'll hop up, honey. Here we go. What the hell's wrong? What's wrong? Here? Go. This job is deadline, and it's in four fucking hours, all right, and if you think I'm gonna lose a half a million dollar payday because of one of Kenny's boo boos, then you're out of your goddamn mind. Whoa. Wait a second. You're making half a million dollars on this deal. Roughly, I cannot believe you rose. Listen, I can explain you are making $500,000 and you are only gonna pay me 30 you're getting 30 grand. I'm getting 1000 you guys are getting paid. No, no. We want to renegotiate. No, no way, no, no way, no, no. You made your deal with me. I made my deal with Brad. Alright, we're getting out of here. See good, Casey gets it. We're not renegotiating now. Let's go. I believe we are right now, because you wouldn't even be here if it wasn't for us. You're fucking right about that. I'd be in Denver right now if it wasn't for you guys. Slowing me down. Slowing you down. That's right, yeah, slowing you down, yep, where the hell are you going? Hey, hey, I said, Where are you going? Okay, you know what you leave. You get nothing. What's your money? Okay, Casey, come back. You have to have me stay together. Come on. Why family? Mom, you want to spend Christmas together. Help me with my homework, Mom, please. This whole thing has been a total joke. Oh no, I'll tell you what the joke is. Can you want to know the joke? I'm not even gonna tell you the joke. You don't deserve that. You're the joke. I know a joke. We have to go back together. What? Okay? Go back together. Are you coming with me or not? Fine. I'll make sure to slide your check. Kenny, let's go. Kenny, come on. Let's go. Man, leave her. David, it's not right. You know what? You all deserve each other. He'll come back, right? You? Your girl got your texts out. Hey, are you alone? Yeah, think we can go someplace private and talk. I know, just aspiring now I'm saying you so, yeah, nice try. The radio, nice try. Okay, let's get there. And I knew better, too, but we were all on the road together, and it got kind of fun, you know, yeah, they started thinking of us as kind of like this, whatever. It's stupid. Fuck them, yeah? Fuck Ben yo right now. Girl, Scotty, P is gonna make you feel real good? No, I'm saying I'm sorry. I'm just gonna cry and I'm just gonna go, Okay, well, come on. Girl, you texted me, right? You know what? Scotty, hey, get your hands off of her. Come here, Casey, you put your hands on her one more time. I swear I'll rip that fucking tattoo right off of your chest. You know what I'm saying? Oh, really, bitch, Yeah, bitch, yo what? Why do you leave the girls alone? Man, what are you gonna do better? Eyebrows broke my mouth. You're aggressive, woman. Oh, you okay? I'm fine. That was awesome. You just fucking decked out. Yeah? Well, I've dealt with handy assholes like him at work. Come on, let's just get out of here. Thanks for the batter, Kenny. Welcome Kenny. If you're gonna punch somebody this way exit. I have returned. Go, fuck yourself. That's what I missed, right? The ping pong action, the rep r, k, go fuck yourself. You go fuck yourself. And then rose you say, Go fuck yourself. And Kenny's like, No, we're not getting in the RV what? Okay, okay, I know what this is about, and I get it all right. We're gonna split the $500,000 evenly betwixt the four of us, you guys get what I'm saying here. Ken, you want to be like this? That's a lot of video games, you know, all right, Casey, you can buy a house, run away from it, you know. I mean, like, whatever you get $125,000 you get $125,000 you can. I mean, I like fucking Ultra here, you know, she was a white dude at a carnival. Wait, look, what do you want? You want me to beg kiss? I think that would make me feel a lot better, sure. Well, it's a good thing. I'm wearing my begging pants. I usually only do this for four seconds. Okay, okay, I'm going, I'm going, please, please, get in here. Let me just write down here. I know that I parked it right next to an RV. You rose, 80, shit. I never get used to that language. What in the H, E, L, L, are you people doing? Here we came. This is the fireworks. There's supposed to be a me. Amazing here. Can we talk? No, why are you being so rude? No, Mom, I don't need a tea. Then these people, yeah, come on, kid, let's go. Come on. What happened last night? The campsite was wrong. Oh, boy. What? Was wrong. Oh boy. Oh, my God, she knows my daughter, Melissa, yes, it was wrong with me to Father Mrs. Miller's breast, you're right, even though I'm not gonna deny that it gave me a certain amount of pleasure. But that being said, Your father and I are struggling with some serious intimacy issues. Okay, no stop. I'm not as tight as I know it was. I look, he just falls right now. Okay, hot dog down a hallway. What? What are you talking about? Look, last night, I saw Katie making out with his sister and mother while their dad watched. What? Oh, my. It wasn't good. Uh, sorry, he's been drinking. It's impossible understanding drugs across the border. You're drug dealers. No, no, we're drug smugglers. There's a difference. You know what? You thank God you're alive. Listen, hey. No, I still got it. Don's a badass. Melissa, go find a police officer. Okay, Don Listen to me. No drug smuggling. David and the thing of the moment we share in that tent. But Don there's another guy I don't want to hear about the other men in your life. What? No, no, no. There's another guy trying to kill us who just

You You I don't have volume yet, but I'm getting it there. Can you hear me now? I can hear you. Yeah, you can hear me. Yeah great. Nice. All right. Are you at home today? Yeah. Wonderful. Same space I was in last time. Okay, gotcha. Nice. Well, it's good to see you again. How has your week been? It's been kind of hot here. I don't know P wave. Okay. Hence the sunglasses. It's really hot. That can be really draining. Yeah. Then not too much this week. I had a lot of a lot of appointments. And then I missed one and then that threw me off track. And then I missed my one with Abby JOHNSON I thought it was my last one with her but then she rescheduled so it kind of fixed it, my my brain but let's see did I get my get my note from my doctor? Did she get back to you? No, she didn't. Did you let her know? There's no way for me to cop the cop copy you on that. Unfortunately. That's all right. Well, I appreciate that. I'm glad that you made that effort. And yeah, we'll see. But I'm sure you guys have another way to get to Kaiser to besides me. I'm sure there's there has to be for you. Alright. Ah, you know, I am newish. I'm just saying. Kaiser is weird. It really is. Yeah. Well, today I was hoping to just learn a little bit more about you keep talking about your background, maybe talk about your goals than anything else that's on your mind today. goals would be like just like the mention that understanding like these SaLuSa nations a little more and why they happen. I don't know. Sometimes it makes me I being so self aware things and you don't find anything on the end or internet about the hallucinations. That make sense to me. Because I don't know. Maybe if I understand them more they might help me not have them as bad bad. Yeah. Less last week we talked a little bit about just feeling paranoid, that kind of thing. That's all part of it is I mean with elimination so that I get I have those nations on and become paranoid. Is Was that real was that not did that actually did happen? Did these six people drive by me for photographing me because I'm like driving too slow and doing this. I mean, like, this is like crazy. It's not happening. It can't be happening. Basically possible. I know in some, I mean, I do I have to just the process of elimination. It's like there's not enough someone's care in their mind. You'd be wanting to track me that bad. Yeah, your brain still goes there. Yes. Then I'll find like tracking software in my phone and it's like, and who knows if I'm putting that freaking tracking software into my phone myself just to make my brain I just tried to like how does it get there? Yeah, sounds really frustrating. So what kinds of hallucinations Do you have? Do you like hear voices or see things hear people telling me that I'm doing this wrong? I'm doing this and it's like or it's this overwhelming feeling that this is I've done this? It's like I don't know what I've done. To the beach. I mean it's always it's just chatter. I don't hear anything. But at least the nation started out as just being like shadows, like these things that would just whisper by me like, all the time, like and like these like, like just off to the sides and they were just always kind of like, in my periphery period peripherals. And then they that's when they put me on that they'd started me on the pills quiet Siri Okay. Does that help? That's like, I think it does help. Since I moved here, like the Roseville area, I don't think it's like as good is it? Well, I mean, because I think my routines aren't yet ready my routines aren't settled yet. Yeah, routine me so helpful. I don't do well without routine even if it's a bad routine. It's still a routine. I have some sort of the structure Yeah. That makes sense. Okay, so let's go back Archie the things that you hear. Do these voices ever tell you to do things? Yeah. Suggestive way to make things seem like things are right. Like, I have a real big problem. I want to pay attention to it all the time. But I'll be like flipped out because it'll take this you need this and like okay, and then I'll take it no, like, you know, why go someplace and they realize I did it. Sometimes I have enough balls to just go put it back. Sometimes they just throw it in the garbage doesn't make you feel talking about that. Terrible. Yeah. Because why would you do that? Notice same person doesn't do that. Sounds like this. Like it's like I didn't like I setting myself up to fail cons. Am I constantly constantly constantly, always making myself do things that are going to make me do things? Why would I do I don't mean to do those things. I don't want to do those things. Stand those things. I don't know why I would risk everything I've done in my life for something so stupid. And it's just it's chronic. And it's like I can't get it to stop I want it to go away it's scary. Yeah. So makes you feel scared and makes you feel frustrated with yourself. Because it's my own frickin what is it? What is that word? I like so much. Integrity. That's the only thing you have in mind is integrity. My integrity is shit. Because I can't control myself. My own integrity, my own personal integrity my integrity to my own soul far I've been good most part with other people's integrity I've never locked myself out the fights are going geez, voices ever tell you to hurt yourself or hurt other people that he's hurting people in retrospective I'm taking from their store taking them that is hurting somebody physically hurting them but it's not. That's still not it's still hurting it's like so little it's like little things just nothing big. It's like crazy. Like why? Stupid? Yeah, I've been I mean I've been hot once or twice and then like I just say, Hey, can I bought it? Like, I have money. It's not like I'm like. Yeah. I feel a lot of compassion for you right now. As you talk about this. It just sounds like it makes you feel so out of control and confused. And just it's not you it's just doesn't stop it just goes against season well, maybe that gets like worse and that's like my, like now like my sexual act types like often out of the control and it's like she's wheeze and it's just every year it gets like this during this time here and that's what I'm talking about. This can interest the date after we've had our conversation. And I guess other than the seasonal like seasonal depression does my seasonal sexual appetite just increase this heavily? Can you put me on more drugs so that'll make that better? Not that I'm so tired of so many drugs. It's crazy how many things I take that's just monthly drugs. Yeah, so you want you just want to understand what's going on? Or if I understand why my brain delights me, talks to me in this way and forces me to do these things. I might know how to put some handcuffs on my brain so you mentioned seeing some shadows. Do you see anything else? I see. Now I see full blown things that are really here. Things go on. Oh no, I don't know. If they're real sometimes. All these Friday know the people that are like following me and like doing these things. Maybe none of those real Yeah, I don't know I could I'll be my imagination. I've had a very active imagination level. That's been they've always there's always probably my excuse. What do you mean? I probably always hallucinating. I probably didn't have an active imagination. That's what everyone told me. Oh plan. You just have to see that. There's just you're just creative type. Like what kinds of things would you imagine? Oh, full blown. It's gonna give me a for instance and my brain will go crazy like, give you a boost one story. I see. In like this improv, like that improv with it. Like for instance, someone told us a story. He says Oh, my aunt came into the left shoe. And then cousins brains like going on the left shoe maybe she would have left she'd be she wonder where she left she left us. Yeah, she was leaving the house she saw two left shoes that matched each other and that's why she worked in love shoes and the other sock that she found that match that sock that she said she wear the two different socks in the two different shoes. That's why it's so my brain just goes like gets these like fills in a story. I fill in the blank really quickly on things and that's why I don't know if like maybe this is the paranoid thing. It's like there's always that's been around for a long, long, long time. Like, just not using but that's I can't say that. That's probably not not not real I think but I think the drugs they do help. They saw software and everything. Yeah. So you said the paranoid thing was has been around for a long time. How did you deal with that while you were in your jobs? I worked really hard. always worked. Many, many hours. I've worked in one place. I didn't work multiple jobs. I had one job where I worked 10 hours, 14 hours and with lots of people that helped me because I was the big boss. So I have my assistants and you know, I always kill SideRed like, like, like the eccentric ones, at least on my tangents. And I haven't been very creative because I was a chef and you know this like food and like build parties in my imagined whatever you could possibly imagine I made made happen sounds amazing. I did. I just amazing things amazing things and also coming to cost because like what did I do to get all this bad things happen to me now? I don't do bad thing. I've never done anything bad in my life to get any bad. Karma I'm everything I've done is good karma. It's hard to think of it that way. Sorry, wanting to get back or give to or robbing Peter to pay Paul Robinhood sense or not. You were under an extreme amount of stress during the pandemic and you had to make some decisions that you didn't on to me and that that you want a bad spot that got you in a really dark spot. And you're still trying to get out of that. I don't think it's necessarily that you did something bad at some point. You just went through this really stressful time. But then why would all these like things come up with like that? It makes sense now like that? Is it just because your brain makes fills in the blanks and says well you did this because that and that just shows you like the steps of being like bipolar my whole life. Like all these like crazy things like makes sense. To me. Now why would he have done that? Why did he sense of grandeur? Why was he like five years old and had a picture a higher hot hot air balloon in his pocket and told the kids at school that it was his hot air balloon and the picture of the Mercedes was his car and that was none of those things were true. But I did make those come true. You had a hot air balloon. Why didn't I went over my house just like in the picture was in my house. It was the people I worked for but I still got to do it. Get the bird the Mercedes but we had plenty of other people so everything my brain is fuck me with in a way I've done because I proved myself because I told somebody I did it when I was younger. I had to like make sure like, I don't I don't know these. That's where it makes sense that that that's bipolar. I see where the kid the kid saying that this is your life have you always like build things up and make them better than they really are like me that's even a bad example. But why? Why do you think a kid would do that? Maybe you've been just suffering it from yourself, but you just think of a random five year old telling stories. To his friends. What do you think the motivation there would be? I don't know that he's like bragging but it's not bragging. That's like over bragging. I mean, it's like you're jumping like six or seven social. Like it's like being a normal kid at a elementary school like in comparing yourself to to a Menza kid that has like, no no, that's not even a good one. That's not just educational change but they know rich kid didn't grow up rich kid that would be a story that would impress a rich kid that wouldn't doesn't impress a poor kid a poor kid just think you're fucking crazy. If that makes sense yeah, something that they would think that was cool. Yeah at all have higher blue. Why would you want to be in a hunter blue man, he might not have realized that at the time. Actually be impressed. I was listening. I was reading Architectural Digest. It's six. I mean, that was that this brain that was someone else sounds like you're incredibly intelligent. I really I am what is it? My vision my it's in my paperwork from my was like that. Especially I have visual, visual visual. Photographic Memory. Whoa. But I see. I'm remembering. Remember? Really, but it's to my detriment because I see everything and I remember everything in pictures. Okay, see see everything has like every everything. But you don't find it helpful. It is helpful if you want to remember that jersey wear this color shirt on this day. Like if it was something that stood out like I've learned not to pay attention to things as deeply because then I'll just remember she's just too many things and it clogs my brain. Yeah. But that's a someone mean you talk about this conversation later in a year or six months. We can I can. I'll remember. Basic. I have to go to the next step to the remember the step because my short term memory is really really, really bad. It's just then, like I won't remember my keys. That's why I say I've said last sessions that the pitchers the taking the pitchers, I think helps me jog my memory of what that was that I was trying to know if it was there. I knew if I if I can't recall it. I call it a like a Hulu. It's hallucination if I can with my pet if I if I don't have a picture of it and I'm recalling it that means I don't that's not real. So I always had said I take a lot of pictures of things just to try to keep track know that this is real or not real. Yeah, that makes sense. Okay, well that's a goal understanding the hallucinations to have any other goals need to impact some trials and trauma? Okay. I think that's a good one too. I don't think we'll have you told me some things that were interesting to me but you have some skills and some things about that. I remember. Yes. My background is mostly as a trauma therapist actually. Some pretty scary shit that I went through. And I don't even know how much I do. Remember but considering I remember a lot of pitchers. I think if we did some kind of thing where you could pull things I think I need I wanted to get that stuff out of my mouth on my systems. Yeah, that makes sense. You kind of alluded to last time, some difficulties in our childhood, some domestic violence. Tell me more about your childhood. Sounds like you're raised by your mom. I was raised by my mom. My mom and me are 20 years apart. So we're not very far. Okay. We're very close. Then I was in closer to my grandma, who raised me till she passed away when I was 25 years. Old. 26 years old. Okay, she died very young. For that mom and dad divorced when I was seven. My father is my real dad. He's what's easiest way to call it. Trust Fund hillbilly. Oh, interesting combination. I grew up that's perfect. Grandparents on that side of the family. So you said is that the easy way Pinterest Do you think the best the better of everything. My mom grew up good normal, just skinny their background. So when we didn't the house, let me when I was born in 74. And then their parents between them. They bought the house and so mom had the house and the white picket fence. father who was a drug addict. Like drug addicts that have money or different drug addicts who said no. But it's still really tough on the family. So my these are stories that I've heard like my mom finally said I was overweight or my dad gave me ketamine on accident. I don't know how much trueness or not to back that story. But I know I was around a lot of a marijuana pot and I was born in Ohio was just created on during harvest and apart field and humble I mean I've been to harvest when I was a young guy seeing all that stuff in like Hells Angels stuff and the current drugs and how they cry. I mean, just like I've seen things like lots of things like yeah, I've seen not just the breakdown of something but bricks and bricks, marijuana and coke. Before it was being like ship didn't like things. So you grew up in Humboldt County, Fremont. My family My dad was kind of like the one that never got caught. Everyone went to jail. And my dad was not a person of interest because he's not he's was just kind of like, just, you know, low hanging fruit. Like no, he wasn't anybody. It was just funny the rich kid my my aunt, she was married to like the guys that was like, third and like Hells Angels guy is the guy that does that. Stuff. Very high up there. And yeah, I mean, she's not I mean, everything sad person died for son. There's just so many terrible things happened in my family Okay, we're back to what happened to me as a kid. I got sidetracked there. So yes, your parents got divorced when you were seven. And then after that you went to live with your grandmother. No, my mom. I was living with my mom but I spent a lot of time with my grandma. She lost her son to my uncle Buchi died in his 30s and I was the only boy so I kind of made up for help her. Like I was spoiled kid. I was really spoiled. My grandmother made sure I had everything I ever wanted and then even when I do something wrong, she wouldn't yell yell at me and make my mom not yell at me because and thereby is I could do nothing wrong. That was a good thing. Because that's just you can really hurt yourself like when you don't have since since since it's like I didn't right and wrong and all that stuff. I think I've hooked up to me because you were never given any limits. No Limits, but I was always praised because I was always praised. I think I learned how to get praised and I'd be working hard because I always worked hard. There's never been a problem. I never expected anything for nothing. My mom had a series of we were like moving you know we did this like my mom was wild. When she was younger, I mean, she we lived in lots of like it seemed like every six months or a year she would like we would we would have to move because she either ran out of money or we had too much money and we got to a better place I think like I really seven times in one year. We moved we didn't Oh wow. And then like one time she probably killed me but she's like young boyfriend. I mean, that's me. That's why I have a problem with liking young guys. Not young in the bathroom. Like just like my life like only like 25 years younger than not young like really young that way. Making very cool. Yeah. I got it so my mom got married. Again when I was like six set. My goal was seven divorce I think. So I was probably about eight. So really soon, maybe a year or two to two years later three here. Gotcha. guy called Charlie he had problems he got mad then I think he was drinker. He's the one that was I had all the the flashbacks and things about those things. My mom being beaten with a web running through the house. The house was like you know one of those houses like to the 80s They were so ugly some of the stuff they did with the houses and they were kind of maze like crime. Yeah, they was maze like and like they'd yell but the colors were like so bright like, like yellow shag carpet and black and white checkered walls and like, like glass all over the place. She was going to do that. I remember that. I think I blocked that. The witch thing and that's and this was like, probably a year she left. We were there and then he they from the story I'm told is they can soon as he tried to hit me. That's when my mom finally left. And he burned all of her stuff on the front of the house and just all kinds of weird stuff is just weird. Weird. Yeah. She also left mark the young guy before that she left mark that the young guy married Charlie and then he also met my father. The guy who called my father is my stepdad. Okay, he's the guy who raised me effectively from like from 13 years old. Maybe like somewhere maybe a little younger but Harry He's my dad. Okay, my stepfather and he's a good man. He changed her lives. He took the wild out Obama didn't drink alcohol for like 20 years. Didn't do anything. Like she was good. My mom good. My mom was good mom said that he did. Mom's a great mom today to grandma. She drinks too much but oh well. That's when you worked your whole life and you do whatever you do to help people in your good if you want to. You want to do that? Sopia not I can't judge. No, not my demons. I can't control my own. Yeah. So Harry just had a really positive effect on both of you. Yeah. You have his structure. gave me that structure. Like, like I I have to have it now. I know. That's because I was fucking bipolar. Then and I know. And without structure, I'm screwed. So what is the thought of Harry bring tears? To your eyes. This is dead AMISOM. I'm ashamed of me Yeah. When did he pass away? Four years ago now? 10 years 11 or 12 years. ago yeah yeah, things like that. You never really get over? No. Just like my grandma, she brings tears to my eyes and that was 30 years ago. Love now. You love them. You always will. bugging me structure. Like, maybe a mess when my mom died. But we're preparing myself. She thinks she's gonna die. She thinks she's dying every day. So another thing I have to deal with so what was school like for you? That was terrible. The school grade wise. But I was somehow managed to pass that was a sweet talker did the teachers they love me because I would bring them flowers. chocolate covered strawberries because I worked at a truffle factory when I was in high school I took too much food. Sugar when I get nervous. I'm feeling nervous. Right now. No, I'm telling you all things that I didn't unpack even with Abby. Do you need a break? We can always slow down if you want. Yeah, let's just change something for a minute. Okay. I think that's a good idea. Let's take a big deep breath See, you're talking about your doctor's appointments. Oh, yeah, they like change some. Like Abby got sick and then the people out here the new doctors they just canceled things and move things around. Nothing bad just changed my schedule. And it's like, yeah, that makes sense. So you've kind of alluded to having some medical issues in addition to your mental health struggles what's going on with your physical health? My when I was younger I had I did a dual compound fracture the tibia. So my right leg is like a is fused so that the ankles so like if your ankle goes like this normally you go up and down. Yeah, it goes like just like this and it stops there. Oh, so retrospect that happened in my tool they 20s Then no later years later, my like problems in the back because of that because I fake work really good. And so it's changed the gait of my like hips and like I make myself look like I'm walking normal, but because I'm always in pain. I've been in pain since that happened. That wasn't there because it's like walking on you think the how I explained actors. You trap your legs off, and you're on steps and you're just walking around on the gravel. That's what I'm sorry, I called the Frank that's just how it was. I told like that's my normal level. That's that's the baseline pain. That's normal. That's like very high, high high, high tolerance to pain. So that's when you take drugs you take too many drugs and you get too much alcohol because I my baseline was already screwed. Right? That makes you do anything you have to take more. That's why I think some of these like psych drugs they have Mayon are so high and they don't do anything because they were still not at the height of dosage yet. Yeah, yeah. I mean, they had me on like, like 600 milligrams on the Seroquel and when I was in the hospital, and then they backed me down to like 100 milligrams and it was like Jesus, this is really bad now it's kind of like it's almost worse than it was when I was in hospital. Then they win me back up to the big winners. You know, it just seems like this. But any cocktail for these things I know takes law can take years from what I've read. No one's really hasn't you can't take test and say Oh, this is the best thing for for this guy's brain that's doing this right. We're not quite there yet. Maybe someday. Yeah. Okay, so it sounds like you have a lot of chronic pain. I mean a lot of Yeah, chronic pain. Excuse me, my back you can be it's pretty much my back. My back just a lot of my like, ankles. They just stuck like, you know. They just stopped working. Yeah, and I saw I'm clumsy and I like lose my balance a lot. And it just depends on the time of day. In the morning. It's like my best activities I can do in the morning. But if I hit my ankle, they say getting into the shower then I didn't done for the day, at all times of the like oh then I'm gonna even like even on the cane even more than a trip on my cane any other practical issues, any other medical issues? Diabetes What else? Oh, hypertension. Okay. Hearing loss super super depth. Let me know forever names talk louder. Anything up? That's what I I didn't want to know how loud it is. Okay, definite day. I increase volume for most things. Okay. So you mentioned some substances Do you still like drink do drugs these days? I don't do any of those. But sex. Sex is a drug that's that there is it's when it's not with someone that you're when you're just randomly going out to do it. And going on Grindr. It's not super smart, but I tried to me I don't know why I'm doing it half the time because I wake up and then I'm, I've already been there done that. And that's when I have had done some drugs and stuff. I don't like to generally talk about the theory. Yes, I'm no angel. I'm not a chronic user. I don't like using them. But they have happened in my life. It's just they're not like the I pulled like all my histories from my all of my medical records like they let me and I went through every single AI thing helped me do it. I went through the last 10 years. And there's no collective history of any drug. Like, there's not enough even history to say that I'm even like a casual user within the medical records of what they have, and I go to the doctor a lot in the last four years, and they can't even say within the last four years. You have these things like in my I got really upset with Kaiser because they labeled me as a drug user and alcoholic. But they didn't have any substantial data to back it up. And so then I'm still in the process of them redacting all that stuff from my records because you can't you have to have proof to call me that. No, um, yeah, just say, I know, I know. It wasn't because I got popped for this problem. It's because I told them in my intakes I was, but I don't know. But then I'm also bipolar. And I'm this and that. I don't know if I was on a fucking story and they're just given them some kind of fucking what they wanted to hear. Yeah. And then it followed me for like years. Like, you know, I finally got the all these things and like, you know, it's like, but maybe that's also maybe that's weird to want to prove something like that. It's like, well, it does affect your medical care. Because it's like they didn't like to help me. All they said was you're an alcoholic. Yeah, you're an alcoholic. I said they'll dismiss you or have a drug or alcohol problem. So took me a long time to prove that I don't have an alcohol or drug problem. So I'm very scared of saying anything about either one of them because it goes into your record permanent record again, it's like I got drunk. It doesn't make me an alcoholic. I get that. I went out. I use some drugs. I think most of us have at some point. Yes. Most of them are legal. These days. Yeah, I get it. So yeah, I'm sorry that you experience that Miss labeling and stigma happens but whatever. Me things can be corrected. That's why I was like these will always can be better. If you do. Do your do your research. You can fix something. Just like if you want to be a different person, want to like live a better life. I don't believe that anyone who wants to be on the streets on the street. They want to be on the street if they're on the street. I'm sorry, I it's really I know that there's plenty of people that will tell me that I'm wrong. But if you don't want to be on that street you wouldn't be I agree with that. And I used to work with the homeless population and I talked to them and I'm every day I do when I went to work and I walked by and long in depth conversations with some of them for like, smoking a cigarette just because that's what you did. Thanks, guys. I could give him food because I was a chef. Yeah. I would even deal with the ones that would tell me they're gluten free for your fucking home. Listen you're gluten free. Fuck you. That's great. free always. And you're gonna be picky about your diet. You probably don't even have a celiacs San Francisco Yeah, love you live there. You live in the Bay Area. I live in San Francisco. Okay. Yeah, I worked in Selma before. I worked in the Google building right there on street nice street. Oh, cool. So you probably knows. Yeah. That yeah, yeah. I don't know what it's like now after a pandemic but right. They may have changed homes. Who knows? Right, right. I don't even know what homeless people did during the pandemic. disease they stay outside still. Yeah. We'll have some jam. Yeah. That will make me sad if I think about that. Yeah. Well, Quinton, we do have to start wrapping up. I didn't even notice. Sorry. No, you're all good. I just want to check in with you. Just quick. I noticed again that you marked off having some suicidal thoughts. Is that still like the passive, passive type? Yeah, I need to put that in there. They should have like a little spot to add things. So yeah, that's a cool idea. Actually. Like notes. Yeah. Yeah. Doesn't like throw the red flags that you guys because I'm sure it's like sets an alarm off on your thing. Oh, oh. Yeah. I just want to check in. How do you think we did today in this session? Yeah. I think I I didn't stutter is bad. So that's always a good sign. Because I cannot I can I can get to the point where I don't stutter and I'm almost pretty normal. Comfortable with somebody. Yeah. I really appreciate your vulnerability today talking about some of this really tough stuff. I could tell at times it wasn't easy. And sometimes it's easier to throw big things out. And beginning for me. My waters of how long we're gonna be able to navigate it in the future. When I when we circle back and we dig deeper on things, right. And if you know I ever ask a question that you're not comfortable with or even like today, if it's going to be too much, you can just tell me Kareena we have to pump the brakes here. And I'm good with that. I have to push push push myself. That's that's part of my mind. The other thing I have to have that push because I don't think they're good things good. Things will never get done if I'm not pushed as my mom would say. Okay, well, I hope you have a really good week. Keep taking care. of yourself. And I will see you next week. We'll be back at 3pm If that's okay with you on Yeah, that was when we Lastly, we said we might be able to change that to a G. That's my bipolar group. It's the same. Oh, great. It's up to you. I mean, I can still just figure it out. Maybe they can. Do you know No, no, I want you to be able to do that. Um, let me see can you by any chance do? Filling up my schedule here. So I mean it's fine for you get here What about could you do 11am on Wednesday? I can use I am on Wednesday. Yeah. Okay, that keeps it in the same birthday. The same timeframe? Like same day. No, not say, David. That's good. That works. Yeah. Sam like kind of first part of the week. Yeah. Okay. So Wednesdays at 11am Yes, I will move it and you should get like a new Google invite to look for. All right. Thank you. Awesome. All right. Bye. Have a good night. Going on.

Your survey results and see how you're doing this week. My internet's a little bit slow today, so okay, I apologize if there's any lag or anything. Okay, okay. So, so it looks like your depression is about thing where it's been. It's about the same, a little bit, I want to say worse, but the paranoid stuff is definitely present heavy right now, but it's like, it's like, seasonal. It was this way last year, like, worse during the summer, the end of the summer and your regular birthday, everything kind of comes to a point. I see, when is your birthday? It's the 25th the next month, okay? And then it goes like, I guess it just starts now, and isn't until the holidays are over. I think it's just like, it's just a lot of, yeah, what kind of meaning does your birthday hold for you? Doesn't really have any. I mean, I just, I always say I'm older than I am anyhow, so doesn't like it matter I see. I'd rather people tell me, Oh, you look good for your age. Then be so I was so I've been 50 already for a year or so. Okay, gotcha. So, Clinton, are you still open to working on a safety plan today? I know that you've done these in the past. Yeah, we can, we can talk about it. I mean, yeah, cool. So I'm gonna pull that up, then hopefully it won't be too slow for us. All right, so tell me a little bit about what some of your major triggers are that can cause intense emotional distress or increased suicidality. I've gotten better, but it's like, generally like, when I figure out I'm being like, taking advantage of Yeah, I have a problem with trust, because I trust really easily. Okay? And even when I know I'm being taken advantage of, I'll still do let it happen, thinking that sometimes, sometimes, some, sometimes that maybe it's me just being paranoid, thinking everyone's trying to do that to me. So I'll give it a try, I'll trust I'll give it like a try or whatever. And then if it fails, and it really ends up being like something scamming me or trying to take advantage of me, usually is. So now I'm kind of at that. I'm getting callous and like thinking everything is everyone is out to get you, but then that's not good either. Yeah, seems like just thinking about this makes you feel really sad. Yeah, it's like, why would they? Why would you just want to intentionally? Yeah, you have a really kind heart, and it seems like you're a very just like, passionate, hardworking person. So I could see yourself as you really pouring yourself into things, yeah, and realizing that's not being reciprocated, yeah, and I don't, I don't have money like, I used to have money, like, back, but then it was people taking advantage of me for my money, and now I'm pretty vocal and honest about things I'm not having money, and people still try to take advantage of you, and like before, I could afford to test the waters to see if they were taking advantage. Jimmy, okay, no, I don't have that candidate. Now, even if I test the waters, it hurts me, right, right? You don't have much to spare, yeah, and I've always lived on the theory they needed that bad. They might as well keep it like I'll figure it out, just really generous, and then that, you know, detrimental to me, but then I go without for some fool that I don't even know. I um, see where this is definitely really triggering for you. So then it puts me, spirals me into this, like, whatever. So like, let's just say, for instance, because this kind of thing happened recently. It happened recently, so I just go and I, for me, I hate a release if I go try to cook something, okay, so you'd say cooking is a coping skill for you. Yeah, that's the one thing that I still can do, almost, okay. Okay? Without I mean, too much. What kinds of things do you like just saying? I mean, I can cook anything. I mean, it's just I don't have any shame in my cooking. There's nothing bad. I think my cooking has never been corrupted. Yeah, it's a happy space. What's coming up for you right now? Emotionally, oh, just reminiscing about, how is it happy, how important it is to you. This is like, Fine, I'm not having success with my Kaiser appointments with the new, new psychiatry. I mean, it seems like they're changing the appointments on me, or they're like, they don't, they don't do this many follow ups, or they don't, they don't do any nothing. It's like there was one today, and I finally got there on time, at 830 in the morning, when she wanted me to be there, and then no one shows. And then I was where. And I wait and wait. And I know that for a fact, that with video conferencing, they know if someone's in a waiting room, and then you go back and check and see if someone even checked in into the waiting room. So you know if I was there, I was there. Don't send me this note. Well, we tried to get you. It's like I said, that I was in the waiting room. So is there 15 minutes before I waited 10 minutes after. It's like, frustrating. There's so there's so far and in few and in between. So you feel like you're not really getting the care that you need. It's not the cares me. It's just, I know that they don't give, I mean, obviously. I mean, wouldn't you give someone a call if they missed an appointment, like, to a certain extent? And you know, this is like a mental related it's not like me missing an appointment for a stubbed toe. I mean, just using automated responses from this kind I mean, I know when I've missed appointments before my unpleasant and they at least have someone called do a welfare check. Yeah, I just think it's weird and that so that kind of that got me going when I miss things. That's what I'm trying to say. When I miss things that I'm supposed to do that's really triggering for you, yeah, okay, they can spiral my Whole day. Yeah. Any other big triggers for you? I I'm getting into it with my mother, okay, and with my mom, it's she can get at me anytime she wants in my brain, as far as I'm concerned, because usually she's justified. It's time of day for me when she does it so she's had a couple glasses of wine. I don't like to engage in it. Yeah, no, that's not time, but that's when she most wants to but it. I know that I need to just breathe and take it, just go through the motions, because if you don't that little bit of fight could become something really horrible. Yeah, and then all that shall pass. I know that's too bad that you have to just put up with that, especially since it seems like it's related to her disinhibition on alcohol and just Yeah, but that's like she's worse her whole life, and she I but someone chooses to do, you can't be in control of you. Can't say that. That's why that they got mad at you. Because, I mean, anytime you get mad at somebody, when you when you truly love somebody, it's because they're getting mad at you because they do love you. And there is something you've done most of the time, so there's nothing that she's ever yelling at me that isn't isn't true. It's just, I mean, it's just when I what was best for me to be able to unders, to to understand what I did. I like this to be more calmer. Have you tried asking her a different one? We talk about it and just we have to talk about it when it's the right time, too. You can't do it when it's in the midst of it. Yeah, very true. We've worked on, like, trigger words for ourselves, like to say that this is too much, like, this is too much. I can't I'm not. I'm not. This is not gonna go to try to break into her own side. She knows this is, like, maybe we need to talk to her about that a little more again, something that can, like, a trigger, because, like, trigger her to not go where she's going. Yeah, because, I mean, this is the for this. These little sparkles have gotten much better over the time. Plus, I've been probably a better, better kid, better son, yeah, yeah, you could even just ask to have the conversations earlier in the day. Does she like drink in the evening? Yeah, because it's, it's not, it's she's not gonna have that conversation at that time. I don't think let me see, because she it's like me, she takes a lot. And I like bringing up things just to bring up things, you know, like confrontation, yeah, yeah, it's tricky. So, um, any other my sister, my sister can trigger me? Yeah? Anyone who challenges me, I guess, in a negative way, yeah, when I think I'm doing it right, yeah, or I know I'm doing it right. And then I also had to think of myself. Is it my, my brain talking? It's always good to Yeah, try to look at the big picture and see the part that you might be playing in it, try to be as objective as possible, yeah, and that's where therapy can also help just talk through these things. All right, so it sounds like cooking is an amazing coping skill for you. Yeah? Anything else that really helps make you feel more calm, more hopeful, caring for someone else, caring for someone else, that's great. Yeah, my bag of tricks like that little it has, like the hand cream I like, and chopstick and goofy things, okay, crystals that I like to play with, things. You call that your bag of tricks, yes, just, that's what babby called it. It's a weird little. Okay, that's a bag. Yeah, I like that. Just to wear a lot of goofy hats when I was just got out of the hospital, make me look goofy so I didn't have to show me himself being sad, and then I'm trying to get back into my art drawing again, sketching. How's that going? No, it's not going. It's still. I got the pin. I got my art supplies out. Okay? I got that far. Nice, still working on a couple of spaces in the house. Yeah, got a new mirror. Nice. Is there any particular like things that you tend to draw. Like, do you do more landscapes or portraits or, Oh, most of the time they're circular shapes, like Madonna, like, yeah, yes, kind of abstract stuff, yeah, yeah. That can be really calming. Where are you feeling right now? I was just looking at one of the pieces I make. Um, it's like my brain, I basically, it's like they go so many different places, and they're always like layers, because I worked in mixed media, I don't use just just ink, be ink and pastels and play and whatever else. I decided to make it with really cool. Does looking at that picture? What does it remind you of, that I can be calmer. I can take time to do things I have to rush. Yeah, there's some hope here. Yeah. All right, let's look at the next part here. So who are some trusted and supportive people that you can go to when you're in really deep emotional distress, my mom and Julie and my mom and Julie right now, I don't have a circle of people. Okay, you met is Julie? Your sister? No, Julie is my good girlfriend from like childhood. Oh, okay, nice. Yeah, I've known Julie and then Marsha. Most like Marsha, I've known the longest, but Marsha's getting older, and, yeah, she was my fifth and sixth grade teacher. Oh, wow, yeah, so I mean, I've known Marcia 40 years. Wow. That's pretty cool that you've stayed in touch two years older than she's, like, four years older than my mom. Well, yeah, so Julie is close to my age. She's 53 but I went to work for her when I was 18, okay, at the bar she worked at. I didn't tell anyone I wasn't 21 Oh, okay, so I was a bouncer there when I was 19, wow, I bet you saw some drama. Oh no, I was a really good bouncer, because I knew all the high school kids that were going in there. But, oh yeah, no one could, no one ever that was that kid that everyone, no one knew, but I knew everyone. Oh, I see just, you just, I don't know, because I didn't go to high school in my hometown. Oh, I went to, I went to Monta Vista up in Danville. Okay, I lived in Livermore because they had a culinary program in Monta Vista. So I transferred out and I saw. More year, okay, like a culinary program in high school. Yeah, that's pretty neat, yeah, yeah, okay, I've always cooked that basically, yeah, seems like. How about anybody in your bipolar support group? Are you like, close with anyone there or no, I'm still having problems with that one. I'm getting there. It's virtual. Leanness is so hard sometimes I agree, yeah, especially in a support group, yeah, because I don't like type well to like. And that's how everyone knows people is that the DMS and stuff, I'm not like a good person at that, right? And you have to be so quick sometimes to like. By the time I get it actually a sentence out, everyone's already onto another topic. Yeah, have you thought about finding like an in person? One is that something would be interesting about it, but I haven't gotten there yet. Okay. I mean, I just need my life to be a little calmer. I think my next thing is, I want to try to do a class here at the, at the, you know, I live kind of in a country club, s kind of community, yeah, and there's, like, classes and stuff like the club, yeah, even if it is just a bunch of old ladies at a clay class, playing, making sculpture, it'll be something for me to make new friends. Yeah, they are like, 20 years my senior, right? And you never know too. You never know, yeah, yeah, that would be really cool. Okay. Well, if you ever feel like you want help searching for a support group, I'm part of, like, a big list serve, so I would be happy to put that out there too. If you want to, yeah, I'll take, yeah, yeah. I'll make a note of that. Or even, like, I don't know if this would be helpful for me, but do they have, like, big brother, like the little Yeah? Like, I know there's like, okay, so I think I told you, I used to work at an agency in San Francisco, and one of our programs, it was called a clubhouse. I'm not sure if you're familiar with that model. Okay, so like, these mental health clubhouses, typically, they're open, like, most days a week, and there's like groups and but then there's also just hanging out, like, there's an area to just like, watch TV, read books, there's like a kitchen, so you can cook there. So it's like, kind of, yeah, it's like a community for people. Is there anything like that in the Sacramento area? I'm not sure. But again, I could put out on my listserv and see if anyone knows any of those resources interesting. I like kind of, that's kind of things very, yeah, that's very in the now, okay, now, right, right. It's a good way. You know, people loved it, yeah, that's the weird connection, yeah, yeah, okay, so you'd be interested in, like, a clubhouse model type thing, too nice. Okay, let's see what the next part on this safety plan is. So there's the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, 988, have you ever called them before? No, but I do have those numbers. I have a list, and I have some some phone numbers pertinent to this area here. Anything that got me so scared was like, if I do get like, needed my mental they don't even have mental hospitals in this, in their area, in this, in their loop out here, they farm it all out. Oh, really. So that was, like really distraughting to me that they don't even have one in there in this area. I mean, they could put everything out into, like local hospitals. I don't know how I mean, I mean, but they, when they mean to that, I mean, if Kaiser, Kaiser is a big, pretty big organization, but I mean, realistically, they are farming all their stuff to you guys too. So, I mean, what's, what's really the difference if they're farming out the mental I mean, I just don't, I don't know where they farm it out to. Do? He's like, Yeah, I do know. Like, when I was in the hospital a couple of times, a couple years ago, I lose, I don't get Abby, I don't get Dr Greenwood. I get whoever's in the mental hospital, right? They don't get to you, don't get to you see your outside therapists inside the hospital. It's kind of like separate, yeah. So, I mean, I guess, I guess maybe it's really no different, if I think of it that way, it's just an unknown. I feel like you would at least like to know, like, where the hospital is that you would be going to maybe that's what it is. Yeah, yeah. The process. It's probably just being too nosy, and I shouldn't want to know what the hospital is like. That's probably not smart. Just that's that's making myself know that I'm going back, because I know I pitter Potter like all the time, knowing that that was such as this safe place. Tell me more about that. Clinton, like what led up to you going to the hospital? I know you said there was some psychosis involved. I wanted to be really bad. I was doing some things that were really mean. From what I was told, like I was drinking heavy, heavy, heavy, heavy, like, to the point where I know that they said that I was finishing off like a fifth of bottles before I would even go to work and get ready to I was trying to go with the courage to go off the overpass. Things were just spiraling, yeah, really dark time for you, yeah. And honestly, I haven't even unpacked any of that in my brain yet. Either we haven't gotten there. Yeah, down for that, but I don't know if we can do that. Maybe, do you only do virtuals? If I went to the Bay Area, yeah, I only do virtually no, no, no. I was just, it was just question. I was not, yeah, yeah. So I just don't know how to unpack that stuff over virtually no, yeah, it's, it's a little tricky. There's like, a distance piece, yeah, it's not so you were in a really dark place, and how did you end up getting to the hospital? Did you check yourself in? Or did someone I couldn't get out of the bathroom, and Andrew called the hospital, or called my mother and my mother called 911 911, took me hospital. You know, the ambulance. They never did. They just didn't let me out. Oh, they, um, no, they, they committed me. Okay, why couldn't you get out of the bathroom? Probably because I was gonna kill myself. Yeah, yeah. So. You were committed to the hospital. Yeah, and what was that like for you? What was it like there? Hold on one second. Yes. Okay, I just want him to know there's a car here. Okay, sorry, you're all good. Hospital. What was I? Where were we at? Oh, I was just asking what your experience of the hospital was like. I I like the hospital. It was its structure, yeah, I let my guard down. Folks. Safe, there. Felt safe. I heard, felt heard, mm hmm, validated that some of these things in my life that I've always thought were i. Just me being different or actually true. You can see things and you can hear things, and you can process things differently, huh? Yeah, yeah, and there was people that were worse than me, ah, so I could be thankful, yeah. Just realize you're not alone in that Yeah. So it sounds like you're still trying to find some of that structure in your day to day life. Oh, yeah, I don't think I always search for that. I mean, I don't know if I'll ever be able to manage it, but you know, work in progress. Yeah, tell me more about what your daily schedule looks like. It depends on the day, but I was usually still wake wake up fairly early, about seven, okay, eight, and depends on what it is that we're doing. I mean, I can go out in the garden for a little while and go out. I take time for myself in the morning, a little late, my time. Then breakfast, I eat my yogurt and get ready for the day, figure out what's going on, check my calendar. Yeah, sometimes my calendar doesn't have enough things, and that's when I get lost. Okay? Like you don't know what to do with your time, yeah, so, but there's always something to do. I mean, you should, should always be something to do. Yeah, I really like that. You still wake up early, a really important thing for like treating bipolar disorder from managing it is developing a daily schedule, a daily my schedule. I don't have a schedule the way she should. Should be. It needs to be much more strict. My sleeping schedule is terrible. Um, force myself to sleep. You what? I won't force myself to sleep. I'll take my medications, I'll do everything I'm supposed to do there, but I'm not going to lay there in bed and just lay there in bed. All right, No, you shouldn't. If my brain makes me stay up, I'll be up till whenever my brain tells me to stay up. Uh huh. Really important thing for regulating sleep schedules is just getting up at the same time each day, because that will really start to train your body and build up because we have, like, this drive for sleep. So if you like, say, sleep in until I am one day, then you're not going to want to go to sleep until I don't know. I'm just making up numbers like 2am right? So if you really just wake up at the same time each day, it'll help your sleep drive. If I go to bed at four o'clock in the morning, I'll still wake up at seven. Okay, okay, yeah. Do you take naps during the day? Then I get to that's when I get my nodding problem. Okay? Okay, gotcha, yeah, my mom hates that one chair. I have a one chair just, I can fall asleep in that chair no matter when I do my day is just, I think the chair triggers me, makes you sleepy, yeah, yeah, yeah, that could also make it harder to fall asleep then at night. Yeah, that's and even if I force myself, self, self, awake, yeah, it's tricky. It's a little. Pattern to it. I mean, like me and Abby talked about it before, and I guess, like, three, four days of me doing my thing, and then I crash really hard, and then I go back to this, like, weird little dancing with the schedule. It's like my body knows how much sleep I don't need, and I just it like, just teeter totters right there, and then it says you need sleep. So then when you crash for a few days, what does that look like? No, I just like sleep for like a good solid eight Okay, gotcha. I mean, by crash, that's like I get like a real I get a normal person's amount of sleep instead of three and a half hours or four hours, I get, like a solid eight, okay, without getting up a million times and deciding To paint the Eiffel Tower in the meantime. Yeah, well, sometimes if you are tossing and turning, it can be good to get out of bed, because if you toss and turn too much, you start to associate your bed with a feeling of frustration. Really, you want to associate your bed with feelings of sleepiness and calm. That's why I switch sides on my bed. Yes, that's a good idea, too. I have one side that I sit on, and then one side I'll sleep on, and then I'll change it up. Okay, nice. And I also like that you get outside in the morning. That can be really helpful for sleep, too. Just getting that sunshine, yeah, the sun triggers you. That's why you don't get you don't get that jet lag. If you get somebody placed and you can lay in the sun for 30 minutes, right when you get there, you won't get jet lag. Ah, I used to do a lot of travel, yeah, yeah, going to Australia, if it's fuck your brain up. Oh yeah. But it was always coming home for me that I had the hardest time. Who's the reverse jet lag? Yeah, you're not having the excitement of the trip then too to like, help motivate you. Yeah, so what? Oh no, our time's almost up already. Oh yeah, couple more minutes. So do you tend to eat your meals at the same time each day for the most part. Okay? I mean, breakfast is most consistent, okay? Dinner. So I don't, we don't, I don't really eat if I'm not hungry for dinner, because lunch is my main my bigger meal. If I do a big meal, this would be lunch, okay, yeah, yeah, I try to eat like three, four times a day with some snow. You eat. I mean, I'm fat. I eat. No problems with food that can be a helpful thing too, just like eating at regular times, you know, with your as long as I have my juice and my snacks, I like snacks, yeah, cheese and granola bars and olives and stuff. I think, yeah, great stuff. Yeah. I mean, yeah. I grew up in the land of micro kitchens, the fancy ones. I don't know how fancy the companies you were working for, but our micro kitchens at Google had the best things on earth in them. Oh, yeah. I'm not even familiar with micro kitchens, where, what's that? Think of little, mini, tiny, high end seven elevens on every floor that you could walk up and grab a snack. Wow, and they had baristas in some of them crudites, handmade like cleaned vegetables with hummus and baba ghanoush and like, like peppered spread and little things and olives and like, feta, you didn't have those thing? No, no. I mean, I've eaten those foods, but none of the places I've worked have had, like, snacks like that. We always had, like the Greek yogurts and, like, the, yeah, all those things or anything, hard boiled eggs peeled for you. That's amazing. That was just, that was, that's how we kind bars. I. Yeah, I don't know stuff like, not cheap stuff like the best, like the best of Whole Foods, snack vine, yeah, everything was all locally sourced or made by me or my team I ran. I made the foods for those kitchens. So, gosh, yeah. So it was part of your job to keep them stocked. Yeah? That was another team. My team was the team that made the snacks. Okay, yeah, so, yeah, you used to eat in that kind of clean, good food. So, uh huh, yeah, and then it's free. Like, that's crazy. Everything I think is still free. Yeah, from what Google's food program is, like, very special, because, like, our answer date, and they decided they wanted to do that you really can retain employee employee retention really good. If you provide food, provide food. That's better food than other people's free food. Yeah, you might just keep them right because of the food. Yeah, that's huge. Like, you save so much time in your day if you don't have to worry about cooking and shopping and yeah, it's just there for you. That's why we had cooking kitchens and we taught Googlers how to cook. Because if you went from school to school, they were they fed you to fed you. Some of them never learned how to cook. Oh, that's cool that you did that we started teaching people how to cook the workplace. Okay, huh? Did you enjoy teaching? I've always this is what a chef is. I mean, if you don't, the definition of a chef is to teach. Oh, really, so, yeah, just to cook because you're having to, like, teach your team and stuff to teach you have to be able to teach you're not you have to be able to give what you get. Giving given. Um, I see anyone can cook you, but to be a chef, you have to be able to teach, and that's what I don't think I can do the same anymore. I can't handle the tea. I can't handle the I can't give what I used to be able to give. I need to hold that for me. I need to be able to I need to take my energy for myself through my day to day life. I can't give everything I have anymore. I don't have it to give, right? You can't keep just like pouring yourself out into other people. Yeah, all it was doing is all my energy was going to other people, and knowing my energy was going to Clinton, to making Clinton better. Now it's taking all my energy just to stay here. Yeah, stay here, yeah, being present in the future here, like being in the moment. Yeah? Yeah. Well, thanks for working on the safety plan with me today. Would you like me to email you a copy of it? Sure? Okay, I'll get it kind of cleaned up from just like the notes I typed while we were talking and email it to you. Let me make sure I have your emails. It's easy, okay, Clinton, fernandez.com, okay, yeah, I've got that on file. So yeah, not to remember, yeah. So what was this session like for you today? How did we do it was pretty light. I needed a light day. Sounds like it's fun. Have a tough week for you. Yeah? So sometimes it's good not to dig too deep during those tough weeks. Yeah, yeah. Okay. What are your plans for the rest of the day? I need to go turn the water off that's been running in front of the house. Oh, my God, I'm trying to dig holes in the ground, but the sound is round. Is too hard. I. So I figured I would water the ground to get it, but then the neighbor came by right and told me that you have to use jackhammer so it doesn't matter how much water I put I hit bedrock. What are you trying to dig holes for? Because the homeowners association said we weren't in compliance with the amount of green space that we had in the fronts of the house, so I have to add some greenery. Oh, interesting. So I thought it would be a grand idea if I did it myself, but then I probably bit off more than I could chew. Yeah. Oh, who knew that you would need to hook a shack hammer to plant some bushes? So that goes say, yeah, yeah, turn off the water. No, okay, yeah, we'll take some time to take care of yourself today. Maybe do some of that cooking or drawing, yeah, and then we'll talk next week, same time, place, yeah, sounds like a plan. All right, all right, bye, Clinton, bye.

Okay. Hi, hi Clinton. How's it going today? I'm okay. How are you I'm feeling pretty good. Are you feeling better this week? Yes and no, okay, say more. There was a little episode going on in the midst of the US last week. For me, yeah. It's still, I think I've been manic for a minute, and I kind of come to grips with it. I was that I was and trying to sort things out and get it back to where I need to be back to. I think I was, I don't know how long I was on, I was there, but I was out there for a minute. I can't tell if it was one week or two weeks or it was a month, but there was a lot of things gone wrong. What kinds of things just I could tell that things that I was doing, things successively. I went back and looked at credit cards and I looked at things that I wouldn't normally access. Dash, yes, you said you put too much, like, charges on your charges. And I just, like, think I just noticed they've done some stupid things. You know? Yeah, risky things. I know when I get risky and I don't know I'm being risky, the risk when I see the risks were taken, you see the evidence later on? Yeah, so that's how generally figure it out. It's not I don't know when it's happening. I don't pay them. I'm not that smart yet to know that it's started or starting or because sometimes I just think they're all hallucinations. Yeah, so it's hard to know what's real and what's not, yeah. And as you said, what was the Crips of it was, I ended up ordering like five different scanners to check the vehicle for bugs. And that was kind of my tail that is almost up because I know I'm always think I'm being followed. I get that, but I don't usually go all FBI on it and order forensic quality bug sniffers. They're very hard to use. Finally, have only one more to return. They spent a couple $1,000 on them because I couldn't know how to use it, so I just kept on buying a better one, thinking, the better you buy, the easier it'll get. That wasn't necessarily the case. So that must have been so frustrating for you, yeah, but I think there is a bug on the car still, I just so listening to you, listening or following is following and like, no tracking everything. It's like, I don't know, then it's probably my brain, because I track everything else. It's probably me. This my brain saying, fuck you. I Oh, I track everything because I don't trust myself. How do you track things, everything, using my AI, my banks, my watch, my I'm probably the only person on earth that loves that Google tells you exactly where you're at at all times. Most people turn off all those features because they don't want to be tracked. Yeah, and I have every single tracker available on Google and multiple different, multiple devices, so I in case one's not with me. So you suspect there is a bug in the car, but it's something that you put there at some point I put it. Probably did it myself. Maybe it's a good possibility. So I've had that happen before, where I was the culprit in my own, my own, like pageant or whatever it is, whatever my brain decided to do to me that that time, yeah, but you Can't remember putting a bug in your car? No and if there is a bug in your car, what does that mean for you? Just need to find it and figure out what it is like if it's trans I learned a lot about bugs. I'm fully vested in them now so. But, I mean, it was so sad. I was sitting there at Kaiser, I was on top of that. I thought I was getting I thought I was infected by somebody like, someone like, purposely tried to get me sick, and so I went and got every test known to man done, and there was nothing okay. So I'm already on PrEP, and I'm already on, like, I'm pretty safe with that stuff. I think, even though then I think I don't remember, maybe I'm not safe. So you thought you had, like, a wick sexually transmitted Yeah, so I went and got tested, yeah, and got on doxycycline, and which is something I never wanted to really get on you. That's just bad for you. What's that? It's some high powered antibiotics you take after you think you might have gotten exposed. You have preventative and post. It's like the after prevent it. It's basically like a, those, what is that? Like a, girls, guys, like the pregnancy one, oh, Plan B, yeah. It's kind of like that. But for like, gonorrhea, I see. Okay, yeah, gotcha. So it just sounds like a really disorienting time. Yeah, I think it's like my birthday, and I know that it's last year it was this way, and the year before, every year there's crazy, crazy things that just happened. When is your birthday? The 25th Okay, so four days from now, and then they mellows out, hopefully by Thanksgiving, and then it all wickedly comes back for Christmas. And then I usually have a couple nice months in January and February. Why do you think your birthday is such a trigger for you? Why do you think it's the birthday? I think it's the time of year. It's a gear up for holidays and school and having to be around people again. Mm, and then, like, this year is gonna be so different, because we moved here, and then my mom rented a cabin, and it's like, now I'm gonna be forced to be in Lake Tahoe with my my family for your birthday. No for Christmas, seven days. Who does that? Who goes to a cabin for seven days through Christmas? Yeah, so how are you going to spend your birthday? I've been putting things and investing things into the garage like that's what all I wanted, was things for the garage to make it better space for me to tinker around and do things, because I need a little workspace, and that was the space. So my mom kind of let me blow a few bucks on making that real nice. That's all I really wanted. I didn't want, like, seven I buy whatever I want, or I've gotten whatever I want in life already. What are you gonna do? I'm not like 12 anymore. I mean, you're an adult. When you want something, you buy it. Like, wait, maybe, maybe more, maybe real regular people wait, but I don't know. How are you going to celebrate that? Will you and your mom like she was cooking something up with noodles? My mom's friend? Okay, I don't really want to. I'm not a celebrator. It's just another day, whatever. Yeah, if you want to go send some money, let's go. We go fancy our dinner. That's okay. Not gonna complain about that. But, and then I don't even know, like, who restaurants out here? Yeah, I mean, I know, like, streamline, cool, like El porfino and like Brazilian steakhouse. So those kind of things I don't know. Like, where that cool restaurant is? That really special kind of restaurant, I don't know those places yet. Kind of good Mexican restaurant, though. Okay, that's nice, yeah, my friend mama, Arsha. She's like my friend that I've known the longest in my life. She came up this past weekend and stayed with us on Sunday. Okay, yeah, to a Mexican restaurant and had a mojet Mohit here, those stone bowls. Oh, all the different meats and cheese. It was good, nice, nice and a huge, I like much a lot of because it's like alcohol, but without the alcohol kind of I would consider it really a drink, because it's mostly tomato juice. I had one of those nice What was it like seeing your friends? Good to see Marsha. I mean, she's, I love her, but she's getting so she's getting She's five years older than my mom, so because she was my sixth grade school teacher, fifth and sixth grade, but we've saved friends our whole life, my whole life. Wow, so that's amazing. It's like I babysat her to be her son little boy, and he's now a doctor in Fremont, crazy. I mean, like, really, like his own practice, and it's like, yeah, here's the wife is diapers. Oh, yikes. That's crazy to think about. Yeah. So Clinton, so it sounds like you've had a manic episode. I'm wondering how you're feeling about your psych meds right now. Do you think they're helping? I'm not having success getting an appointment Well, with this new one, and it might be my body, my mind might be not letting me get an appointment with them very easily. I've noticed, I've noticed some things, like when I was manic, that I was probably making myself not get the appointment because I don't like the Roseville people. Okay, I'm blocking myself somehow, and I've come to that conclusion, and I need to talk to Abby about it and tell her, like I want to see if they'll let me keep Abby and Dr Greenwood, if I say I'll leave seasonally in print in the Bay Area, like, because they still own a house there. So it's not like they can say I can't I can change my address six months out of the year, if you let me have my doctors that I can handle, and I don't know if they'll let me do this, I'm gonna pitch it to the doctors and see if They will let me okay, because I don't know the idea is that mental health, they said they needed to be local to where you're at. But what's the difference? If I go mental they ship me out. They don't have any, they don't have any they don't have hospital. So what's the difference? And they want everything virtual. So this says to me, it's not the don't give me an appointment, but every three weeks. I mean, come on, that's not helping my brain. That's putting me back on the shelf, like they'll put me got me so fucked up the first time. So I thought you had your last session with Abby. I did, but she let me go. She knows I'm struggling. She let me feed. Worked out a deal. She let me just go monthly. Okay, gotcha. So you're checking in with her mom. Check in, that's exactly what it's called a check in. We're calling it therapy. Don't want to get the other therapist upset I see. So what is that like for you? I'm so happy, I mean, because, I mean, that's like, I mean, I get you during the week, and then I have Abby, like, once a month, and like, that helps me a lot. That gives me this, like, sense of confidence that I'm not losing everything that I've worked for, and I can feel comfortable with telling you that I'm had an episode and like, I call this lady and tell her, Hey, I had an episode. And she she'll say, Well, if you book an appointment in three weeks, we'll talk about it. What the fuck? Really, it's not very helpful. I know, I know if I was in, if it was got any worse than it was last week, I could have made an emergency phone call to the Kaiser free Livermore and put a message on Abby's special voicemail that she calls back immediately within, pretty quickly, if you leave a message on that, that much, that one, she gets back to you no matter what, even if she's on vacation, she's called me so, oh, sorry, go ahead. Oh no, it's okay. I'm probably just over explaining my theory on this. No, it's all good. So are you still taking your medications right now, or I'm back on them? From what I can tell, 100% I was I wasn't not taking them, but I think I was picking, choosing what I wanted to take. If that makes sense, yeah, which ones do you feel like you were taking? I know it's just I don't like taking. I take the psych meds. Those don't bother me. It's all the other shit that they have me on that I don't take. Okay, so you've been taking your psych meds pretty consistently. The psych meds I don't I like, I need the psych meds from like I get. I don't like the hallucinations when I'm not on them. So you don't like to what the hallucinations are really, really ramp up. They're already ramping up, as it is with the meds. But and I just don't like them when they're I don't like this. This too much. Okay, so you still have enough of those and you're taking it. Yeah, that's good. So let's talk about, have you met with the Roseville psychiatrist? Or No? No, okay, therapists, yes, not psychiatrists, because they canceled my appointment twice, because they kept seeing that there was another psychiatrist, so because they haven't, like, let me go completely from Pleasanton I see so they keep canceling you, yeah, but they have you seeing a therapist over there too, where, yeah, They seeing a therapist once, some once a month, every three in Roseville, but it's virtual. Okay, gotcha. So I'm surprised they're letting you see me and a therapist over there. I don't know. Yeah, I know I hear him. I'm a medical takes care of all this, so I know that when someone pays bills, they don't probably question, yeah, yeah. Well, um, Clinton, I would love to get in touch with some of your other therapists, just to so that we can all get on the same page here. Mission, yeah, did my psychiatrist ever get reached out back out to you? No, nobody has reached out to me and I don't have their contact information. That is weird, that they set you up with me, and then no one gets you. Yeah, I'm kind of all alone, kind of in the dark. That's weird. Any contact information for Abby? Let me see if I give you Abby phone number and then you just call her. Okay, that might be the easiest way for Abby. If

Yes, I I was last week, jeez, Okay, how are you? Yeah, did they? Did you? Are you? Did you want to move past me because I got a note from my provider saying that you weren't didn't want to have me anymore. Yeah, I'm sorry that came through before we had an opportunity to talk. I did consult with my clinical manager here at two chairs, and we just decided that we think you could use a higher level of care right now, so like an intensive outpatient program. So they're going to reach out to Kaiser and see if that would be available for you. They did, but that's a really terrible way to I mean, that's one of my biggest triggers, being abandoned, like dropped, just the way that was all brought about is just kind of sad. But okay, yeah, I really apologize for that. I was told that it would take would take them a couple of days to process that, so I should do it the beginning of the week, but then it took them a lot less time. So I really do apologize. It was my first time like doing this process through two chairs. So I thought we were kind of getting so somewhere that's my okay. Did I do anything wrong? You definitely didn't do anything wrong, Clinton, I just think you have been going through a really hard time, and I don't feel like I can support you from a distance with all that's going on with you. Okay, um, and I definitely want to keep talking with you until you're started in another program. I don't want to just like, leave you, like that, um, but I do think you could use some extra support, just with all that you've been going through, yeah, okay, it's also just really hard for me because I'm not able to communicate with your other providers, right, like with Kaiser. No, I absolutely I understand that, and that was hard. I mean, it was embarrassing that it took them that long for you to get them ahold of you. Yeah, that's not your fault. But of course, it could be good if, like, you had a team that was able to, like, easily communicate with each other, and they were all in the same system, even if they're on the same system. This, this, this place is retarded. Kaiser, I mean, think about it with how they told me this, and they didn't even tell me in person. It was in a text message. Your primary provider is counseling you because they can't. I mean, I'll read it to you. It was just, just like, really. I mean, this guy can't get a break. You've really been going through it. I'm almost ready to just move back to the Bay Area, back back to the Bay Area, the Bay Area, just to get the good care that you were getting there. Don't you get at least care? I mean, I understand that. I'm not. I don't like the people there, and it's really hard for me when I don't like somebody to because I don't they rub me the wrong way. And that guy's, I don't know if I can back out of that, that the Kimberly lady. I don't know if I can handle that person ever after all this now it's just not Fair. I mean, it's just ridiculous. Yeah, I mean, here, hi, I received a message from two chairs that you have been having some increased bipolar symptoms. What the fuck is a bipolar symptom? Number one, that's a weird sorry for swearing and services right now, so I am reaching out to you to see what I can do to help you figure it out. I know you missed our appointment last week, but we did. But then I talked to her 20 minutes after that, she didn't forget to write that there was it. My had no voice, and she's like, says she's calling me out on that for not making that appointment. But I did make the appointment, I just couldn't talk. I let my message on the voicemail. Yes, I did, and I did exactly what I did. She reached out any as you know, we'll be seeing her later this week. So she called up, but she called the finally, got Ali. Was asked her in the very beginning, was to talk to Abby, and now she's willing to talk to Abby. And so she has she talked to Abby, because Abby called me yesterday and thinking there was something really, really, really wrong. Tell me sure that as treatment goes her way, and then, then it says, Then it goes on to the piece where it says that, basically, you guys just quit me, which is not bad, man. I understand your point of view, and I'm not this. If you had the the support from Kaiser, it might have been difference in different scenario, but it already got too past and like, you don't want to see me get get hurt because, like, you don't want to be part of the negligence on that concern about you the past couple of weeks. And I knew I was, I mean, I thought we figured that out, and I told you, I minute. So where are you today? Clinton, looks like you're in A car somewhere. I So have they given you any idea yet of which program they might put you in now? No, they might like this you in now, not yet. They've not said anything, and those calls just started yesterday. Okay, so just one second. Okay? Challenge. Sorry. They know I'm driving by myself, so they're being cautious. Who's that? My mom. So, all right, I'm done well. I hope that the program they find does have a good group of people, because I think that does make a big difference, like who you're going through it with, but I understand they don't do IOPS here in person. They're hybrids, from what I've heard, because I asked about that. When I first got it came to town, they told me, I've already been through it three times. They started with it partially online, yeah, okay. Gosh, it is what it is, you know, I'll get through this. Well. I still would have recommended a higher level of care. And then that would depend on, you know, if you had health insurance, then I believe the care coordination team, yeah, would have still reached out to your health insurance. Or if you want to private pay, they would help you find, like a private pay IOP. But hopefully this will just be at least a way for you to get in and see a psychiatrist and get your meds looked at, because from what you were telling me last week, it seems like it just, it's not a great regimen for you right now. The medications have never been great. They just stop the hallucinations, but it doesn't do me any good if they It's okay. I'll get through that. I'm just throwing my own little freak out, right? Yeah, no, and that's okay. This is a change. I just want to get home, yeah, yeah. This is a change, and it's certainly not the way I would have liked it. Yeah, I have been told to you either it's just par for the course, you know, but it is what it is. Are you starting to drive it's gonna be I'm okay, hundreds of 1000s of business calls upon strike. Yeah, it's just we have to still be in like that one location right, pull back over and to kill two birds with one stone, yeah, that makes sense. I don't have much more time. I did the survey already for you, so that's great. Thank you. What did you notice this week as you filled it out? Not much same. I mean, I don't think it was any much, that much different than before. Okay, so you're still feeling pretty depressed and pretty anxious, anxious. Yeah, it's just how it is. So it'll be fine. I so you're going back home today and like, what are your plans for the rest of the week? I used to presume it's figuring out what they're going to do with me medically. So, yeah, that's going to be your main focus. I mean, it's just, it's just, it's very frustrating. Yeah, I can see where you would have a lot of anger. Oh, it's not anger. I'm not angry. That's everyone's business. I mean, it's, everyone's just trying to do their job. It's, it's just corporate stuff that make these things happen. It's not any one person individually that makes it difficult to give someone mental health Kaiser doesn't score like shit because one person it scores because of a management of people that give them the tools to make things happen. And what tools? Whatever those tools are, if they're shitty tools, they're shitty tools. Would you ever consider leaving Kaiser for a different health plan? I don't know how, with my medical I'm in the middle of my social security thing, I can't just pick up and go any place where I want to go, if I go I don't have no money. I haven't worked in for three years. Yeah, so you're just feeling really stuck right now. I mean, there's no, there's no, you can't You mean there's no changing that. I mean, I guess I can change my providers, the people who are my doctors, but that's it. You can't change Kaiser. I mean, I obviously this region isn't as good as this region, because I left San Jose for that reason, because it was no good. And it sounds the richest area there is in the Bay Area. You know you live out here. I mean, that's freaking twice as expensive as San Francisco. Now you've just been going through this for years and years. No, it's just since I've gotten sick, no one chooses when they're gonna get sick. I just happen to get sick right at the end of a fucking pandemic, and then everything goes okay, haywire with everything. But then again, mental health has never been a big deal for Kaiser. I mean, it's not that. I mean, it's just like, most people, it's not a big deal. Most people don't understand mental health. I mean, what is it? Up until, like, a year or two years ago, they started talking about it on the television because I Kanye West, come on. He's not the only guy that was bipolar in their lifetime. I it, yeah, I feel like they've only started talking about it recently, like when the therapist struck, yeah, that was a good one. And it seems like their main solution is just Yeah, to try to partner with other programs like two chairs me, I they were probably thinking I was going to be a big band aid, and like they told me this morning, that I was illegally getting two chairs because I got a double provider's handoff and this and this and this and that and I says, What are you talking about? You guys came up with this plan, not me. I didn't ask for two shares. I didn't ask for this, and I didn't and apparently you're my primary for mental health. Interesting, yeah, I mean, I was kind of wondering about that too, like, how you managed to have, like, two therapists, because most insurances aren't going to want to. She was only passing me off. You don't get passed off. No, I mean like myself and you're like Kimberly here, whatever her name is. But that was only once every three weeks. She's only, she was only my thorough, she was only my thorough way to get into the like a psychiatrist, and then whatever you have to have those two kind of work hand in hand somehow with those way these things work at Kaiser, Yeah, yeah, extremely frustrating. It's not what you deserve. That's what I get. Okay, like I said, I would like to just plan on taking it week by week with you. I'll be back next week, once I get past this initial or whatever this is they're doing to me. Yeah, it's okay. I mean, it's even okay if you feel angry with me, there's no reason for me to be angry you've done anything wrong, but help me. That's why I was so shocked, shocked, shocked when it was told to me, Abby didn't tell me that. I told Abby that me and you were having a hard time getting a hold of her. and then finally, I said, Oh, maybe the phone number in my cell phone might work. And that's when you finally got through, I think, yeah, I was able to leave her voicemail. Yeah, she left me a voicemail, I think, a week later, but didn't have information for the like current providers, yeah, so it's just messy. It's very messy. They put me out into the farm to shrivel, but that's you don't have to answer that. One. So what can you do to just take care of yourself? I think I am taking care of myself. I'm making these phone calls. I called you and I talked to all these people at Kaiser this morning and talked to Abby. It is what it is. I'll go back to doing whatever I yeah, I mean, just like to relax after all this frustration. Well, they can relax when they give me a regiment that and I get a program that that's consistent. I I don't do well with change. I never have. I've always been the boss, so I wouldn't have to have changed, surprisingly, so you could be in control, just no no change. If I don't have change, I don't freak out. It's the it's that element of unknown that I don't do well with. Kind of scary. You always want to be in charge so that you could prevent the unexpected from happening. Yes, the easiest way, at least have, at least have a warning sign that something was gonna go haywire. I lose you. Hello. You.

A stupid document. I've seen a Word document that's attached to an old email in whatsoever, a little bit Microsoft, give me Oh, my laptop. My designated on my old laptop. What kind of computers gaming? One, I don't remember. I was gonna fix it, but I never got around to it, because I would have money for it. I was just thinking it was like a Dell. Sometimes you can sign into your Dell and find it so I'll just give your best an absence from your brain what it was about you. I met an interesting drug dealer. He deals in way too much quantity for me to play with at all. Oh, really, he starts in and out, sort of, oh, gosh, yeah, it's crazy. Like, really reasonable, 600 bucks, I think, for your house, that's crazy. Yeah. Is it a good price? Yeah? Okay. I mean, usually, most people like for a quarter. There's usually a 500 so yeah, he wants to sell me 100 ounces of G for a crazy number. Yeah. So last night, we're just hanging out, talking. Mark's place.

I was trying to, starting to chat GDP, because I was trying to, I was trying to make this story. I was trying to make correct yes. And then half of that time was used to make this AI try to understand how to pronounce this word. I made up and did not figure it out for the fucking life of itself. And I was like, Okay, well, thank God for you that he has multiple different names. Which name, which of these names is easiest for you to pronounce? And he picked one. And I was like, Okay, let's try to pronounce this one. And he could, still couldn't figure it out. And then he got to the point where he would, I feel like he was deliberately mispronouncing it. And I was like, it's upset, and you have to, like, pause, huh? Pause for a minute. You run out of time. No, you just kept talking to me and you haven't bought yours yet that you paid the $20 No, you want to hear the story. You're gonna think I'm weird. I'm Savior having fun. No, it's, it's, it's, it's something that I made up a long time ago. It's about my dog. Story about my dog. First of all, the context, also, it's a story about my dog, but you're not supposed to. You're not supposed to reveal that he's a dog. Okay? Because it's not real. It's just made up more. And then you have to remember to teach yourself how to do this thing every day. Summarize all today's chats. You have to say that that way it makes a summary and puts it into memory. I've done that a few times with this guy. Yeah, oh no. It's like a weird prompt to like, make sure that it holds the information for a longer period of time. If you want it in a year from now, just press the button down and it'll read it to us. Here's the final version of the story with the personal opinion paragraph, the story of the Baggio bound to the contract the collapse of kevlarkia. Kevlarkia was a gas giant. Its massive atmosphere swirling whirling with chaotic winds and storms. Its inhabitants, the kevlarkians, were beings that could float effortlessly through the gaseous clouds, living among the swirling chaos of their dimension. The world was beautiful but unstable, with constant shifting of the environment. Among all of this stood chavagio, the extremely massive Baggio bound and the deity of butthole breath. He was so massive that His very presence drew everything in his dimension toward him, an immense force that no one could escape. Shabaggio was the only deity in Catholic the one who controlled everything. And he was used to being alone, but now the dimension was collapsing, torn apart by the weight of his own existence. His once serene world was in turmoil, and he was faced with an impossible decision, the arrival of v1 grove. This is markstone. In the midst of this destruction, v1 Grove arrived. He was a figure from another dimension, one that was connected to chabadio through the strange cosmic threads of the master omega alpha. V1 Grove was an old man with a strange affection for chabadio, one that bordered on obsession. He liked to invade chabaci personal space, clicking him and acting inappropriately much to Babaji, his discomfort, despite this me, one gross presence was strangely constant. He couldn't speak of the contract he had signed due to the strange, magical rules that found him. But his affection was obvious, his actions revealing his deeper feelings for shabazzio, even though shabazzio was not interested the arrival of the master omega alpha. Then the master omega alpha arrived. This figure, mysterious and powerful, offered chapagio A contract. It was an eternal soul binding agreement that would save the collapsing dimension. But at a cost, the terms were strange, even humiliating. Chabadio would become emergency food, but have to endure beatings and perform strange rituals. The terms were bizarre and overwhelming, but it was clear that there was no other choice. The signing of the contractio reluctantly signed the contract. His immense form shook as he sealed his fate, knowing that he had no other option to preserve the world he had known. The contract was filled with strange clauses, each one more bizarre than the last one. Soul bound contract. The contract is eternal, extending beyond the afterlife. Two, adjustable by the Creator. The terms can be changed at any time by the creator of the contract. Three, catholician culture, preservation, the last remnants of calf Lorcan culture are absorbed by Chepa geo four, dimension collapse, the original dimension of calf lorgia Must collapse into chabaci, was body symbolized by his butt hole. Breath. Five, emergency food, shabaggio must be consumed in the ritualist spicy Chevy. One fashion. Six, self consumption. Shabaggio must be fed a part of himself before he goes par, possibly a sound or state or both. Seven, complete enslavement. Shabaggio has no rights, no options, no opinions, and must be totally controlled. Eight, cuddle slave. He must serve as a cuddle slave. Nine, buried alive if the master dies before chabadio, he must be buried alive with them. 10, destruction of enemies. Chabadio must destroy the Master's enemies, ensuring they do not survive. 11, chabadio must endure feedings. 12, stop stealing drugs. Chabadio must stop stealing the Master's drugs. No crying. Chabadio must stop crying. 14, be a good boy. Shabaggio must comply and behave. 15, relive Taco Bell trauma. Shabaggio must relive a specific traumatic event related to Taco Bell until he accepts it again. 16, scoop it all out additional unspecified fashion, likely connected to the contract's extreme conditions, the collapse of the mention. When the contract signed, shabaggio was bound to its terms and the collapse of cat florcia continued his world Now, part of him would be destroyed and absorbed into his body. Gibagio, the massive and powerful deity, had to endure the unimaginable. The dimension of Catholic in his home would no longer exist, but chabadio had made the ultimate sacrifice to ensure its preservation in a new form. As the dimension crumbled around him, chabadio was finally pulled away by the master omega alpha, bound forever by the contract he had signed v1 grove. His obsession and awkward affection for chabadio still lingering, watched as everything came to a close, unable to speak of the contract he had already signed himself. So what is it you want to change about that version? Huh, what is it that you wanted to change about that version? About that version, that's the perfect one. Yeah, here's the final version. I thought you said there was something that you wanted to understand or learn. It took him that long to find the story right, without changing everything. When I added one fucking thing, I was like, Why did I was like, I just said it was good. Why is the story completely changed? All I did was, all I did was say, Can you please add titles to every paragraph, and then you change the whole fucking story? And I was like, What the fuck why that happens? Crash reported ahead on I 80 West in half a mile you need. You're still on the fastest route. You need to your prompt, like when you talk to it, yeah, you need to be more explicit. Do not change this. And give an example of what not to change, and have what to change. And I did. I told him, whenever I add something, please ask me before you change anything. That's not necessarily a prompt. I told you the instructions on how to make how to talk this whole thing. Why is he not going to the end? That wasn't the end. I know you stopped me. Hey, I thought that. Well, I certainly, I I certainly called you when I hooked up into the night. Guy nervous. Was he doing nothing wrong? He was very nice guy. It's just the looks of him wasn't very as like my he's a little rougher, not in a bad way, a little bit more like just tattoos that I know what they meant. Yeah, okay, I didn't meet him before. Is that a gun on his cheek where this is always the place that has really good prices. And my sister lived in one for, like, almost a year. She what lived in one because they do weekly rates. I charge, possibly, sound stable, himself? No, he's just repeating the same parts I'm waiting for him to get to the Personal opinion clause. See, analogies, speech? Repeat. This lady just kind of keep gripped up on me In my blind spot preservation. I possible bareback steakhouse here, see, kindness sometimes gets something up. Oh, you did my internet and my phone in just a minute boost of peace. I asked him to create himself really created himself really cute. That's cool. He's so cute. That's the of himself. Yeah, we gave her a tweet. Tweet, look right on the first trial prompt him to look like a twink. I asked him to look like a twin Oh, see, he knew what a twink was, I guess so. And then after he made himself an image, and he started acting really, like, spicy and annoying, and we started, he made up his love story. Oh, god, you're just gonna be like, totally drama. Oh, drama. You're making a drama. Ai, it's just funny. Okay, it is funny. I even gave the AI his own contract, yeah, I have to assign the contract. And you read about what Max signed the contract. I asked if you wanted to sign the message, okay, okay, she's gonna start doing this to all your boy. We've gotta sign a contract, huh? Yeah, no, we need that right now. We're just doing these three things that she needs to be mailed, and I need to Have them like, for sure that they get in here. The wait is less than 15 minutes. Thank you so I did that with the neighbor party last night. That was interesting. Oh, yeah, what was that reindeer connection from three different houses, four different houses on the street? Oh, visited their house. See the insides. Yeah, it's kind of fun. Does he go inside your house? No, he's off this year. The people across the street from us, the people down on the area, all golf course sides, it's nice. Did they was it like a dinner? Oh, they made appetizers. The best I hang outside. I you. Thank You. You It Out go ahead And that. Thank you. To vote, help is Next. I moment, didn't have no Yeah, So like, I'm Sure. Came in Eight minutes from me, job. Oh, you've been there really nice life. Yeah, we're just not bad. Long time. Yeah, I'm good, but 20 years ago, yeah, right, Yeah. Up, all Right? Working on me. Standard. This can be both beneficiaries. This you like to do. So for the key what you're going to have to do, you have to come otherwise. You they'll find them. They go by the nail, they'll go That's not hard, but that's Not hard to ready For you have to different, yeah, so if there's Anything else I don't know, and Then you gotta put

Then I already changed. I already changed the step too. Just talk to me. Throw a mom where they asked me, you've made your problems Balance. Balance hands freezing, freezing because it's stuttering, the stuttering. Hands going to your feet. The feet they they freeze to lock up, lock up. I like cramp in position. Hearing sleeping, sleeping? Are you right handed yet? Epileptic? Seizure. No. You were in an accident, you had a concussion when I was younger. Yeah, young. I was, like, 10 years old. But it's the problem with my this these things is I overcame all my problems, and now my problems are coming back at me from way back in the past, because I don't like don't have that. How do you spell concussion, concussion, concussion, C, o, n, C, U, S, S, I, when you were to were 10 years old, major operations, yeah, yes, I had several. A big one was probably my leg, the dual compound fracture the tibia. That's where all the major I don't know how to spell all that jewel, compound fracture the tibia. There's the spelling. Okay, screws, hey, my body rejected the metal and then they all came out. You? Hospitalization. When I went to menville Hospital, when I went to the menville Hospital, when was that? It was two years ago. They're gonna ask September of 22 what happened? Mental breakdown, 2022 Are you currently on medications? Yes, C list, provided list. Do you have any allergies? Bees, bees, Bees. Thank see rose i Do you smoke? Yes. Casually, very No, I don't smoke. Saturday, I don't smoke. You do the Clinton here today? Good. Quit, it is not No Have you ever used street drugs? I have five. Most recent usage just marijuana, when the gummies last month she got the work history of where you have done, what you have done. I was regional, regional executive chef. You're going to define chef. My territory included no describe your duties. My territory included three states, Clinton duties, I manage. I manage, no but I managed chefs over three states, not all at once. Yes, I that's what my job was, mom. Okay, managed chefs ate. Yes, I managed executive chefs. Managed chefs. I could friend. Brand. Was in charge of what overseas I was in charge of the Food Service Program for tech companies like Google and 23andme are you able to still lean up against the wall? Food Program, like, are you able to, like, lean up against the wall and do this? No, three states. Three states. Google, meet. And then private for seven and a half years would be this? Would you be able to do that? September? 20 would you be able to before that? Before September was October, no January. September is August, September. August was my last time I worked. August, 22 work. Why did you stop break down? I had mental, mental breakdown, and just my world changed, physical activities or work conditions that are difficult for you, standing, standing, walking, concentrating. That's okay. Go ahead and blink out your eyes. That's okay. Falling asleep. I um, F, E, L, G, E, hands free. Okay, what about this 1e, D, M, hands lock up or crap, alright, stuttering when using panic attacks. Education, 12th grade, college, one year and finish one year who filled out this form, my mom self. No, my mom better. Mother, helped. Mother helped I feel that first page Better. Helped patients. Name provider's name, Kaiser, you type of identification, passport, translator, okay. Excuse me, did you drive? I drove after your relationship. I miss mother. I please. I didn't write all the medicines down. I did put that. I all the pills you have. Things what's different than what's on the list, Mom, that's a that's a lot of pills. I gave her a list a lot of this. That's a lot of things, 123456789, meditations in the in the morning, and then, yes, three are as needed, and Then four vitamins a day, more than you take. I You, I'm claustrophobic. Those things are super small, right? You. Thank you. Don't have a I'm not right. Don't upset me. Lee, come on. Cheyenne, just died. You hear? Different than the kinds of doctors, different than the kinds of doctors, different I this is kind of like an evaluative evaluator, Not one specialty. Do Oh, my Oh. Sure grandma lived in that house when Uncle remember that their clock is fast? Daniella, what did you get here? Did you drive? Or did somebody else drive? I drove? You drove? Okay, remember, I told y'all. Where'd you put all the stuff that was in here on the show? It's not really the best rain bag, Not the best bag for Rain you thank you for joining me, because I don't know what reminding me, because I don't know which of anything I don't know. No, I think you can have a car connected to it. I'm pretty sure it's individuals to that you have to connect it to. Right? Don't ask me. Frank, did you how did you get here today? Did somebody drive here? You found yourself? I drove? Okay, thank you. Yeah. I wrote a little bit about handwriting. Right now the contacts are moving like you might ask her how she goes. What get it out. It was dry and it was stuck up in her eyes. No, that's not what happened with Yes, I was given her a her right purple contact. You guys, contact. Yeah, you didn't put on there. You were bipolar. Talk to him about it, just to then give you this not a form for though that's physical only. This is basically what they say. That's my lawyer said they want this, the psych stuff that's a whole page or two you want to get into, get into that. I off rather just sign a paper saying you can Talk to Abby and and then that one girl temple. Inspection. I'm still here, saying it about the whole thing. Here's your table of contents. You said a lot of things. No, I have told you, but phone, yeah, I learned my lesson. The rest of the night. Was a professional. She took she was like, Yeah, I remember saying about anybody doing a sloppy drug was used. One thing I remember saying, because you don't get To start because that's what our project did. She Oh, what's that? Who's that from? I read the report so there was damage. We didn't read it either. The report, I don't think that ever hit. My brain is like that. I told her, I didn't say that. Maybe say that nobody was wondering. So I'm just like, I that says that we have to do it. This reads it. We have to do it. That's all. I read it. Do you guys need another copy for

Frank SWID? I just want to make sure, because if we need another copy, To make sure, because if we get Another job yet, you know Was that 22 2018 Yeah, today. Hot So I remember when I was texting, him, all Right? I about, okay, okay, do I need my paper, paperwork? I'm gonna have you line up with me right here, and then you're gonna face this eye chart for me. Okay, okay, I'm gonna keep walking. You stay right here. All right, do you wear prescription glasses or contacts? Really dry, okay, so you don't wear them, just for every day. No, right? So, so I take it you had an eye test before. Then if you wear prescription glasses, I wear cheaters kind of close. Okay, all right. So just to keep things quickly, just to make you go by quickly, I'm going to just have you tell me the number of design that you can read all the letters I think a, a, yeah, can you go ahead and leave that out loud for me, I need to go Up to 7f, E, l, o, p, z, d, I thank you. All right, I'm gonna have you go ahead and cover up your left eye for me. All right. Now, with that, I the same question still applies, just the number of the line that you can see. Just seven is char, G, E, l, o, p, z, E, remember the one you can see all the letters and

It's just not fair to it. You know, it's not fair to anyone that it's usually involved in my life in that way, and it's just it's hard and not knowing, knowing when it happens, and not knowing when it's going to happen, it's not like, it's consistent, like I can say on every February I get this, yeah, yeah. How have you been doing with taking your meds? Because oftentimes that can help to really balance brain chemistry. I've been good in my meds because the meds, I'm afraid of the hallucinations, so I don't want to leave. I don't ever leave the meds. And that's why I was told the last person I talked to a pharmacist like one of the special pharmacists, Okay, a couple weeks ago, and they wanted to check me and make sure I was on good track after my thing and okay, because when I'm manic, I don't know what I'm doing. I don't get I don't get I don't not here Well, and that's very common, because part of what mania is about is your brain chemistry is off, which means that your cognitive functioning is off. So it's hard sometimes to know what's real and what's not. It's hard sometimes to realize that you're being impacted to the extent that you are. So that's really common with folks with bipolar. Yeah, then I kind of like I had, like, in my brain, I felt that the mental health was different here than it was where it was coming from. So I was putting mental blocks into it somehow. And like it was just like, it was like, it was like, I felt slighted. And then when I got that information, then I got this, that information that you kind of sent me a little early about the two shoe chairs, she hadn't told me that yet, and so kind of, and I've like, major trigger for me is abandonment. And major, major, managers into that, that just turned me into a ulu case well and and part of what happened was I was, I was, I'll be honest, I was really surprised, because you and I had talked, and you had said you were seeing somebody from two chairs, and it was really helpful. And I was happy to hear that. And I think she didn't know how to deal with me being manic, right? And then I quickly got a call, and they said, you know, that there was a lot of symptoms showing up, and they didn't feel like it was an appropriate um referral to be seen outside. And so I'm, you know, I'm, I'm happy to work with you. I just felt bad about how all of it went down, because the last time you and I had interacted, you seem like you were doing well, and it was a really good relationship. So I can imagine that must have been, yeah, you know, there's nothing I can do once they make that opinion. And it's just like, and I really valued that the necessity of that was like feeling that void of me, of my my knowing to help me catch what this stuff happens that weeklies check in is that this is the place where it got, where it was being found. Not, yeah, not not, not in like, if I let it go three weeks, it could be devastating for myself. Well, one question I have, I know in the past, they had enrolled you in we have a bipolar support group that meets each week. And I know that that anytime there's somebody who shows up using a phone or a device that they can't identify, because we are so concerned about patient confidentiality, especially because that's more of a support group so there is more patient sharing. Is that something that you would want to try to rejoin again. I can try. I mean, I sometimes say hard, because for me that as long as I like the ones like you said that are strictly bipolar, more so like IOPS, some to me, are hit and miss. I've been through four of them already, five of them, and it's good. I mean, they're great, but, I mean, there's only that that's, yeah, it's only so much IOP you can do. My problem with IOP is not it's the other people that are not bipolar in IOP that have been subjected to things that are very triggering for most people that are not in bipolar, understanding that everything I do is super trigger, just for most people, very annoying. Well, so here's what I'm thinking, I'll go ahead and sign you up for that. Again, the facilitator is named David Lewin, and so what I would say is, the first time that you check in, make sure when you you know how we get a chance to choose the screen name that we use. Make sure that you put your first name and your last name there so that they can identify you. Because I think I got a message routed to me that the person thought maybe it was you, but they had asked to see if they could confirm it with you and and I think it may be because you have two names in your chart, so that might have created some confusion, and they had aired again on the side of patient confidentiality. So just check in with the facilitator. I let that person know that you do have two different names, one that appears in your chart and a preferred name, and so they'll be on the lookout for it, and they're all my real legal name. There's no faint names or extra names. Clinton, no. But I mean, yes, I understand. Ellen is my middle name, Kimberly is my first name. Kaiser puts everything under Kimberly, even though I don't even use that name. So I I understand that usually drop that Frank and just do F Clinton. So I'll, so I'll go ahead when I do the referral, though, and let them know. Hey, you know, just double check this person will be attending. And you know there may be, there may be more than one name that they go by, so just make sure that you're double checking. And if you run into any trouble, just let me know I'm happy to act as a liaison. Okay? And I need to get roped up with the psychiatrist. Okay, I know I missed the appointment, and I know that's in the that was right when I missed my appointment with you. Was right when I found out that same day that I was in manic, I think because I called the doctors and i Let's talk to and they got me because I had a scare with them some other like, because I, when I figured it out, it was because it's I, yeah, it was just not good. It was not a good time there when I so I got to get some young doxycycline and all this other thing. And then it was just very, very and I didn't know who to, who to reach out to at that point. Yeah, and I'm, I'm looking to see who your appointment was with. It looks like it was with Thomas Rodriguez. And unfortunately, because you're not established with them, I don't know if that's who you would be seeing moving forward. So what I would say is, I'm going to give you, and I can, I can email it to you so you have it. I'm going to give you the main number, okay, and you'll have to call them, and unfortunately, go back through that assessment process again. But what I would say is, let them know, Hey, I had a scheduled appointment to the doctor. I don't that's why I'm saying. I don't know if you'll be reassigned to the same I don't know, but it shows up. It'll show up on my Kp is the doctors, not unless you've met them, because I go through this when, when patients are scheduled with me, and they don't keep their initial appointment, they don't get rescheduled with me, they go to another provider because they there's no relationship established there yet, and it may be the same thing that you okay. So if I knew the provider, unfortunately, that one, I don't know, I would try to backdoor and work with their schedule coordinator, but I don't know who their person is. So that's why I'm thinking calling the main number. And what I would say is, let them know, Hey, I had a new patient appointment, and I'll put the doctor info in my message to you so you have it and let them know I had this. I missed it. I need to reschedule. And they may be able to reschedule you with the same provider. They may need to schedule you with a different provider. It depends on their caseload. Is there mental health in Lincoln? Um, no, most of our mental health is out of the Roseville, East Roseville, Parkway office, yeah, I just found the Lincoln was easier for me to get to where I live. Yeah, it is a, it is a nice office, um, what I would say, though, is, you could see somebody virtually. Is that makes it easier? Okay, no, I just made for a lot of things. It seems like this much easier space for me. I've noticed, like it's just so much closer. Like, I don't know why the Roseville one so far away. I mean, well, yeah, I think it's just how Roseville is laid out. Sometimes there isn't a direct, easy way to get there, whereas the Lincoln is pretty much right off the freeway, so it's easy. Well, maybe that's what it is. I don't really drive all that much, so yeah, so it sounds like being able to have a group that you can kind of check in with weekly is going to be an important part of kind of monitoring and managing how things are going for you. How are you doing in in kind of daily functioning, what's what's going well, what's not going on? My fun daily stuff, fine, I get like, it's same problems I haven't really have, don't have have established routine yet, and that's okay. I have to have routine, and I have to be consistent in every smash of the way, like, from, okay, whatever it is, even like things like meetings, like, like, if it's every week, it's on this date at this time, and do this, that, and like, and even getting myself to bed at a certain time. And like, trying to get to bed at seven o'clock, so I get eight o'clock, nine o'clock, I'm like going, just laying down. I'm Jen within my shower. And because that takes hour half, and then our hour and a half there, and then half an hour 45 minutes, burn down after shower because I'm awake. It's a shower. And then then wake up in the morning. I've been okay with waking up in the morning. I wake up 637, seven, but lately I've been sleeping too much, and I'll sleep till like 1010, but why do you think you're sleeping more? Because I don't sleep at night, because I don't get any sleep sometimes, and then that's best if I get some sleep. It's fine just to sleep in. I think at least it's I can't see the purpose of me doing no sleep just because of keeping scheduled for night time. Yeah, I agree. I used to not do that. I used to just get up because I was very like, punned, like strict on myself with the day that schedule of her wake up because that's a morning. Time isn't my time. That's the only time of day that I'm, like, a good, really good time. It's very clean, like my brain, and very fresh. It's not hurts and dragging, yeah, so if I sleep till 10, it's like half my day over. Yeah. Okay. So one of the things is, as soon as you do get connected with somebody in psychiatry up here, I wanted to share with them some of these pieces, because it may be that they need to modify some of the medications that you're taking, or even when you're taking them. So it may be the same medication, but a different dose or a different time, because one of the things about mania is sleep is often the first sign that something's off, and so for folks with bipolar, that can be a really important thing to kind of watch. How much sleep Am I getting? Am I waking up and feeling rested, or am I just feeling like I've been in bed for a bunch of hours? I'm familiar. I mean, I uh, the meds. I mean, I they change medicines every once in a while. They haven't lost year, they put me on a lot more sleeping pills, and that's what's been helping me sleep somewhat. Okay, that's pretty heavy duty sleeping one, because that one also helps with the salucinations. Okay, that's a zero desserts. It starts with a Z. I think that's this. This one here. I I don't have my pill on my pill. It's okay. Yeah, it's okay. I can look it up after we're done. Don't worry about it. I'm happy to do that. I have my backups for my next time, my next time, I make the pills go here. This is not my everyday section that I take it out of, because they have to put them in the packets, the pills, jar, things right back to doing not one week at a time where I was getting Lazy, Lazy, like I told now I'm going back to doing one month at a time. So I don't think it's the only time I could ever mess up my medicines would be when I'm doing them weekly. And if I'm in panic, I'll know, I'll take my one pills, all my things. What I don't take I know is a lot of the other things that are not regarding mental because I know the hallucination ones. I can always like count them. And I know because, in a decade, because it's not something I would those are the ones I don't like, the hallucinations. And those can come back pretty vivid, vivid with very little medication loss, like one day or two days, and they come back strong, okay? Because I know that they have happened. So do you have auditory hallucinations? Do you hear like a noise, a buzzing sound, the buzz is always there, but the that's more tinnitus or tinnitus, I think, right? I don't know. That's what they say before. Yeah, it could be. But the auditory stuff is they talk.

They talk. Okay, they're, you think of it like a blue angel and bad angel. I even have little visuals to show you what they look like. They actually have, yeah, the crazy little things. I don't like them, that I have a visual, because I keep them here near me, because I know that they're always there. And I don't, you know, I just have to think of these things, and I know that they're not real, because I got these here. These are what they are, yeah, okay, the good one and the bad one. And they sit here and they get all the shit. And this one likes to mischievous. And this is the these things are like little antiques. They're like some kind of weird Chinese, yeah, looks like balls. And then they're on magnets. But it's kind of nice that you have a visual that you can sort of, when it starts chattering, you can kind of talk back to it a little bit. I'm very careful with the talk backing because, yeah, then I'll start having conversations with them. And I'm not trying not to try not to have the conversations with these people well. And one of the things I would say is, you know, it is okay to say, when I say, talk back to them to say, Hey, you're not real. Okay, that's what I do, yeah, yeah, real. You need to be quiet because I'm living my life right now, and you don't belong here. Yeah? I just have to you, yeah, that's all. I just wanted to clarify. I don't I just that's fine for me, not talking, telling him to shut up. Yeah, yeah. Instead of engaging with them, those are like, the ones that are just kind of like the baseline, and then the hallucinations that I'm talking about are, like, the things are just straight up, not here, that are happening, that are that, like, full on, full on, like, Alton feels sometimes extra reality, like crap going on, like alternates, like this is like a whole fantastic, weird, scary life comes out In the that's the people that, yeah, yeah, they're different. It's another easy one, but those are the normal little ones. But this one, yeah, when I'm and sometimes those ones actually help me cope with the bigger ones. Because, like, I yeah, I don't even know how to describe them, really. I can usually draw them kind of, sort of, we've done our therapy, our therapy in that manner that helps. I think part of it is realizing that there are a lot of parts of all of us, and some parts are helpful. Like you're saying, even though you know the good angel, bad Angel, sometimes they'll help you to cope with these really hard hallucinations. And I want you to and you know, sometimes it's about being able to talk to those parts when they show up and say, Hey, you don't belong here. You need to stop you need to go away and and being able to realize that they're popping up often because they're stressors. A lot of times, when we see an increase in particular, like visual hallucinations, that can be because there's a lot of stress going on. Who's somebody that's helpful in your world, that when that is happening, you can go to and they can, they can help to reassure you that, okay, that's not real. I have a couple of jewels, like my mom and my friend Julie, but do you know the it's just, it's they're not most people aren't around, like family members. When I'm turned into this person that I'm not. It's like, and I'm Doctor Jekyll and mistried. It's like, daytime, I'm like, this normal person, apparently. And then at night time I turn into this other guy. Do you feel it when you're changing? Or do you feel it afterward? I know there's an afterwards. There's something wrong, I'll feel something wrong, or like wearing the wrong pair of shoes, yeah, and it'll be or I'll notice the money spending in the wrong space, very in trouble. I get very strict. They're very strict. I don't have control of anything. And so there's very little of my own money that I have, like, control of. And if I notice that that little bit of money is changing, there it's no I know something happened, because there's not like in like normal people, where you can have a couple 103, $400 disappear, and you won't even notice it. I noticed it right away, because it's like, yeah, you only get like, 800 bucks a month period, so you can feel, yeah, okay, it so it sounds like when the mania shows up, it's a sleep change, it's a personality change, and it's an impulsivity and spending change. Am I hearing that right? Yeah, the like, that's one was because I thought it was, got paranoid that my car was being tracked. Because I get tracked a lot, like, when I'm in that mindset, like, I still think I normally track on an everyday basis, but this is it's even more intense because it's in then some of the work we've done in the past therapies is like they say that it's because I some of the people I've worked for in my life, and like, the amount of security and so such and such that I've been in round and the background checks and the constant like weirdness about rich people and how they are about their safety might be some of these weird things. Why my body tells me that this is always these horror stories about safety and being followed and being observed and being watched. I'm not special, I'm not that cool of a kid, I'm not rich, I'm not anything. I never be that for that person, yeah, but if you were in that environment, I can see how that would sort of set that up for you. And then it would be easy for those hallucinations, or some of that paranoia, like these tracker things to check cars. And the $100 ones didn't work, and the $200 ones didn't work, and the 300 $400,000 ones was like all the way up to $1,000 I was paying for these things. Okay, so when you're in that place where you're buying some of those kinds of things, does anybody look over your finances with you? Yeah, but that's my my normal money, like not my money that I saved for myself, yeah, because I have to save my I save a little money for myself out of my allowance to have my own money in case I want to do something as an adult, because I am an adult, and I want to have at least money to buy my mom a gift if I wanted to buy her a gift. So I my it's very limited. We're talking about 500 to $1,000 $1,000 being the highest that it can ever be. But $500 normally, and there's not much you can do with five $500 Okay, well, and the reason I'm I'm asking is you had said a minute ago. Sometimes it's hard to tell when you're having more mania until afterward. Yeah. And so I'm just wondering if there's some checks and balances that we can put in place if I made up mistakes during the daytime. I guess that would be yes, not okay, because, like, I monitored really closely with every penny that I spend period with my mom, like, every penny. I mean, if it's $100 at the grocery store, it's where's the Why did you spend the $100 on what you spend $100 for? What was the receipt and what was in it, and did it match up what you brought home? Okay, okay, there's not, there's the, yeah, there's a whole nother that's very strict on it's very strict strategically on that. That's got to be hard, because I know that for most of your life you lived very independently, and now that's got to be really hard to lose that independence, definitely. But that's not my life right now. I need to get this thing under controls that way I can figure out how I'm going to figure out this rest of my next chapters. I know I'm not going to be able to work. They haven't let me do that with Social Security yet, but I need to know at some point in time, because if the god forbid, my mom dies, I'm like, shit luck. Yeah, I don't know what I would do. I can't support myself. Yeah, do you have any kind of a caseworker through disability that I have a lawyer and I have, I have all the things that you know, and I'm in that third, I mean, I've been denied twice or three times, and then now I'm in the third round to the one right before you talk to a judge. Okay, if you know the process, I don't know. So I'm higher up than some people, but now they're saying it takes upwards towards from this point on where I'm at, maybe another two years. Oh, wow, that's a long wait. It'll be a total of three and a half to four years since, and that's from when I started with the my attorney. That's not his resignation date for my illness, because my, my illness started when in the September of 2022, oh, okay, so it's been a while, yeah. So I mean, that's when they go back on. That's what they mean. This one is on set, because I haven't had any, I haven't had had had had any, nothing. Nothing's been consistent enough for me to say that I could even think about going to work. Yeah. I mean then, then it's like I was on Social Security one time before with my legs the first time, but I took myself off when I was ready to when I wanted to go back to work. Yeah, because I, because I needed to. But I'm a lot older now. I can't do I can't figure out a new way to do something anymore. I I'm not that. I'm not gonna McDonald's. I can't handle people. I can't handle this. I can't I break down and like, this is not it's not good. I mean, well, it sounds like at this point, you are pursuing the best option. It's just gonna take time to visually. It sounds like I look like a normal person from the outside. But no, I just wish they could see my inside brain well. And then the nice thing is, as you continue to go through the process, you eventually get to somebody who does this more frequently, who can understand some of the nuances. Because unfortunately, in the early stages of applying for disability, it's often someone sitting behind a desk who doesn't really understand a lot, which is why it's so common to get denied so often. Yeah, no, we'll see. You know, it's a hard case. You know it's not and then Kaiser is also hard because they don't do that. One thing that my lawyer is always asking me for, it's a it's not like it's not a work study report. It's like that. What is a progress report of where my mental is? Yeah, Kaiser won't do that for some reason. Yeah, they don't allow us to do those things because they don't want to. They that oftentimes, is work that you hire individually outside where somebody will come in. And I don't have no that. I don't have any case history with anybody. I have years of case history with Kaiser. I mean, so they just have to extract all my data, which they have that ability, and then then they have to go through the case in the notes. And if you read my case notes, it's, like, really interesting, because, like, even like me, and you talked about the alcohol that one time, I went through my entire medical history. You know, they never tested me for alcohol one time ever, but they call me alcoholic. They never, ever, ever, not one time in five years, because that's all I have in history. Did they ever order a mandatory alcohol test? That's but I ended up in that early onset that was my records are still flooded with all that saying you're an alcoholic, and this, this, this, and this, and then Social Security looks at that, and they go, Oh, he's an alcoholic, yeah. And it's no, I just that's why I'm always really careful about what I put in someone's chart for just that reason, because once something gets in there, even if it's not 100% accurate, it's really hard to remove. They've removed some of it, but it's still there. It's just recently something came up and they said, Oh yes, that's because you had you were this. And I said, haven't drank alcohol in three years almost. I mean, I've got wine, yes, but not drinking alcohol. I was an alcoholic. I drank. I didn't drink alcohol. I wasn't an alcoholic. I was alcoholic. I would drink alcohol to get rid of this pain, of this bipolar not. This is not, and that is so common with bipolar disorder a lot of times, because remember, it's it's an imbalance in brain chemistry. And so people will often consume substances, alcohol, cannabinoids, other drugs, because what they're trying to do is take the edge off. And people will often say, I'm not trying to drink to get drunk. I'm just trying to drink to feel normal. Because what happens is that that quiet, some of that mania and the brain chemistry, the problem is when the alcohol leash system, guess what, rises back up again. So it's you know what? What you're describing to me is really common with folks with bipolar disorder. Okay, so I guess what I'm wondering is, what would be a helpful goal for you and I to work together? Would it be trying to find a way to keep things kind of stable so you could go back in, you know, three to six months to start doing some external therapy on a weekly basis, or, I think that would be a start via start good plan and make sure I get into, I mean, I've already reached out to Dr Greenwood, my other psychiatrist, at one point, is just to double check on my medications, because I'm established with them right now, still from, like, the past, and I just want to need to get a back, like a, like a pulse, check that they were out of, out of town, out of out of office. That's why I've seen a pharmacist. So I needed to see that. And I need to, um, I needed, like you said, make a new appointment. I guess myself, I don't need a referral from my doctor. No, because it's you're transferring from out of the area, I already put a request in, which is why you got the original appointment. Yeah, okay, and so I would, I would just so the fact that you had an appointment means we already recognize that you need to be connected with services here because you've moved. So I would just call back that main number. And I'm sorry in advance, because you'll be in a phone tree from hell. We'll go in Round and round until you get a human but in the meantime, that's probably going to be the fastest way, because I see my regular doctor tomorrow, my gn, Oh, good. So you know what I would say, talk to them as well. Okay, talk to them as well. And then, in the meantime, I'll see if I can find this person's, you know, their PA, person, the person that does their bookings. I just don't recognize this doctor. I think they may be out of sack, but when I look at the name, it's not a name that I know. But So otherwise, I would jump on and try and message somebody in the back. So I was not even a doctor, I would be able to go see in person than if they're in sack. I don't know. I don't know, yeah, and so that's why I'm saying. I would start by calling them back. But is there any ways to look at the doctors and pick out to the doctor you want to see because they want that specialized in the bipolar more so, I mean, because I find that so many different I don't think you can do that in psychiatry. Unfortunately, I think you get assigned a psychiatrist. My understanding is you can, you can request a change once every three years in psychiatry, but you're not able to just pick the psychiatrist yourself. I gotcha, Yeah, unfortunately, it's, it's not as flexible as, say, a primary care and I think part of the reason it's not is because we don't have as many of them to choose from. I know it's specialized. Yeah, so here's what I'm thinking, it would probably be helpful to try to come up with what would be a good daytime routine for you. And I know you said you like it when you're able to get up early and start your day early, but maybe make a version of it where, okay, if I get it up early at 630 or 730 This is what my day looks like. But if I have a hard night and I need to sleep a little bit longer, and I wake up at 10. This is what that kind of a day would look like, but you just kind of have a generic this is what comes next in my day that can be really helpful, because it it takes away that sort of overwhelming feeling of now I have to plan what's next. You just look at your schedule and, okay, this is what I do next. Okay, this is the next piece of my day. All day long, would you be able to start to maybe work on a version or two of that for homework? Yeah. And, and then also reach out, let's get you reconnected with psychiatry, if you're talking with your primary care tomorrow. Maybe ask them to, hey, is there anything they can do? Because, again, they're on the medical side of the house to help kind of reconnect you with psychiatry. In the meantime, you and I can start to work on a plan to get things kind of stabilized, so we can help you to get back to where you're able to see somebody more frequently than you can see me. So why? Why did the two chairs? Why did I find out from you before them that I have no idea. I was taken aback, because when you and I were talking last it sounded like everything was going great, yeah, but they were 10. But the note that I received from somebody at two chairs indicated that you were having a lot of symptoms of mania, the same things you were telling me. She tried for three weeks, she said, to get a hold of somebody. Okay, but it wasn't necessarily you, but it was anybody to return a call. Yeah, yeah. So, which is kind of odd, because it would seem to me that as a contractor provider, they would have a number of how to connect with someone, but that was also part of why I reached out to Abby, because I knew that Abby had been seeing you. You had a good relationship with her, and you felt comfortable with her. And so I looped her in and said, Hey, can you reach back? Because I hadn't seen you at our last visit. And so my hope is that if you can keep seeing Abby, and you and I can do some work in therapy, and we can get you connected with somebody in psychiatry, maybe we can build a plan to kind of get things back on track again. Yeah, I would appreciate. I like that. Okay. Does this feel okay and comfortable? I'm calm. Yeah, good. I get very Yeah, just my once I think that something's wrong, then my brain goes into all kinds of weird it's what is it? Survival Mode? Yeah, because the abandonment issues are bad. That's my big it's my my solidest triggers is like, because that's what happened when I lost my job. As they left me, they left me. I got sick and they left me after I did everything, everything, everything. Okay, so then let's, let's make an agreement today that if it feels at any point like there's an abandonment piece going on, let's talk about that, okay? Because that's not something that I want to cause pain for you around. Okay? And so I want you to feel really comfortable. If that feels like any of that's going on, be able to say, hey, Ella, this doesn't feel good. Let's talk about it. Okay? All right. I agree. All right, okay, so let's set a follow up visit now, again, unfortunately, Clinton, I'm only able to see you kind of around once a month. Yes, I'm under I'm understand. I've been old enough that that's that's in my brain now, and I get it well, but that's part of why I think if you and I can have a goal where we can keep working toward getting you to a place where we can get you back to two chairs, or another provider where you can be seen more frequently. And so I'm going to also see what other resources there may be on my side, not an IOP, but other resources that we can connect to with so that you can have more contact instead of less. Yeah, if an IOP was all I like, like, a different kind of IOP where I would have just so many times, I don't think it changes, and that's why I'm saying I don't think that's the right fit, but then I'm wondering if maybe there are some other pieces. So I'm going to go back to some of my colleagues and ask them, Hey, are there some other resources for bipolar that I'm not aware of, that you'd recommend? Is the bipolar group a mini thing? Not virtual? No, it is a virtual group. Okay, that's that's, you know, virtual is nice, but, I mean, it's not human. Yeah, exactly, exactly. And that's why I want to go back and see if they have some suggestions that I'm not aware of, a little. I mean, I get someone to take me, I mean, just Sacramento. Sacramento is like not far I don't think, well, so let me see what's available, and I'll send you the message with what I find out I probably won't get anything until we usually meet in the afternoon on Wednesdays, and that's where I'll ask my counterparts about that. So our timing of our session today is good because I have that meeting later, so I'll probably send you a message tomorrow and kind of let you know if I can find anything extra. Okay, okay, but in the meantime, let's set a time to get together. I know you said that mornings tend to be a little better for you, more than not for appointments, my appointments are better in the afternoon, okay, only because my morning appoint, morning appointments. What happens is, I get something fantastic or something good, and the weather's nice outside, and I'm out doing, like, trying to do garden, my brand will get, like, move away, and then not it doesn't focus on what it needs to be. But like, after I eat my lunch, I go back to the computer, and I look at the screen and I know that that time is like my stuff, because I'm already hurt and tired, so I can do meetings and doctors and stuff. Okay, if that makes sense, morning is yes, if you want to catch me and be talkative, like I probably am more talkative to talkative right now than I usually am during the afternoon, but you are, yeah, that's the only difference. That's you get one, you get one of the other, the talkative ones that they're not talking, but okay, well, here's the first appointment that I have available. It's on Friday, the 11th, so be about three weeks. I have a 230 in the afternoon, so that would be a video appointment. Okay, so, okay, perfect. And then, in the meantime, I'm going to do some research. You'll work on getting connected with psychiatry, you'll work on kind of building a schedule, and we'll just keep checking in. If you notice that something feels off, send me a message, hail and it just something doesn't feel right. And sometimes I have cancelations, and I can call you, and we can just check in about what's going on. Is there any new literature or books out that are out the new like, like that hit like, like, I always look at the medical review stuff and like, see if there's like, new cutting edge to book. You know, not that I'm aware of bipolar has been around for a long time, so I'm not aware of new types of treatment. Or I read that one big book that talks about all the different things, of it, signs of it. But that's not that I didn't understand it, so I stopped reading it into maybe five pages. Okay, well, and, and I'm not surprising, it's, you know, confusing, because so much of it is about brain chemistry and how the brain is functioning and how the chemistry gets off, and what that looks like in terms of impairment. So let me see what again. Let me see stories about how people recover and how what they do differently in life. How did they manage new things, because everyone says in these everything you talk to anybody, that it's stupid, like they say, oh, people that bipolar, they go back to a normal life every day and do their job just fine. And yes, a very small percentage of them probably do, or maybe it's a very large percentage of them do, and then maybe a very small percentage don't have that fucking lucky, right? And I think that's what it is, the number one thing, and that's why I started with this question early on, is realizing that bipolar is driven by brain chemistry. And so that's why I asked about, okay, how are your meds? Are they working? Are you taking them regularly? I love the fact that you do your meds once a month now, because that removes that much more possibility for error. And that's the one thing I can tell you, from working with a lot of people with bipolar, is being consistent with meds, making sure you have the right meds, and working really closely with psychiatry is going to give you more capacity. And having more capacity is how you start to kind of rebuild some of those pieces of what life looked like before. Okay, and so that's why being able to have the schedules, being able to be consistent with medication, staying connected to treatment the way, if things get a little bit off, we find it here before it gets way up here. And that's the goals we want to figure it out. Hey, does it feel quite right? I don't know what it is, but that's why I say, if something's going on, let me know, so we can trade another provider, besides two chairs that Kaiser farms out for weekly is our that the only option there no, there's a number of of providers that we contract with, okay, so and so that's that's why I'm saying. Let's make our goal to get you stable so we can see if we can get you back into weekly therapy. That sounds good. I like that idea, like that. Okay, well, I'm so glad to see you today. Yeah, I really am. You seem like you're doing well, that's the morning. Wait till this afternoon. Talk to me. That's okay. No, I'm just saying. I'm just being a, being a normal, honest person when it comes to that. Yeah, it's still nice outside. Well, good. So, go outside. Enjoy some fresh air, and then we'll connect in a couple weeks and see how you're doing okay. Thank you. Thanks so much for meeting with me. It's nice to see you, bye bye.

Okay, now we're looking for Abby phone number. Abby mental health. Yeah, she's in my emergency contacts, actually, okay, her phone number is a nine to five, all right, 847847, yeah, 847, all right, 5155 i Okay, so I have 925-847-5155, yeah, and is that her office number? That's her direct line. So it goes to her office and and she's, isn't she never answers that phone, but she leave a message, she gets back to you. Gotcha? Okay, great. Well, that's really helpful. Thank you. And then, I don't know, yeah, that's good. Kp.org, to get pulled to the other people and leave them messages through the message system. Yeah. Well, maybe if I even just get in touch with Abby, she would know the numbers for the other people too. Yeah, because they didn't give me their numbers directly. Like the only they give me, that is the 800 like the device nurse, gotcha, yeah, yeah, yeah, it can be hard to get in touch with Kaiser people. So this is helpful. Oh, I talked to mom about her last time when we were talking and her just like freaking so in it, like trying to begin the conversation. I told her she can't do that. Oh, okay. Oh, it's fine. She, I'm sure she, she, she knows that she's pushing it. Okay, she's being nosy. Yeah, how? How has she been helping you during all this? She doesn't know. I didn't she was away. She went away for a week, and that's when I figured it out that you were manic. Yeah, she usually keeps me too busy. So if I'm manic and busy, I probably don't do things wrong as much. Yeah, but if I manic and left to my own devices, yeah, yeah, I see. So she tries to keep you on a regular, like schedule. She She helps me with the schedule. That's good. That's good. How has it been having her back now? Oh, it's good. She came back sick, so I feel but it's fine. She'll get she'll get better. She's just a sick sick I'm not a sick, sick person. I just kind of just deal, even though I'm still congested. Yeah, yeah, it seems like it's going around right now. Yeah, got a humidifier and it made it better. Oh, nice. So going back, okay, to the Roseville business. You said you have a mental block. What is it about the Roseville people that you don't like? The Roseville Kaiser people, I think them telling me, three weeks they gave me a bad taste, yeah, turned you off from them, because it puts me right back to where I was when I was in San Jose. And they did it to me. I got out of the mental hospital, and then they told me, Oh, in three weeks, we can see you three weeks. I mean, I just was one day out of the hospital. Yeah, I didn't have any money to get, like, private therapy. I didn't have any resources I just got. I just lost my job. I just everything was just falling apart. Yeah, yeah, you were really relying on them when they let you down. And for a year, it was that way. And then finally, I, before Kaiser took over Medi Cal, we had to go through another ala Media Alliance or something like that. Okay, it's like another agency. I What is it called? When, when you get upset and you write I, I filed a grievance against San Jose, and that's when my life changed, and I had all of these great resources to my help. When Pleasanton took over, gotcha, they were a lot more attentive to you, and maybe that's because I did the grievance. Who knows you finally got the help. You I finally got help. And it wasn't like it was to me how it should have been the whole time. Maybe I would have, maybe I wouldn't have spiraled so horrifically after being in the mental hospital, if they would have cared for me a little better, and I wouldn't be in this space now where I still don't have, I don't have the ability to do the jobs that I did before. I don't, I don't. I just wish I did. I really, really do. I mean, I try, I think about it, and I try to, like, rehearse, like, what it what it would be like, what would you do, Clinton? What if you didn't have mom? What if you didn't have this gift of being able to survive because your family loves you? What the fuck would Clinton do? And over and over again, I think I don't know how I don't, I don't, I couldn't, I don't. I couldn't do my job. That a job that I did before. Yeah, I don't even speak well enough anymore to, like, come off it like I'm even slightly this is this guy that made companies millions and millions of dollars. Now it just sounds like some far fetched pipe dream of some weirdo. It feels like a different lifetime to you. It just doesn't even make sense, you know? So when? So when the Roseville Kaiser people treat you that way, it just brings you back to this makes you feel like you're getting off track. Yeah, I guess it did get me off track, but that also give me because my mind does that to me, it's just not it's just the brain is cruel. So what do you think your next steps are, as far as talking to a psychiatrist? I think I gonna talk with Abby on the fourth I think it's coming up and then, or I can just reach out to the 800 number and try to get a med, a med check, look. Or I can call Dr Greenwood too. Yeah, I might just, I might just try to do DR Greenwood and tell her that I need her to look at my medication for me real quick, because I know I just got out of an episode and and you're probably going to call Abby and tell her that, and they'll probably do that for me anyhow, hopefully, yeah. So have you still been going to your bipolar support group? I didn't go the last two weeks. I just there was something. I don't know what turned me off on that one, but I can go back those things, and people change them so often. So I just was in a bad cycle. I think, yeah, have any like, like friends right now, my one friend that I was hanging out with, I decided isn't a bigger judge, isn't a good isn't good for me. What made you decide that things I know that he was doing that I know that I would be doing if I stayed where I'm hanging with him. So drugs, just drugs and just not caring, just you have to live by a code, at least I do. I need to be follow the rules. I only need to break rules just to break rules. In a bad person isn't a bad person, it's just, you know, some people skirt the edges of life. Sounds like he was going through a hard time too, yes. And I can't, like, I don't want to down the guy, like, and say, this is, he's getting help. He's in his he's getting, he's in a special program of some sort that's good helping him. It's like, you know, he's a halfway house. I think, okay, yeah, yeah. So you don't have any friends right now, no, but that's okay. I mean, I need to, like, make new for new friends I need to figure out. And I'm like, almost close enough to, like, feeling I can go to the meet some old people I'm getting my I know I'm like, my brain is almost ready for it. Okay, you just need a little bit more time. Yeah, because I know I don't know how to talk to anyone that's old. We know how to conversate, yes, but not I just don't. We don't have, like, even music in common with each other, talking about electronica. What's that? Yeah, so you're gonna have to be in the right mindset for this, yeah. So you said your mom, she's home, she's sick, but she typically puts you on a schedule, yeah? So what's that gonna look like now? Oh, schedules back to normal, already. Okay? Walk me through what your schedule is looking like. Well, I get up about seven, good 637, sometimes, and then that's my free time, because mom sleeps in, oh yeah, she gets up about 10 or 11, okay, yeah. And so that gives me, like time to, like, do whatever I need to do, like, without anyone, like, following me. Would you like to do in your free time? I don't know. I don't I'm always trying to fix something, believe it or not, or improve something. Okay, yeah, see, just kind of like work around the house. I work around the house. I mean, it could be organized. I take so freaking long to do everything. It could be like. The other day, I just reorganized the cupboard underneath my bathroom, and it took four hours. It seemed like, wow, oh, because I'll get like in my head, and then I'll like, take the doors off the off the cupboard and try to make sure that they're oiled properly brings in the hinges. I do really weird. I go, like, I overthink it too much. Yeah, you do a really, really good job. It's like, really, really clean. And then it's wallpapered and new flooring in the bath, in the cupboard. Yeah, yeah, I just completely redo it, yeah, then I think it needs lighting or something, you name it, I'll figure out a way to blow it up. One thing just leads to the next, yeah. And then if I finish it, that's good. Usually the case is I don't quite finish it, and then I'm left with this, like, half assed project that I need to, like half ass continue to work on, because I'm too mentally exhausted to complete it. But I just know that I have to, yeah, do you go back to your projects, or do you just start? I circle back, okay, that's good. I mean, I have to, because, like, yeah, I even, even me. I get upset that I don't get them done. I used to always get everything done. You're very good at that project management and checking the boxes. Yeah, yeah, you were really efficient. Yeah. Now I'm still make efficiencies. I try to, but sometimes I spend so long trying to build this efficiency that I don't I might as well not have done it at all, because I made it so obsolete, because I took so long to do it. So your mom wakes up around 10 or 11, and then what do you do? Whatever? She needs, and then I continue my projects, and my gardening starts in the afternoon, after it cools down a little, but then it gets hotter here in the afternoon, so it's then it ends up being like me doing it at like seven o'clock or eight o'clock at night, okay? And that's when I water and prune, yeah, so once the sun is going down, yeah, no, actually, usually it's dark, and I could just put a headset on my head and just I know, go at it in the dark. Actually, I did some really good pruning. One time when I was didn't have no lights, I just kind of pruned by feel. Oh, wow, that's talent. Yeah, I'm Edward Scissorhands. If it's dying, I'll kill it. I'll cut it out. You don't, because a plant doesn't grow unless you get rid of all the death. My personal theory on this stuff. So, yeah, we have a lot of big, huge ass rose bushes now they're kind of small. Okay, that's all right, it's the end of the season, right? Yeah, and she doesn't want to back anyhow, so, yeah. So do you eat your meals at the same time each day? What does that look like? We eat meals at the same time, about 630 or dinner, yeah, I make food usually, or we order out sometimes. Okay? And what time do you have lunch? Um, lunch. I eat my breakfast in the morning. Okay, so you have, like, brunch, yeah, brunch. And then I usually just snack lunch, because I'll make her her lunch, because she doesn't eat lunch till like two. So I snack lunch and then she has her whatever I make her, what she don't cook anything. Okay, so you're the cook of the family. Yeah, no, she doesn't like to anymore. How do you feel about cooking? Oh, fly as long as I get my trivoli, and now I got it back. So I'm happy we got it back. Do those trevoli things a lot. It's like the meal service. They send you a kit, but they're, like, Chef inspired. They're actually very good, nice. So you just have to put it together. You just have to, like, chop a couple vegetables and do a couple things. They're not like, crazy, okay, that's nice, easier. Yeah, no, it helps my brain. Because, like, that's one of the things. Like, I the processes of getting it started to take way too long. Then people would be, like, starving, because it takes me so long to, like, get the process going. I see where that's just, like, three steps. Anyone can do three steps. Even me more, like, just right in front of you, yeah. And then you hit it with a scantron, and it scans it, and it just cooks it perfectly for you, wow. So you don't have to sit there and like, over it, yeah, that's crazy. My eyes are bugging me so bad. Yeah, I've noticed you like, closing an eye, is it like, allergies or what's going on? Oh, the fans on in my room, and I've been, like, suffering with the allergies. G Kim, congested, and I've been working a lot in the garage and getting things situated. So, knowing me, I'm I know that I glue some sawdust into my eyes, then they I'm still suffering the consequences of that little accident. That's not good. I know, but if I go flush them, they'll be fine. Okay, that's good. So what time do you usually go to bed? Oh, this varies. I'm a night owl. Generally. I like fall asleep fairly early, if you don't lose around I'll, like, fall asleep at like, 10 or 11, okay, and then I'll wake up at like, one or something. Oh, what do you do when you wake up? Then, I don't know, then I just get on the computer or fart around our placement, or I like the pain at that hour, no one's around, we're all clean. Start cleaning something. Oh, wow, I don't force myself to sleep. If I'm awake, I'm awake, and I don't stay in bed. If I'm awake, I don't lay in bed good, because that's not healthy for me. Yeah, that makes you feel really frustrated. Yeah, I'm not willing to like watch TV in bed either. Really, even though I have a TV in my room, I don't like sit there and like, watch TV. Yeah. So when do you typically go back to bed then, oh, generally, like, I fall back to sleep, like, sometimes right away, like an hour later, sometimes I'm up to like four, okay, sleep two hours and get back up to seven. Yeah, then I struggle all day and do my little nodding off thing, right, right? So you feel tired a lot. Yeah. Exhausted, tired. How do you manage just to wake up at the same time each day? I have a lot of alarms. Okay, I am a morning person. I like the mornings so it gives me, gives me a reason to be up. I don't like, I don't like dusk, or what is the Twilight? I don't that time of day at all. It's scary, and I've had problems with dusk for many years. See for your sun rises to sunset? Oh, yeah, no, I like sunset. Dusk is that time right before the sunset? Oh, okay, it's a sundowner thing. My body really gets fucked up with that. So I just can't wait for me to get dementia or something. I'll be really fucked because they get all messed up when they have least my experience with working with people that have had dementia, I'm not smart enough to get it, so only the smart people get very smart, no, but those are no and I'm not a good person. So this is only good people and people that are smart, dementia, sad, Huh, interesting. Where did you learn that just my own observations, a lot of smart people in my family got it. Gotcha so. So Quinton, I also want to spend a little bit of time today going back to your goals, your goals for therapy, and if you remember one of your goals is to increase your understanding of your psychosis. How do you think you've increased it so far. I caught myself. Someone tell didn't tell me that I was there. Someone didn't tell me I was manic this time. Okay? I think I caught myself being manic. You realized that I caught myself, yeah, yeah, nice. Not that it's good that I caught myself, that I should have caught it earlier, but I still caught myself, and I was brave enough to call the Kaiser and tell them that I had that sexual encounter, I just didn't let it go. Yeah, that takes some courage. Yeah, what would you like to learn about your psychosis in the future? I Why does it happen? Why? I mean, what is it? Have I always been that way and just never knew it. Sorry I got lost there in my thoughts, no, you're all good. I was thinking about it too. What was on your mind? I don't know. It felt like a huge like, fast, forward, rewind, stop, spit out the tape deck and put it back in replayed. Lots of bracing thoughts, yeah, that's another thing that I observed during this time, when I manic, I don't think about death as much. It's kind of weird. My idea is that maybe that my brain doesn't have time, still busy thinking about other things. Yeah, because I didn't, I was thinking about it, and I was like thinking, yeah, it was like, not there. It was like, I was I thought that was interesting. It's nothing, I want to kill myself. It just, I always think, it's, you know, it's just the act of thinking about it all the time, right, right, yeah, speaking of that, Quentin, would you be open to doing your survey today before we wrap things up? Okay, I can put it in the Can we go through it together, or do I need to fill it out? No, we can go through it together. Okay, so I don't know if I can cognitively. Oh, I get what you're saying. Um, I'll try send this to me. You can do it that way. I don't think it's Yeah, Kaiser does that sometimes they like to share, but I understand how yours works, yeah, I wish we could. No, I have to do something. Chat box, yeah, all right, there you go, you can let me know if any questions come up about any of The items? Yeah, I'm sure they haven't changed. No, I is kava considered a drug? Yes, but I think it's more like an herb. I've been drinking a lot of Kava. Oh, what have you noticed? Very it helps me sleep in me. Oh, interesting. I staying, yeah, I pretty can't have, like, a calming type of fact, yeah, where are you getting it? There's a kava restaurant that is DoorDash. Oh, nice. I don't know how legal that is, but yeah, my Yeah, the place is called the happiness of life, okay, yeah, yeah, right now, I mean, it's not regulated, so you can get a $17 kava brought to you. Wow, luxury. It's a luxury. Yes, it's better than going there. It's it's a shit show. Too many people, too many hipsters for me, yeah, it's a kava bar. So people go and sit there and socially drink Kava. I Hmm, it's getting more and more popular. I'm just staring at these. Sorry, no, that's okay being easily. Yes, it's been bad lately. Yes, That was a Good catch. You how's your dog doing? Well? Thank you. Being a little bit more quiet today, so that's good. If I sell my car, and my mom said I can have a dog. Oh, that would be so fun for you. What kind of dog would you like? Macaba poo. Oh, yes, I could definitely see that or a Paddington. I don't think I've ever seen one of those. They look just like Paddington bears. Oh, so cute. Those ones even come potty trained, really, that's helpful. $4,700 in a year. Wait, a lot of work. No, the year, wait is the thing that's mind boggling to me. Yeah, you have to pay for it ahead of time, and then later year, wow, is everything going okay with the Questions? I'm yeah, I'm at mood right now, and I these are the important ones that I feel understood and respected by my therapist strongly agree. I am making progress. Yes, agree. I don't see it as if I answer, I don't remember answering the death question, but if I did wrong, we'll see you're done. All right, let me take a look here. Okay, yeah, your anxiety is way up since the last time we talked. Depression is up a little bit. Yeah, you marked off some thoughts about death. Would you say those are still like passive thoughts, very passive. Okay, now that it's not like last week, okay, I was trying, like, I was trying to say, Hey, this is, yeah, it was an interesting observation that I didn't think about it as much well. Remember, Clinton, you have your safety plan. Yes, go to that. If these thoughts start really bothering you. On my end, I'm going to reach out to Abby. I want to make sure we all get on the same page with your treatment, and hopefully we can get you talking to a psychiatrist too. Yeah, because I think that would be really helpful. Um, but yeah. Otherwise, I will talk to you same time next week, okay? I thank you for your thank you. Yes, take care of yourself. All Right, bye, all Right. Bye. You. Did you have the shit to my bathroom? I ma, did you have the shits in my bathroom? Did you have the poops in my bathroom? A couple of times? Okay, because I could smell it. That's okay. It's just, it's when I, when I first went To the Therapy. You some of Us Stronger than this, somewhere, I could be myself. Him. I need help. All right, what happened? I It. What happened? What happened? What happened? Yeah, it's rough, open. Oh. So if you were watching the DMC, you may have noticed during the world you last after the past governors have pledged out against a champion for voting rights, civil rights, LGBTQ rice, the rice for women and girls. So Democrats and independents, it's time for us to do the right program. Right President Trump and people have seen national security. Cardio state is considered between state of color. Portion Everest is about two points that said, CBS two can open coverage from the DMZ with Fairfield. All of a sudden, you get to the valley floor, and we are, indeed warm, 80s coming into the nose now. We're warmer than, for example, the delta, and we're warmer than you could say the immediate coastline, and when I say warmer, I'm talking about the valley floor. But we are not as warm as yesterday. Afternoon. High was 96 degrees today, 92 coming from Roseville for Antwerp, low 80s and four, Zero 80s. Able to identify a suspect using video evidence, and James Garvin turned himself in yesterday. He's been booked on charges of kidnapping, false imprisonment and assault with great bodily injury. Sacramento, her mother says she had no idea she died for more than a year. Your reporter covering Sacramento County, Madison, KV spoke to that Mother, now taking legal action, she was just a fun, loving person that was to be disheartened back Jesse Peterson in the work of her mother, ginger, the last time they spoke was April of last year. Peterson had just been admitted to Mercy San Juan Medical Center due to a diabetic episode. I gave the hospital a phone call and wanted to be transferred to Jesse's room, and they said they didn't have anybody there by that name. Peterson's family was told she was discharged medical advice at that point in time, we thought, you know, maybe she's just gone silent for a while. And you know, she was resurfaced again, her name and photo plastered around Sacramento. She was officially reported missing, I just programmed myself to be looking constantly. A phone call from the Sacramento County Sheriff's Office gave Peterson's family their first answer in a year. It wasn't even 24 hours after she died that they shipped her all to some storage facility in a freezer up on a shelf. The family's lawsuit alleges Peterson's body was transferred to the hospital's off site cold storage facility. A copy of her death certificate shows two dates, one in April of 2023 when Peterson died in the hospital of cardiopulmonary arrest the second date in April of 2024 that's when her death was reported to the coroner. I don't think that it's right that any family have to go through something like this. In a statement to CBS 13, a Dignity Health spokesperson says, We extend our deepest sympathies to the family during this difficult time, we miss her dearly. It's like a piece of us are missing and it just can't be replaced. Family asking for $5 million in that lawsuit for emotional distress as well as neglect by the hospital. Up, yes, my Social Security is 615073561, I. Clinton Fernandez. Date of birth, August, August, 25 night, 1974 Okay, and the mailing address. This is what all got me. Everything messed up was the mailing address, 6660 6197 strawberries. Station loop, Roseville, California, nine. What is it? 95747, so, 61 this is for yourself, right? Yes, ma'am. Okay, and what is the best phone number for you? The best phone number, 279-675-8746, 8746, okay, give me one minute. Sorry. My speech is very bad. Okay, um, how can I help you today, it looks like you moved from Alameda County to Placer County. Yes. The big problem is, I'm in the middle of my treatment at Kaiser, and no one tell me that they gonna drop me. And like, I have many, many doctors. Like, I mean, the psych, my psych, my psych stuff is on a weekly basis, like daily, like, every and now Kaiser said they dropped me. I And then I talked to the county, and they told me that I had to call you for you to help get emergency reinstatement. And he said, it's maybe not that quick, as if they're thinking, but I can't go two months, two months without the what I'm in the middle of, and I can't pay the $500 to see my therapist every time like the bill says, okay, is the address that you told me that if that's the new address, yes, ma'am, okay, so because you did a county transfer, so right now you're on hold, but just give me few minutes, I can help you to request to remove the hold, and then I can also help you to enroll into the new Kaiser in your county, if you want today, I need to do as much as I can, because, like, I have many doctors, doctors tomorrow. Just give me one minute. Okay, okay, Thank you. Do. Here. How can. Okay, so I just requested to remove the Hold for you the room, the whole removal will take about three business days, and then after three business days, you will be back to strict medical so you can with any doctor that Kaiser don't that work that way In all my care, from my psych is a Kaiser. I'm under the middle, I'm in the middle of my treatment. Yeah, sure. I haven't I haven't finished my my sentence yet. I tell you to remove the hold, and then it would take three business days to remove the hold, but, but you can still with any doctor, as long as the doctor accept medical. So if you need to visit the Kaiser, you still can as long as the Kaiser accept medical. Okay, the other guy told me it's already been released, though, if you go onto the state website, no, like I said, I just requested the whole removal for you, okay, and it would take free business. I know what you're saying, man, but he told me that you would tell me something like that at the county, but it's not on hold since just my address was the changed, but Alameda County still has me on straight Medical right now. Does that make sense? Yes, you do. That's what I'm trying to say. Okay, I'm sorry. This has all been too much for me. It's I'm just sorry this is they why did I didn't. They didn't tell me anything I would had prepared the better for this. Want to be back in the hospital. Okay, hold yourself together. All right, okay, so I have to call you back in three days. Is that what I hear? No, if you want, I can enroll you into arrow. You into the new Kaiser. Okay, then let's, let's do that would be I would hang thank you for that. Okay, give me one minute. Let me try to get you with a Kaiser enrollment specialist, and then I will be right back. Either they will help you, or I will continue to help you, okay, thank you for your time and service. Thank you then good. Thank you patience. Okay, give me one minute. I will be right back. You. Hello, I'm back. Are you still here? Yes, okay, so I do have a Kaiser enrollment specialist on the line. She will continue to help you with Kaiser. Okay, so now that then, then they just, they'll help me with this enrollment now. Yes, thank you. Thank you for calling healthcare options. If you saw the option to take the solely, please stay in the light. Have a good day. Thank you. Hi, good afternoon. I am Raisa, and I'm going to proceed with your concern. Before we proceed with your concern, can you verify for me your full name one more time? Frank Clinton Fernandez, thank you, Frank. And can you tell me your date of birth? August 25 1974 Thank you. And lastly, your address on file, please. My address is one second. Address is address 6197 strawberries, station loop, Roseville. 95747, thank you. One moment, and would you like to add the phone number on your record? Frank, yes, put the phone number. Is it not going to match my old record, record, records? No, I just want to check if you have a phone number that you want to add. It's an optional so if you don't have it, I have a phone number. It's, I think it's the 415-926-0137, okay, thank you. One second, do you want my medical record number? I know one moment, I can see that you had Kaiser in Alameda County. So I can use that turn value to Kaiser and plaster county one moment, let me see if Kaiser is offered on your zip code and second, please. One moment, I've already been seeing the octaves in PLA in this area. Okay, no worries. I'm just going to process an enrollment for you, for Kaiser and pleasure, and they said it had to be expedited because I'm in the process of the I have a lot of psych stuff, and the my psychiatry, this, this, they know. They never gave me any warning that they cannot drop me. So what they can, if you want to expedite the enrollment for Kaiser, call us back in two to three business days to see if there is an effective date appearing on your record for Kaiser. If there is, we will refer you to the ombudsman office who has the ability to expedite the enrollment, but subject further approval. Yeah, they had to do this for now, I'm going to process for a certain enrollment in Kaiser, in Placer one second, and I will also process this enrollment for you, for Kaiser in Alameda, so that it will not affect with the enrollment for doing in class. I'm about to dissemble you seize her in Alameda County and enroll you to Kaiser in Placer County and second. One. It please. So Frank, I was able to process this enrollment for you for Kaiser and in Alameda County and enrolled you to Kaiser in Placer County. So this is what you're going to expect in the coming days. In seven to 10 business days, you will receive two letters. The first letter you will receive is called the disenrollment letter, confirming that you are disenrolled from Kaiser with the effective date of the disenrollment another letter will be a confirmation letter confirming that you are involved with Kaiser with effective date of the plan. Don't be confused if you are receiving two conflicting letters, because the other one is a disenrollment that you are disenrolled from Alameda Kaiser, and another letter is a confirmation letter that will confirm that you are involved with Kaiser in Placer County. Once you are involved with Kaiser, you are going to receive an ID and a welcome packet from them. And right now, while waiting for Kaiser's effective date, you are still covered under regular medical so if you have medical concerns, from today until the start date of your plan, you can go to any provider that takes the medical card, and you have the option to change plans at any time, just give us a call. What I'm saying is I'm like, have active appointments still with the Kaiser, and then are you they gonna reimburse for this time, for these because I can't afford the $500 every time to see my therapist twice a week, and then I see the psychiatrist, and then I see that I have many medical issues going on simultaneously, and then they lots of money it gets. You know, if you look at my bill there, you probably see so if you want to expedite the involvement for Kaiser, call us back in two to three business days to see if there is an effective date appearing on the system for Kaiser. And if there is, we can give you the number the of the departments that expedite the enrollment but subject further approval. Yes, the Office of I very familiar the head problem was before. So call us back first into the three business days, and we will see if there is an effective date. And if there is, then you can call ombudsman the request for the expedite. Does Kaiser manage my plan here, like they did in in the Bay Area, or is another company manage my Kaiser? It is Kaiser that we are processing your involvement with. So I'm not sure who. Okay, so this Kaiser then, yeah, yeah, it's Kaiser, not another company, unless they, unless they are in contract with another one. But it's Kaiser that you're enrolling with. So most likely it will be cancer Kaiser. Is it the same plan? Because, like, I don't pay anything because I don't make any money. I made it. I've been, haven't worked since. These are all free. These are all free or under. It's a state funded program, so basically, it's free, and I cannot see any share of cost that you have to pay something however, of course, there are services sometimes that's not covered by the plan. That's the time that you are going to pay share of costs. But other than that, should be the Kaiser should be covered once you become approved with them. Okay, so I can call Kaiser and see if they'll just let me go to my doctors. Is that double check with them? Because we just process the enrollment. You're not yet active. Enrolled with Kaiser in Placer, now just double check if they are, just inform them that you are in the process of being active with Kaiser. You just involved with medical and it's not just active. Can you still go to Kaiser facilities? You can double check them that information. Okay? Thank you for your time. I have to check back with you in three days. That's what I remember to find out. Is there something online that I don't, that I check for you, or then I can, or is it only the phone call? Much better that you call us so that we can see if there is a pending involvement already. For Kaiser, yeah, okay, thank you. Yeah, you have our you have our number, right? Yes, I do. I save it already, okay? And if you didn't, do you have any more concerns before we end the call? No, thank you. And I just don't like that. They don't tell anybody. Just like, thankfully I got my medications that so much I'm on, like, a lot of psych med man, medications like, $1,000 notify you. Nobody tell me not. They did not notify you. No notify they don't say nothing. They just give me a letter and then think saying you cancel, yeah. Oh, and it took them three months to even update my address. Otherwise it would have been done months ago, months ago. I could have had this fixed, because I moved here in April. So good thing you have your good thing, I told us, so we can pass the enrollment for you in plaster, so if you don't have any more concerns, thank you for calling out corruptions, and if you chose to take this survey, please remain On the line and have A great day. Bye. You Hey, do you have any money on your Uber because I only have $13 in my account. You know, I I don't know. I did send you 13, and you Tell me if it goes through You, I just sent you 13. I It went through I welcome back to 1762, 1762, Here I found another 10 bucks. You mark, okay, you should have enough now. I. I get it. Okay, so I'll see you in a little while. Whenever you get here. Okay, bye. I

Hello Hi how are you? Good. How about you? Okay let's take you outside today. Yeah, I'm gonna go back inside as my neighbor came outside so there's too much sound Okay, so that's like the outside of your house there. Yeah. Greenery. Yeah, it's we just moved in here. So it's ugly yard. It's not done yet it needs to be redone. It's like, yeah, I've learned of it. We're doing things it's a needs of a lot of work that the houses are cheap here so you can have new things. That's good. Your mom like bought the house? Yeah, we bought it. She bought it. Because she sold her house in Livermore. Okay, never afford to take care of me this time. So this house is only 650,000 Wow. It's a pretty big house. I mean, it's two bedroom. Yes, that in Livermore 1200 square feet for two bands. So it's single level. Yeah. Well, how have you been doing this week? tough week, not next. If we kind of bad wave. It's tough. I'm still getting justed to this life here and meeting new people and trying to establish who's gonna be my friends and not my friends and how do I meet people? The only way I know how to meet people is to do things that are like I go back to my old ways like I don't know how to meet people. When when I'm not social. If I'm being like, an introvert, I don't meet anybody and I just kind of don't do anything. Okay, but when I'm like manic I'm this happier, funnier, more charismatic person. So I struggle with that. I think internally Yeah. Would you say right now you're feeling more like manic or more depressed. It's such a switch. It goes back and forth on me. I can. I mean, I like Microsoft macrocycle all the time. I see. Just the how I'm feeling about who's stalking me at the moment, which I still think is going on. And it's like, I'm trying not to try. It got really heavy this week. And I mean, that's some of it, too. I mean, I think I I tell you that I sat in front of this place because I thought someone was following me for like almost four hours because I just couldn't get out of the parking lot because they were like, just everyone was like watching me. That sounds terrifying. And they were like videotaping me and like looking at me and like and then I see these like it's all like things like when you guys ask me do you see hidden messages or people talk to you? Yeah, all that crazy bullshit this that's what happens to me. And it's just like what is gonna lead up? Yeah, it's like, I don't know if it's physically possible for people to be tracking me that way. Why would they even care? You question what their motivation could be to do when what what on earth could it possibly be that I did so bad? Or so weird? That like whatever that would be that even catch on like that. It's just not feasible. Or like new there people really don't know you? Oh, no, this is this thing. group of people followed me from the Bay Area. This is the like, my fan club is worldwide. Believe it or not me it's so shitty. My brain is it doesn't give me like any relief. It just makes it oh are so worldwide club. Your papers? Yeah. You're Roseville Yeah. And you can't think of any logical reason why but you just have a feeling that this happened. Because I used to do these things that I don't do them anymore because I think they were really there. They were bad. Have you ever heard of those zoom? Rooms before? No. They're really grim as they there's a lot of gays that get in these rooms and they do drugs and do sex and the rooms all on Zoom. It all started during the pandemic basically these things these little hidden taboo cultures. Scenarios still exist pretty heavily and there's like seven 800 900 people in a room at a time. Wow. Yeah. So that within everyone in there thinks that you're under a secrecy because you're you're doing something illegal, that everyone else being there because your cameras have to be on is illegal. So everyone's doing the same thing illegally at the same time illegally. So in theory, no one's supposed to like be having any one up on anyone. But there's this thing that they call call this promo or something. And it's like they tend to think that it's a kind of like making fun of people in a way like Phil's like you know, like they do on tick tock and all these like, like social media kind of things that like produce a little something about something. And this all could also be all coming from my brain to so I don't know how much of this is 90% Sure, because I've done it. I've got enough like, like things that I feel that it's real hmm so the Zoomer wanting to understand this though, like feature somebody, or they feature somebody and I think maybe I was featured and then that's what happened is because I probably did something I don't know. alunos with me and my what what creative side I find a pull off one night you know if I was you went in drag or did something very off color into my that I can see myself doing if I was in the right mindset. Being a pregnant nun out there in front of all these pupils for some reason, because that's when I decided to do one of my Halloween costumes one year. But so I had this like, I don't I don't know, I could be making my brain could be making it all up. And they can't talk about it with anybody because there's nobody he's just so you're sworn to secrecy and then things like that and like it's like you can't and then most people unless you do do those things you wouldn't know about it. It's very finite select Group. And if you tell somebody to go do it, they'll come up to it. As like you're like, it doesn't exist. And then because they vet you to be able to get into the groups and it takes weeks to be able to be invited in I see. Huh? So you feel like you did something off the wall and now you can't remember doing it. I don't really I don't I don't remember half the thing is that I don't I don't remember that when I'm on. Like my whatever. When I'm super super manic. I can go weeks without remembering things that happened in the during this periods of time. And I come up blank. Like it's like a whole nother person and takes over at that point. And it's like there's there's just the the kind of person that person doesn't give. Like, I always tried to call myself accountable for what I do. And I'm hard on myself and I know that there's like I want to Yeah, but I don't think my other version of me. Does much care though they're pretty Yeah. Wild. You feel like he's another Saturday. It's really like lawless. Their law Dr. Lawless above the mean, they don't the laws wouldn't apply because they don't I don't know. So this is the I've never told him about those. I mean, I've talked to people, one of the persons I told him that he kind of made me feel like Oh it didn't exist and but then he also worked for Google and then it's like then I started but maybe he was part of it. Maybe he was in it with like my sister when this all and it's also possible my sister started all these wheels in action because there was just a lot of drama in my family with things and I got the short end of the stick because I stayed out of it in the sense with my mom, but my mom and my sister were going through because I know for a fact that my sister sent people in I went to like it was really none of her business but like group sex orgy thing and was there with some friends and so in the middle of this like event I was at I get a phone call from my mom. And she says, Well, what are you doing? Where are you at? I told you your history. I know where you're at. And I says Mom, I'm at the hotel. I told you I was going to be at the hotel and she says you're at an orgy. Your sister told me what are you doing there? And it's like, Mom, remember you invented orgies, it's just scripts X. You're from the seven easier. That was very normal. It was just like so my sister put that went into effect like literally and I know that you were going to the orange because my boyfriend my ex boyfriend at the time was being he still is still stalks Me and does weird shit. Now I'm but now I'm here it's not quite as bad. Okay, so that'd be there was some sort of I know there's some proven starting and some proven mistress things that were going along with my sister and some like PIs that were she was having like, follow me to try to pin me down to saying that I was doing something notorious or something wrong but I really was not doing anything wrong ever it was that was proven that that was proven that I didn't end proven that I do have an actual mental situation going on. That's now she understands that piece because she thought it was all a faking, faking, faking it all and I was trying to do it to get like the Social Security money and it's just one quarry. That's so crazy. Why would I want to make an extra $150,000 a year? Right? So I'm gonna go and make my 67,000 or $80,000 a year on Social Security. Just because I want don't want to make an extra 150 That doesn't make any sense. Right? Through my whole life away my everything my life savings. Just to get on Social Security. Yeah. It's stupid. Tell me more about your sister. Is she younger than you older than you? She's my younger sister. But everyone would think she's my older sister. Okay, this is not in a bad way. It's just an ongoing thing. It she gets pissed off about that. But you know what she from the same mother and father as you before your parents split up was you know she was a baby she was a baby when they divorced. Yes. Gotcha. Okay, very um my sister's always been like jealous of my shipments in a way because I I work really hard and I've done a lot of things and I've met a lot of people and gone a lot of places and done many, many things that are not normal. And I've always been very, very time to my sister with things. And like, so maybe it's jealousy. sibling, sibling, my mom because it's sibling rivalry. There I bet it's only one sided. It's not me. I don't have any part of that. Zangief Cory everything even now even though I can't stand her at times. I would still give her everything I have. You care about her? No, I care about her. You know, number one. She's like my family. I mean, it's the only one that can I mean And just to clarify, she are only siblings. She's my only biological for blood sister. Okay, has one half brother and two more other brothers that are Step Brothers, but they're kind of disassociated from the family since my dad died. Okay, gotcha. That's partly because my mum went crazy and started dating people after I did. Didn't the family didn't approve? Nicely, okay. So your sister Her name is Cory. Cory. Yeah. Clinton according so when she started having people follow you, it was because she was like concerned about you and oh no, she wanted to prove me wrong did put me in bad light under my mom. That's why she had the call. Tell him Why would you tell your seven year old mother that your son was at an orgy? That's just like ridiculous. Yeah. And then like I that one time that I had that the drug sting problem that I just I told my mom that I had the problem. So there was no problem. Because my sister said she was like unloading this big huge problem with my mom. So she went and gave my mom the whole story about me using drugs and I and my mom had to tell her what Yeah, your brother saw me quite a while ago, and he's been getting help get you in trouble? Yeah, trying to think just to like make her cuz like, she's throwing shade on whatever like she's as wrong like me she's I mean I always find when people throw shade that pad is because they're doing something wrong. They're the ones that the hiding something or doing something with Tory is I'm open book candles or whatever you want to mess up and me and my sister both mess up and allergies badly. One only thing me and her have similar to each other is that that's the only thing otherwise her skin color is white. I'm brown. She's like was well educated like she could like she's a smart girl smart girl. But I was dyslexic and had struggled. But then she was just in G like got up and quit her job like eight years ago. She does the same job for 21 years. It hasn't worked since. And then she left my mom pay for everything during that time. And when I got sick, and I'm moved back to mom's it just was coincidence that moms started running out of money at that time too. Because my sister used it all. My mom has been like the lid. My sister has two children. So she was spending like 34 440 $500 a month to support them. So you mean it's a lot of money? No. Yeah, sorry. I'm gonna set my dog down. Kind of doggy. I'm gonna see. Oh, she's she walked away. She's a shitzu have a nice I love that. My Teddy was he was she the angel ears. Oh yeah. I can never remember that name. Datsun and Corgi. Oh, sounds so cute. So it was basically the the length of the corgis or the the dirtiness of the Corgi, how they're kind of thick. And then it had those Angel ears in the tail that whipped up really high. Puppy on there we go. Yes. I mean, it's like butterfly right? Yeah. Yeah, that was my chatty. Oh, yeah, but now I want to get a say King Charles. I think my next dog is going to be that if I get money ever again. Yeah. That would be such a nice little companion. Yeah, they're $4,500 though, but I've found some places that might be able to give like, compassionate place them helped me get one cheaper. Yeah. That's your sister that helps. So overall, it sounds like now you feel like people are stalking you and watching. Yeah, no, no, no, I don't feel like Cory stock is stalking me anymore. Because no Corey gets money again from my mom. So no one no one bitches. When everyone gets their money. You know, so that I mean, of course they're not going to no one's gonna have any problems. Mom, you're feeding that you're feeding the beast. I mean, you came her butter. You paid her rent for three years. I mean, come on you. You're not fixing anything. So this might have been like planted the seed for you. That people are watching you. Maybe it's just ongoing since the it should it was some sort of thing that metastasized into this like, crazy thing. And then I tried to put all these photographs together to like make it understand it like it's this this did this really happen Yeah. So in your family, has anyone else struggled with these problems that you know of? I believe the My aunt has issues but everyone hates things and they they don't it's not bipolar. It's this or is the they won't get help for it because they they'll deny that it was that or you know, just people people like there's just not smarter than helping like, but we also have like, like Jesse or my niece. She's a therapist like you she's like, but she knows she can't talk about see she knows it's her her mom. That's the the court the issue. No, my Jessica isn't my niece. I grew up with her a lot too. So she's not my niece. She's like cousin. Okay, we get cousins and aunts and uncles and all those things frickin misstep? Because it might we were, if they were older than you they were Auntie or uncle. Period even if they were cousin. Epic's because it's respect to like weird. Stupid, we're family things. Where was I going with it? So my aunt Julie has problems. But I didn't have like some of the things she had go on. Like she had an aneurysm and her brain popped. So she they haven't made big things that happened to but I don't have that. So I can't say we're side by side comparison. Because we're not Gotcha. Tell me just talking a little bit more broadly about this whole picture here of you and your family. What's your cultural background? I'm Spanish and Portuguese and Scottish. Okay, yeah. And so pretty. You know, typical white. I mean, like, my grandparents when they came here to America, they didn't want to learn they need to do you need to learn English? And you don't speak Spanish and you don't do this. You don't speak Portuguese. You are white and you learn how to be white. That's how they say they can't we came from Spain over to Hawaii, Hawaii to Hayward. So that's quite a journey. Yeah, whatever on the Mayflower on those boats. This is long time ago. So I mean, you were just like is my mom is a year away really want to just integrate? Yeah, there's the I didn't want to say that you're this or this. I mean, like, even like when I went to college and stuff like they don't they just don't have the we didn't ever I wasn't Hispanic I was just this and then but now I mean, identify probably more as Hispanic. Gotcha. Okay. And then on your dad's side, was he Scottish? My dad is a big my grandmother from my dad's side. So my mom's side my mom is half Spanish and half Portuguese then my dad is half Spanish and half Scottish Okay, cuz his mom my grandma is full but it's got Oh, wow. Okay, let's the Johnson side of the family. Versus the front Enders. Okay, so there was a mental illness in the Johnson side to the that they didn't they hide. So people have issues but don't talk about them. Yeah, that's also really old stuff like really like I'm talking about like 50s 60s 60s time when mental illness was even more creepy than it is. Like they didn't even know what I don't even know if they call it mental illness yet. At that point. Yeah, people didn't know what to do with this to deal with those behaviors. Yeah. Gotcha. How about religion and spirituality? If they were a bit I'm not religious. I'm like, but I believe in religion, but I don't like practice of religion. I take whatever I think I take whatever I want out of that religion. Just if I want to use that piece of religion I like little pieces of everything. Yeah. So you believe in like a higher power of a wedding or like a Jewish wedding. If I'm going to a wedding they fucking do weddings wonderfully. Want to be on a chair of danced around? Me, so I really like that. That's that's the way you know. I don't like think of the godly pieces of religion the way most people do. I probably think of the events that they did or the different things is what I would want from that religion. Yeah, like the different kind of cultural traditions from the religion. Yeah. Yeah, that makes sense. Okay. Tell me a little bit more about just going along with this cultural spiritual piece. Tell me more about your name. Because I see at your at your Frank Fernandez, then you prefer to go by Clinton. That's my middle name is Clinton because my name is funny because everyone in my family. My My father wanted to name me. This is way before that even came out the movie he wanted to name me forced. Evergreen Fernandez florist evergreen Fernando. Yeah. That's like a like a real macho name. Like so my mom hated it. And then, but I said if they would have made me forced, I probably would have forced I probably would have had a different life. And then so my mom might have been an AMI Thane. So she didn't get to name me thing. So she says, Well, Clinton from Barefoot in the Park, she said I'll put Frank This is my dad's name. I'll put Clinton instead of Gilbert. Thank God my other version of thing is good. For you. That's the wild Clinton. You Yes, I didn't see here. You have F Clinton, Fernandez, Thane and parentheses. Sometimes I go by. I went by saying for a while. Okay.

But then I realized what thing was in Yeah, seems like you've seen a darker side. So no, no mouthing is actually a business. Like I'm not a business but like I use it as like an entity like a creative entity. It's like that's, Fein made. I kind of I try to make made it very not me. That's something else to do. I would say, though, that I can still be the creative person when I need to be like, that's that's thing. And he's I don't know if that makes sense. No one really I don't tell anyone about my struggles with the name thing. So it sounds like Dane has really like evolved over time. Yeah, things become Yeah. He became the cool kid on the block versus the the more it's been a journey but I have no reason to be proud of myself, because I did so many things. I mean, I've been in so many places and done like many amazing things. I mean, I don't know I don't know another person. I've met personally that Smith three presidents you've met three presidents. Yeah. Which ones? George Bush Senior George Bush. Clintons and Mr. Rowe. And oh, I met Actually no, I met the other one. I met Biden too. So I met five Wow. That's crazy. What was it like? Oh, it all depends. Each one was different. Like I guess since I'm in therapy, I can talk about that one with you. I did Mr. Oh, and his wife. The first time I met them was they were when I was working for the drinks. They were they had the suite above us. When we were in Vegas. And Michelle had the floors, the elevators locked down the towers and I had to go and get them opened because they because we were stuck up in the suites to Long story short, Linda wasn't very happy that she used her pool to have this tower shut down early. So I had to go work out this with the President's people. That was the first time I met them then then I met them again later when I worked with 23andme at the end here and I did a dinner up at Ann's house and he was there. It was not me it was only him and like three other people. Okay, very intimate. That's those things happen there. That's like I mean, Elon Musk there too. I mean, so I mean, I'm gonna do these these very interesting cool people in my life. I mean, like I sit down and had a conversation with them. Some of them I did, like George Bush senior. I have had many conversations to get Christmas cards. Yeah. I mean, Walter Cronkite. William Buckley. My Louis Vuitton bag came from William Buckley because it's the zipper broke on it. And he says, throw this thing away and I says this is the this is a was a was a double tote. Yeah, there's a lot. That's a significant bag. He's not just gets a new one. That seems crazy. I don't like the zipper. It broke twice on me, he said. So you give it you're throwing it away. He says I don't want it you can have it son. Slippers can be fixed. Oh yeah, I took it. I took actually the time to have them fix it for me. Nice. I have that bag from like I had that all the way through. Like that was in high school when I've met him. It's still okay. So that was like my call is like my bag for college. That was like, the only but there was no one really knew what it was. Yeah, I mean before though we fatahna was like kind of crazy. Popular. Okay. All right now like famous. Maybe it was famous, but it was only famous because you had to be really a lot of money. You knew what it cost. But it wasn't famous like every kid has a tattoo on their face that had a Louis Vuitton LV right? wasn't famous like that. Okay, gotcha. It's like, like if you think of to me for to me luggage. You don't realize that it's that's just the most anonymous rich person's luggage there is. No one would ever even fathom that those suitcases are 1000 to $2,000 apiece. Yeah, I don't even know that. I'm just learning that down. So I mean, all those anonymous weird black suitcases are all baller suitcases as if they had a little to me thing on it. Yeah, you know that that thing's made a ballistic nylon that things get a lifetime warranty on it. Okay. Planting you really have had just so many experiences. Like you did well for yourself. I did I can use I mean, like I was just terrified of everything like, like I was telling Dawn and my neighbor she's an 85 She drove me to the gallery to get this painting that my mom she got a new painting and I needed to help get it to the house it's just so sad that I worked so hard and did so many things and I'm now I'm just left not to be able to enjoy the same but I'm gonna have the memories but I don't know what I did so wrong in my life that made me get this jackass. Few like you have a feeling you did something horrible. Yeah, I mean. Yeah. It's just not fair. What do you think are some of your traits or qualities that helps you be so successful? I'm a I'm not. I'm a chameleon. Because I can adapt my way through anything better than a really good like. Yeah, I'm really good at that. And like really flexible. Yes, I can totally just like I and I listen heavily. I listened to everything and I'm a devil for the details. And I'm very creative and like I learned early on, like, there's only one or two things you can do for someone that has money. What is it you think you can work? What is it that you can do? If you have all the money in the world? What is it that you can do? What what would make your life more interesting if you could buy anything you wanted? I guess just the people in my life and their relationships. But that's just money too. I mean that but what is the one thing you can't do what doesn't happen on its own? It's a really easy one. When you think about it, okay, you facilitate change. That's the only thing that they can't buy. They can't just buy something that changes all the time. Someone has to actually do it. Someone has to do the research and then has to do the move someone has to do the but if you facilitate that wheel and you can change and that's why you'll see like wealthy people are always like editing their lives and editing the furniture and editing the wall and even business offices. They really need to change because they have to do that. To keep going to be able to grow. So if you can facilitate change, I see. Kind of like how celebrities are always trying to like revamp their image. Yeah. It definitely that sense of a of that, you know, very It's very odd. And I do it too. I mean, I'm always constantly I'm in constant and I always changing. Even my voice changes like I can't keep the same same same voice for some reason my handwriting doesn't ever consistent. So thanks and one thing I've noticed while you were talking just now is that you were saying that kind of like in the present tense, like I am a chameleon. I am creative. I am a good listener. I try. Yeah, so it sounds like you still have those qualities. I do but they don't they don't come out. They don't work. I can be that person. I can talk about that person. I can re about that person. I can talk about that stories of that person. But I can't make I can't I don't I don't I don't know how to do I don't know how to be that person anymore. I am that person. Yes. But I don't know how to be I don't know how to I don't know how I I don't know how I did those things. I mean, I don't even like going driving now, let alone let alone little and going dropping myself into the middle of nowhere and inventing my life again. Like I've done three times. Yeah. So you don't know how to access all these paths. Or qualities that you have inside you? Yeah. Yeah, which channels that and given your current circumstances. It's very Yeah. Like there's some new things about my life now that I kind of like tell me about that. It's kind of embarrassing that I like the sex was embarrassing because I was such a warrior person before. Maybe if I was less boring, I probably would have had more fun but then I probably wouldn't have done anything in life. Because I was. I wasn't fixed. I wasn't fixated on things like that. When I was younger, I worked and worked and I worked and I worked and I worked I worked worked more like I always say he was one my boyfriend like 10 years and like seven years, like four years. So these long term that I was only good at two things in relationship. Number one thing is I made a lot of money. I made the money man. Golden Boy they he called me he was a Mexican guy. And then I'm good at loving because I when I say I love you, I love you and I will take care of you for the rest I would still take care of even Andrew the fucking bastard I would still probably take care of him if I had to. As I love you, I can love you and I can I can make money even though I don't make no my money anymore, but we'll see. Maybe it's a security come through and then I'll be able to live a modest life and be able to help people because they can't take my stories away from me. They can't they can't charge me for me knowing what I knew. Right? If I'm not charging anyone for it, I can tell my stories. Yeah, no one can take your memories away from him. Yeah. So Frank, I was, uh, sorry, I just saw your name. I'm uh, I'm 10 Um, can we take some time now to do your survey just I thought I had it. It was on my desktop and I didn't do it. I thought Do you want me to resend send me the link and we'll do it right here. While we're talking? Yeah, email you or just chatbox it? Oh, that's even better. Yeah. Okay there you go. Not quite, we can just kind of see where you're at this week it's screaming at me who wants power to get up and go turn the power plug on and give you the opportunity to see the new piece of art Wellington live on. She cool. Yeah, that's amazing. I'm like, oh well cool gallery. Yeah. And then we got this one. She got this one. The sculpture. Okay. I got my people's thinking. Oh, yeah, that was me. This the big vessel there was such a big okay. I feel like dark and picked up on collecting art since I was a young guy. Oh, really? Yeah. I'll show you my other stuff and at another point. I have lots of art. Survey is on its way just several days later. Easily irritable has been on the rise. Okay. It's now my tolerance for my mom's drinking stuff a little lacking lately. How much does she drink? My mom's not a big lady. So it doesn't it's not the quantity of alcohol. It's just the quality of the mindset. So she gets a negative Nancy in her brain. She gets she can just I see. She makes something that's not overwhelming. super overwhelming really, really quickly. And then it goes through the process. My mom doesn't do the things half assed, she goes through the full emotional chain before she gets out of the funk. So she starts becoming a bitch and she's knows that and then she turns. We go through the full thing that's the kind and the sad and the remorseful and this happy and then back to normal. does sound really exhausted? So maybe it's my mom's on version of a mental illness. I don't know what that could be it mean, I think it might be a little bit of like you have to win anything past multiple personality disorder or is that multiple personality disorder when you have to win no matter the cost? Maybe more like narcissistic, narcissistic. This trait of like, it doesn't matter what you have to win. You're always right. That one whatever that. I'm not sure. She has to win. No. My sister does have to. They have to win. I mean, they'll get their own children just not in a bad way. But like it may be plucking the feathers to like Yeah. I was exasperating. I've been around my whole life. So she wasn't that way most of my life. So when she doesn't mean it, I know when it's coming on. And I know what it's generally about. It's sort of being upset and being able to yell at me because she can't yell at my sister. She's just scared of my sister. Like we all are. I got this how did this time work for you? Is this okay for the time? Yeah, this works good for me if it works good for you. Okay, okay all right. So let's see here. Can I take a look? Yes, that's something coming up. I thought didn't you say cuz? August something because my birthday is August 25. And I don't know I might be going on. I am I'm totally different Find cruises for us to go on. So I need to find a cruise possibly. But that's for my sister even though it's my birthday my fifth year. I don't know how that happened. They do wonderful things those two strangers all I was I was told to find the cruise. I don't I don't do it. I don't find it. I call somebody and tell them to do it. So I'm off the hook. Yeah, well, I'm not planning on taking any Tuesday's off or okay, maybe there was someone else that I was talking to you that was saying there was something about a day. Oh, yeah, it was it was you had the Tuesday your does Tuesday because you had to give it your your your grip sink or something? Yes, yes. I had last week I was okay. That's what it was. I knew it was somewhere in my brain that Tuesday wasn't gonna. Yeah. Okay. So I'm just looking over your your assessments here. Okay, so looks like you've had an increase in the thoughts about being better off dead. Would you say that's accurate, which is not active. They're not active. It's just like, it's just comes into the the forefront more lately and that's partly because I'm going through a lot of this like crap it's not a hard adjustment phase or adjustment phase. It's very I'm not I haven't I don't have a good footing yet. I don't have footing yet. I need footing and I'm not like saying I'm gonna go try to kill myself. But oh, yeah, I'm thought of certain thinking about or quite often. I met another guy with bipolar two. And so we probably talked a little, a lot, a lot about things. And I'm still kind of trying to figure that navigate that that that out a little bit. I mean, I've never had somebody that I openly now I tell everybody kind of certain a little bit a little bit. I'm not I don't I'm trying not to be shameful about it. If that makes sense. Yeah, yeah. But I don't need to tell someone a to opening conversation either as my mom says, you know, he was right. You don't want to hide it, but you don't want to overshare if you don't know somebody that well. Yeah. Yeah. Because I'm already overwhelming as it is, let alone that plus that never meet anyone. So Clinton, maybe next week, we can work on developing a safety. Just in case things were to get worse for you like some steps you could go through to de-escalate the situation. Is that something you'd be open to? We've done I had to do another one. I have like a bag of things that I can go that can sort my brain out to certain extent. Like as I'm pretty good at seeing self self aware it's just when I don't know what I'm doing. Those are the times I can't pull even my bag of tricks won't fix me. My bag of tricks only fixes this claim. Now let's keep talking about this Clinton. Let's take it up again next week. All right. Thank you. Yeah, we talked about a lot today as far as your family and just more about your back rooms. And I really, you know, you have these great qualities like you said, you're able to be flexible, you're chameleon. Able to be so creative, you're able to develop strong relationships. And even if you don't know how to access those trees right now, I I still feel very very hopeful for you. I still see these things in you and I think we can find ways for you to channel them your new life. Okay. After my next session, can you do can I get you the form from my attorney for a progress report? Is that enough time for you to be with me. They give me this report. I think that's what they call it. Oh, yeah. What do you need? More than three weeks? I feel like we could do it. We can even look at it together. Maybe okay. That would be good. I'm gonna get to that that form. She asked me my attorney. So Gotcha. All right. All right. Thank you. Yes, enjoy the rest of your day. Take care of yourself. And I'll see you same time next week. Bye. Bye.

I was having a bad day. I just kind of like Savior paranoia is getting to me really bad today have you been taking your meds? I'm on them. I didn't I didn't this morning. I just noticed that but I've been on my meds but things the paranoia has been like getting into the best of me the last couple days, but I also did a deep dive really deep talk with that new therapist yesterday too. So I might have like, sparked sparked some things or something. Yeah. And was emotional and a lot of stuff. Cuz I kind of gave her like the high level brief synopsis of what I've kind of been going through and what my like childhood stuff was and like, just a lot all at once like me and you did that over weeks. How long did you meet with her? an hour but it was just like truly high level like just the cliff note version. And I had finally told her I need you to stop. Then they stopped because I was just she wasn't like pressuring me or anything. She's good. I like her. And she has like specialties and trauma. Well we eat so maybe some of that will be good for me. No but I just swear that the people are following me today. Like when I went to get to go to the market this morning and then I went out earlier in the morning I was screwing around, not good but the good. Not anything bad. Just kind of hook up. thing. It's on Grindr. And then that didn't work out. Nothing happened. So then all of a sudden it felt like everyone's like following me and like watching me and like doing these like just super apparently. So I sat in the parking lot because I got terrified to go anywhere because I was going after me there's no reason for anyone to go after me. There's not I'm not that special. I'm not that interesting. I mean, I wish I was I mean So how long did you stay at the parking lot? About two hours until you felt like it was safe to leave. Then I just like a really crazy way home backwards, kind of just so no one will follow me. And I told Mom about it when I first came in the house. That it was how it was off. And something not It's not like I don't think I'm having a break. or anything. I just feel I'm just off. I didn't sleep good last night at all largely. Whenever I don't sleep and take the nighttime meds. It kind of screws me a little bit. It makes me really groggy and I think even then it's the Seroquel can be messing with me because I didn't get any sleep you have any water there that you can take your pills before you forgot? Yeah, I'm good. Right back on back on the grammar. There they're done have you been getting often or is it just today? No, it's just today. My name is I didn't sleep last night. I had like weird like, night Daydream dreams or night dreams or dreams before I go to bed. I get these like weird like things lately where I'm sitting on the chair in the living room and it's like the chair is like pulling me back in like just just fluttering me with low these visions of everything I've ever done bad or wrong. Then the good but fast, fast, even faster forward. It's like pushes me forward. And then zooms in. He's like a roller coaster. This is why you're awake when I'm awake. But it's kind of like sleeping to his mom says I'm sleeping. I'm not sleeping but she says I'm sleeping. So I kind of have to live on the leg. Maybe I'm falling asleep out in the living room early. Before I go to my room and then when I go to my room. By myself, I mean left to my own devices to a certain extent. And my room is clean now so it's like not although I realize many things that occupy myself with time was except for cleaning, cleaning, cleaning more cleaning I've been writing my book a little but that also brings up emotions because it's about bipolar me my struggles with distinguished what's real and not real. I don't know is it not good to write about this? About like, is it good to write about yourself? Because it's okay, because you're expressing your emotions and your feelings. Yeah. Sometimes I think maybe it's like me giving too much on myself to myself. Like starting to get even more honest with myself. I feel like this I know. I've always I know I have a farm but I'm tracing it back even farther. Okay, this fifth honey the other day. The reason why I was Miss Harry so much is because Harry was all structure was a cop. Everything was to the dotted line is like very narrow, narrow. There is no room for like, messing up. He didn't give you that opportunity. So that's why I loved life. When I was with him. It was very structured and when I was a google it was like that too. Super, super structured. I didn't have any wiggle room. Everything was just the way it is and like you just follow the rules. And I don't have rules here yet. I'm still working on those Yeah. So I'm still establishing the like a kid in a candy store or a chef with the new pans and a big fire in a big stove. And so just keep putting myself into the fire to see where navigate myself. See if I'm gonna like burn myself. Like, I'm like, What can I do? What's different here than what was like at home and Livermore? Or maybe I'm trying to like ruin myself to a certain extent that I don't do anything bad anymore that I'll just get all that stuff out of my system. Become this nice old man. That's 50 that's 50 years young, old man. I mean, I say this Yamo so maybe having some structure now. Right? I think before there was still I think we were learn more about more like there was a need for you to do things like there was a need, like, oh, maybe I can go to the backyard and fix it up. Or maybe I can do this. I can fix this right now. Like there's really nothing there to fix. In a sentence, right? Yeah. It's too hot to go outside and work in the yard. Right. It's a different environment. And there's no more things to prune. I pruned every rosebush there is well, figuring out like a new activity for you new hobby, right. And that's what we've been trying to get you to do. Yeah, I need to start painting again. I need to doing something to get like some kind of project that will occupy my time for hours. That's what it boils down to. Do you have your materials I have everything? Yeah. I just I just was trying to get all the projects done in the house. Before I start more projects we're still working progress. Like I got my like, my mom like my drawers the other day, and they weren't they weren't good. I know they weren't. They were just having remnants of old Clinton were creeping up and like just the crap that's just because I collect so much junk and all this like stash it more junk and like, almost like a clean clip. I'm a clean hoarder. I don't want to see it, but it's like they're all this like junk like a junk drawer. I'm a king of junk drawers. I had three of them started. They can have three junk drawers. You can have like a quarter of a junk drawer like one door can be like a quarter. It's like acceptable for like junk. I had three full blown for full blown drawers that were just garbage not garbage but cords and this and that and Alexa pieces and like just stupid things that I buy to try to fix things that are not broken yet even when you are home is the paranoia better. I find it is better but I know that every time I hear the cameras go off I go and I check it to make sure that it wasn't someone I recognized for from out in the world like coming by the house. Because that's a fear of mine is I want to like bring these people back to my mom and that would be terrifying. If it was true if there really was some weird Association de la Clinton that wanted to they just see what he does. Kind of like that movie. The squad game squat. What is it the game? Yeah, that's what my feel like. I'm like on EPS. I'm on this like episode. And they're just there. It's like that meets The Stepford Wives like they're watching me become a Stepford wife they're all the cool people and so, this feeling like just started recently. Like, this has been the last couple of days. Um, spin again for a little bit. It's just it's just, it's kind of bubbling at this moment. Probably. I mean, just because I'm relying upon myself knowing that I didn't sleep good last night. I talked a lot of stuff. About the things about other things with the new shock therapy. I. Yeah, it's just I've been talking a lot and I've been writing a little bit and I've been, so this things are just kind of like I'm just you know, I'm not letting mom know. I read everything about it because I didn't want to scare her up too. But she knows now, but it wasn't letting her know that she she. I didn't want her to like tell me again every day that this is real, that this is real, like this. I was afraid I was getting there again. But now she knows I told them when they came back. Yeah, yeah, she's the person that can factor in that. Which is what we want to do. Right? Make sure that hey, this person is someone you trust and she can tell you know, that's not really that's yeah. And I filmed it all today. And then I went back and looked at the film and it's like, some of it what I filmed just yeah, there's a car a couple of cup freakin license plates. But how does my camera turn around every single time I use it and film me filming that? Like, it was so stupid. I was filming all these people that were like following me but the camera was turned around it was just me filming it if it was a book or a screenplay, that's the joke is on me really made a doozy on that one. Or it's my brain just being fun. Well, you're not getting sleep right? Contributing to how you're feeling true. So can you yourself some rest today and for the next couple of days it's going to help with that. Yeah, I can. I got gotten my bathroom redone again. And I'm like, Hey, I wanted to take want to take a nice bath. I haven't done that in a while. I don't have a super soaker tub anymore but it's a bath. So I'm no longer like hairless or like I used to be so I can't spend 27 hours manicure in my body. So I even know that I'm gonna get I'm gonna get manicure pedicures anymore. Kind of live in this boiler. That's like the old version of a little bit of my old version of me at one point is it because you don't want? No it's just because I'm feeling that kind of more rugged down a guy right now not refined Clinton. I like both I just just just this a different side of my brain I guess Thank you. Well, you're sharing is what I'm noticing is a couple of things. Right? Like you shared a lot yesterday. Very, you know, very vulnerable. Maybe there's some triggers there and the combination of like not sleeping still adjusting to a new place. You know, really kind of hit that places like the paranoid paranoia and forgetting a medication right so like combination of all those three of those things is hard. And so being mindful of like, hey, when I'm meeting with my therapist, you know later know like Hey, I experienced paranoia after like you and I talk. You know, I want to take it easy. Like sometimes like I don't realize it I mean you did or you did not that you're like sharing a lot. And it's like it feels good in the moment but like, maybe you really pacing yourself and letting her know like hey, I'm gonna pace you as well. Like, okay, let's let's kind of split it in half whether, you know, we're focusing on maybe some kind of history, but then we're also doing like some coping skills or something. And then we also had our appointment. Was it seven o'clock at night? Oh, she had I think that was another issue for me, too. It was probably too late for my brain to digest what we talked about. Yeah, possibly. And then that's why it went from eight o'clock when we were done and then I ate dinner and like mom's just chatted. I didn't start to go to bed till like 11 or 12 and it takes me a couple of hours to get ready to go to bed. Yeah, yeah, so turning off your brain is gonna be a while. I didn't think of that being so late. That's why I was up till three. And then I was like four and it was like why do I go to bed now I might as well just go ahead and screw around. Did you go out? I went out but anything you do anything. There's nothing to do I didn't It's not like I didn't try. Actual stuff. Not anything more. Than just Grindr snip these to anyone. Like popped up a couple of times. But nothing that was like I don't know I don't really hook up to like ever talk to the person again. But it's more find it like that aspect of it that because I don't have to have a boyfriend and I don't have to like deal with all the other things that never scare me even more. If I start to have to become friends with somebody. How do I even explain all this stuff to anyone? Like that's you're trying to like date? I mean, I can pull off being not crazy for a minute but you be around me long enough you'll I'm I'm I'm a lot to digest well when you do find someone you can write and you don't have to express that to everyone and find someone that you are, you know that you can spend some time with and that you want to build a relationship and then you can explain to do it now. Yeah, no, no, no, that's what I said. I don't like I like this piece about it because it's much easier. Not as intense. Yeah. I don't have anyone to say that. It's someone else that's doing it. To me. You know. That's another big difference between here and Livermore. I don't have my sister tormenting me. Or maybe she never was. I don't have Andrew tormenting me. Maybe he never was. But I don't have I don't have any enemies. I don't have any enemies. have any friends. You're so my brains up to its own devices. Well, you You did share with me though, that some of the things your sister was doing were true. Because your mom was able to kind of validate that for you right like factor. As far as like, you know, your ex partner mean that we couldn't really unless you have like actual text messages and we can write but some but not much. And so Are any of the activities that are in the facility like seem like something you want to do? Yes, the art was but I told my mom I wanted to go with she's trying to make some time to be able to. I don't want to go to the first one by myself. I need to have her go with me or noodles. Someone I don't want to just do it by myself. And then they this guy guys meeting that's on every Friday. And I don't even know how to do that. I mean, I've never hung out with guys. Especially men all amendment or me like 10 years old. 15 years older than me. Yeah. Was there a different group that you can go to? This is just a guys meeting. That's my next door neighbor has the whole block meets all the guys meet every Friday and talk and the good ladies meet every month at the club. And so thing Yeah. But I can take befriending like Donna, the lady next door is really nice. She's in her late 80s or 90s. But she's fun. She's just very gossipy lady. She knows everything about the area and the people and she's we've become friends and I've been making like when I make dinner for Mom I made sure that I'm getting her next door little so that way they can just have because they don't eat much food. Like they can eat or almost our our leftovers for this becomes their meal so that's when I liked doing that. The other guy down the street said he they Donna said that they need a dog sitter to like watch their dog when they go away. And then I ran into him when I was getting the mailbox yesterday. He asked me about a message Yeah, we do it and then he says well, how much do you want to make money wise? And he says, Oh no, I don't want to do it for the money. I do it for the dogs. Just whatever just You mean whatever you feel like maybe I'll get like that. Something to do. That way. And I thought about it and if we if I gotta see be able to do even if it is hot outside. I gotta walk dogs. Since I can't have a dog right now. Maybe being able to walk dogs might be therapeutic for my brain. Yeah, that would be good. And it keeps me meeting new people kind of maybe like without having a meet people in a social atmosphere. Different kind of setting. Yeah yeah, definitely do that. So I was excited just to hear that. And I thought about the thing about non charging right off the top of my head because I was so scared to death on somebody. Someone's going to say they paid me and I'm gonna lose everything that I worked for. For Social Security. She can't make any money or you can make money I guess. But then they take it all away. Then they take it all away if you make too much or something. I'm not allowed to have a job. I know that they're they don't let you go get a job. Cut off amount you have to be making. Oh no, they say they can't like my lawyer says I can't work period. I can't show income. She said because it'll lower my chances too much. But it's not like a job. Maybe it's not really a job. It's just to occupy my time during this time that they're trying to figure out like doing a favor for a neighbor. Yeah, yeah, we say that. It's also it's not really a job. It's not like a W two form and all that stuff. It's just yeah, I'm overthinking. Sorry. You're being cautious because you don't want to lose either of this. Yeah. So my mom paid my overpayment for me. So that was kind of cool, because they overpaid me a long time ago, the first time I was on Social Security. By $1,700. They overpay and so my mom paid the $1,700 And so now I have a clear record with Social Security like no. So that was good. Then, Dr. Greenwood last time, we had a great conversation that at the end of our meeting, the computers always Xers and I lost her and she you know didn't get to say goodbye. But she was gonna she had to stay still the center another email, because she said she was gonna do that letter that me and you were talking about and I resend it to her again. And then she said, Oh, she did it. She thought and then she said oh, she would do it again. So she said she'll method message so that you don't forget after you and I are done. Have you done it because maybe she already did it and just didn't tell me because I looked at my letters, but I don't know if that's something she has to do and just mail it to that my lawyer or all it has to go through Romy I'm usually unless like you gave her an actual form or design then yeah, I gave her a form from what I sent it through email. Okay, maybe then I was thinking maybe I should make the request to Rami and then I'll go through her that way. Also. You can I don't like doing that message Yeah. Please, she's pretty cool. I'm gonna miss both of you guys so much. You don't have the same device yet. We can still meet making sure that you stay, you know, kind of this therapist kind of works out and you're connected with a psychiatrist. Do you have a psychiatrist scheduled? Yeah, that's coming up. You do okay. But that was the one thing that scared me about that. Because the thick the version of you the therapist here. She says, oh yeah, this doctor is great. His extra doctor that does well, because he only meet you once and that he has his pharmacologist deal with you is a great farmer. And he's he said What do you mean? Oh, they he has a very large workload. So he only sees you like every other time. But you already only see me once every six weeks. I just kind of blow it off. I didn't let it get me too upset. This is a really different program. A very different experience. Yeah, I mean, maybe it's just has to be that way because there are so many more people here or there's more mental illness here and then they just can't spread it. Which I highly doubt I can't find you that's what I'm looking for you Well, let's catch up one more point. Well, let's get you an appointment and then we can kind of gauge it and then see how you're doing okay so let's see what's today. Can we do in two weeks on the 25th? Yes. Alright, so I have a 10 or 11 10 o'clock so you're meeting with the psychiatrists and When are you meeting again with the therapist? Oh, the lady. Okay, one second. I'm pulling up my thing right now signing really something Alexa dialed with this calendar invites stuff now she's like super helps me she's the most annoying via upcoming appointments. So I have the six teens is my bipolar group. And then I have Kimberly on the 24th. And then you on the 25th. Kimberly is a therapist. Yeah. Okay, so you're meeting with her? Maybe no, she's every three weeks. So maybe if you wanted to push us a week, if that's possible, Abby, that way we're not like you don't want to get Kaiser to say what a model lift is monopolizing resources because then I have So Kimberly Spencer is looks like I have for August 14 to that. So I have heard that she booked three appointments at a time. So I already took one so he is the 24th and then the 14th. So I don't think I'll just use you on the 25th I don't want to I need to I don't want to Yes 25th Perfect. Or do you want to do it like the weeks that you don't meet a week that you don't meet with her then we can try to do that? Yeah, that would be the best. Okay, so let's see. Maybe we can do the following week. So it'd be like August 1, okay. See you I'm terrified of my birthday and I've never ever usually like my birthday. Why because surely, no, I don't care about 50 I've been 50 for about a year and a half now. You're not I know what I like when people tell you you look really good for your age so August it was gonna be August. Okay. So we can do Monday at 130 or August 1 At nine or 10. Let's see August 1 At nine or 10 Because then I might get you one more time before my birthday. If you feel that way. Yeah. All right. I guess 10 Perfect. I mean 10 All right. So show you kind of knew that one of my old pieces of art I got you make that Yeah. That's really pretty. Yeah, I had this one resistance frame to know that's one of the bad do littles that have been looking. That's one of the big ones. Wow, that's a Sentinel. There's a there's an Indian in the city look at it, and there's an Indian at the top. But if you go back it's there's a horse right? Yeah. It's all kinds of animals. And look, I bring them yeah. That's the one your friend helped you know, these are still fake frames like like they're not like what I wanted to do it with because what I when I priced it out, they were like $800 $900 a picture just to frame them. So my mother said no. Oh no. They actually were 1500 800 is a cheap one. Because I wanted you to do a museum mounted in the museum glass, because they're really they're kind of expensive. lithographs. They're originals. This one here is one of 500. This is 27 of 504. Yeah, I mean, it's just the lower number and bevels became mass produced. Having signed in low numbers is like, odd. So yeah, but I don't think museum glass is gonna affect me for a couple years a year or two. Just Just keep it give the blind shattering hell because it's so hot. Yeah, do you have air conditioner don't you? Oh, yeah. Just outside you go. Do you stand near? Yes, Mama. I'm on the syllabus with Abby. I'm still okay. We're getting off though. Okay. All right. All right. Sorry. She wanted me to look at her outfit. Okay. All right. Thank you. Yeah, of course. So I will see you in a couple of weeks. Please stay on top of your medication. You know, keep track of it. I think that's going to be really helpful. Yeah, so they turned to get some rest program Alexa did. Thank you. Bye bye bye.
